

Atlas-Centaur Sent Into Orbit; Spurs Moon Flight Hopes

Successful Launching Ends Long Period of Frustration

BY HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The supercharged Atlas-Centaur rocket scored its first test flight success Wednesday, hurling its five-ton second stage into orbit in a performance strengthening plans for manned and unmanned exploration of the moon and planets.

The success ended months of costly, frustrating troubles for the rocket, whose Centaur second stage has the first rocket engine in the world propelled by high energy liquid hydrogen fuel.

The launching was the second from Cape Canaveral in 17 hours with an important bearing on the man-to-the-moon program.

Earlier Launching

Tuesday night an Interplanetary Monitoring Platform was launched into a wide swinging orbit to investigate solar radiation which poses a hazard to moon-bound astronauts.

IMP, which settled into a near-perfect orbit ranging from 118 to 172,234 miles high, is to determine if satellite instruments can predict solar flares, great eruptions on the sun which produce the deadly space radiation.

But the starring role in the space double-header went to the previously ill-starred Atlas-Centaur, whose success was important for these two major reasons:

Behind Schedule

Atlas-Centaur is the only large U.S. rocket with a chance of being operational in time to launch the unmanned Project Surveyor spacecraft to the moon on reconnaissance missions. This would be in advance of the Project Apollo manned lunar landing set for late in this decade.

Because of numerous problems, Atlas-Centaur is two years behind schedule, but the flight Wednesday spurred hopes it will be ready for the present surveyor target date of early 1965.

Centaur long ago was selected to pioneer liquid hydrogen technology. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has made a heavy commitment to use this frigid fuel for upper stages of big boosters for several years.

Included is the Saturn 5, the giant vehicle which will start the three-man Apollo team on lunar voyages. Hydrogen delivers 40 per cent more punch than conventional fuels like the kerosene used in the Atlas.

Vatican Council Gives Study to Anglican Church

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council was urged Wednesday to give special consideration to the 50-million-member Anglican Church in a Christian unity document. The Anglican communion includes the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States.

"The Anglican Church should be given special treatment," Bishop Bernardin Collin of Digne, France, told the 2,200 council fathers in St. Peter's Basilica.

Another French prelate, Coadjutor Archbishop Paul Gouyon of Rennes, agreed and said: "Anglicanism should be given special mention as distinct among churches that arose out of the Reformation."

Before the council, whose second phase ends a week from Wednesday, is an ecumenism (unity) schema chapter entitled: "Christians separated from the Catholic Church."

Ready to Jail Entire Local

Judge Says Union Must Pay Fines To Provide Bond

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal judge threatened Wednesday to jail an entire 244-member union local unless it pays $41,300 in fines levied for refusing to load a Canadian grain ship or post bond equaling the amount of fines by Dec. 28.

Judge James Parsons of U.S. District Court issued the warning to members of Local 418 of the Grain Workers Union who have refused to load ships owned by Upper Lakes Shipping Ltd. of Toronto.

The issue involved stems from a labor dispute. The grain workers have acted in sympathy with the Seafarers International Union. Upper Lakes once drew its crews from SIU ranks but switched last year to the Canadian Maritime Union.

Judge Orders Fines

Judge Parsons levied the fines against the union for each day member have refused to load Upper Lake ships in Chicago in defiance of a court order.

Judge Parsons renewed his threat to lock up the entire membership of Local 418 after Irving Friedman, union attorney, called as a witness Frank Gradon, a certified public accountant. Gradon said an audit of the local's books showed assets of only $14,472.

Terrorists Press Drive To Topple Betancourt

Surprises Not Expected in FBI Report

Probably Will Say Oswald Acted Alone In Assassination

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI report to President Johnson on the assassination of John F. Kennedy promises no great surprises.

In all likelihood, according to the best information available, it will point to Lee Harvey Oswald as the slayer.

Then the American public will have assurances from an agency with all the impressive credentials of the FBI that Oswald, acting alone and not as part of a conspiracy, fired the fatal bullets last Friday from the window of a Dallas, Tex., building.

The report is not yet complete. FBI investigators and the Justice Department are working under great pressure to lay the full, tragic story on Johnson's desk.

"We've got to build an airtight case even greater than if we were going to court," one official said.

"We must allow every suspicion and erase every doubt, if that is possible."

The evidence, of course, will never get to court. Oswald, accused by police of the Kennedy assassination, was himself slain by a Dallas night club operator as he was being transferred from one jail to another on Sunday.

X15 Flies 5 Times Speed of Sound

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An X15 with an electronic mastermind needed for aerospace flight streaked more than five times the speed of sound Wednesday with a new hand at the controls. It was the first flight by U.S. space agency pilot Milton O. Thompson in an X15 equipped with "black boxes" designed to control it during the difficult transition from space down into the atmosphere.

Search Abandoned for Missing Pilot of U2

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Navy abandoned Wednesday the search for the pilot of a U2 plane that crashed in the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 20, presumably on its return from a mission over Cuba.

Capt. Joe C. Hyde Jr., the pilot, was not in the cockpit when the plane's wreckage was found on the bottom of the Gulf. Divers and scores of aircraft participated in the unsuccessful hunt for him.

President Kennedy's Murder Casts Gloom Over Holiday

America observes Thanksgiving Day but her heart won't be in it.

The tragic death of President John F. Kennedy was too recent and too deeply etched for a normal observance of the traditionally happy time of bountiful feasts and family reunions.

The Rev. John W. Peggan, a curate at St. Francis Xavier church at Hyannis, Port., Mass., where Kennedy had a home, said only last Sunday:

"Here in America, this Thanksgiving will be different. This year, as the Pilgrims did, we will turn again to God. We have a great deal to be thankful for. The men who fought and died for us in the hot wars and in the cold war. We should be grateful for the great men God has given us."

Special Services

The usual religious services associated with the holiday—now 174 years old—took on special significance in a nation shocked both for the turkey and for that by the assassination of a president. Almost every church and synagogue scheduled special services.

President Johnson scheduled a nationwide television address at 6:15 p.m. EST Thursday. He planned to spend the holiday at his Washington home with his family.

Press secretary Pierre Salin-Ireight train May 23, 1962.

ger said the 15-minute talk "will be a Thanksgiving Day message to the people."

Boy Recovers Use Of His Right Arm

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP)—With an important gesture of his right arm, a 14-year-old boy said Wednesday that in this season of Thanksgiving "maybe I've got more to be thankful for than most other people."

Everett (Red) Knowles of this Boston suburb says he'll eat turkey Thanksgiving Day with two hands.

He's very thankful for that—significance in a nation shocked both for the turkey and for that by the assassination of a president. Almost every church and synagogue scheduled special services.

Gov. Connally Relates Story Of Shooting

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Gov. John Connally, wounded during the assassination of President Kennedy, said Wednesday that after being shot Kennedy

"slumped over and said nothing."

"As I turned to the left, I was hit. I knew I was hit badly. I said, 'My God, they are going to kill us all.'"

"Then there was a third shot and the President was hit again. Mrs. Kennedy said 'Oh, my God. They killed my husband. Jack... Jack.'"

Joy Turns to Tragedy

"In the space of a few seconds, great joy and anticipation turned to great tragedy," Connally said he did not think the assassin was after him on

ly. "The man did what he intended to do—he shot both of us," the governor added.

Connally said that perhaps Kennedy, through his death, was asked to do something that is hard in life, and that is: "To shock and stun a nation and its people and the world to what is happening to us through this cancerous growth of extremism."

"This is the only answer I can give you on why he is gone and I am not," he added.

He said the world should avoid the type of extremism that breeds hatred.

The governor said he was not told that Kennedy was dead until Saturday, the day after the assassination.

Kidnaping Of Officer Part of Plot

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Pro-Communist terrorists kidnaped the deputy chief of the U.S. Army mission Wednesday in their relentless drive to bring down the government. Police blocked all exits from the capital and began an all-out search for the officer.

The underground struck one week after subjecting Caracas to a paralyzing, two-day reign of terror that left 24 dead and nearly 100 wounded.

At 7 a.m. four men met Lt. Col. James K. Chenault, 46, Sherman, Tex., as he left his home in the Bello Monte section and prepared to enter his car. The four overpowered the Venezuelan chauffeur and carried the uniformed officer away in a car. The car was found abandoned by police.

Two hours after the kidnaping a man telephoned the U.S. Embassy and identified himself as a member of the pro-Communist Armed Forces of National Liberation—FALN.

"We just want him for propaganda purposes. Don't worry. We are not going to harm him," he said.

Rear Adm. Luis Rojas Croce Orozco, acting defense minister, ordered special security measures for all members of foreign military missions. The United States has about 73 officers and men in Air Force, Army, Marine and Navy training missions.

The FALN raided the Army mission's headquarters earlier this year and burned the building.

President Romulo Betancourt, chief target of the underground, got the news upon returning to his office from a pontifical Mass for John F. Kennedy in Caracas Roman Catholic Cathedral. He ordered the all-out search for Chenault and the kidnapers.

In addition to killings, bombings of government installations and sabotage of U.S. oil and other installations, the FALN also engages in spectaculars such as the kidnaping.

The terrorists have seized a freighter and an airliner, stolen and returned five valuable French paintings, and last August kidnaped and later released a visiting soccer star from Spain.

Only Tuesday, the FALN sent bombs disguised as Christmas packages to three major candidates for the presidency in the Dec. 1 election, three other Venezuelan political leaders, and a U.S. Embassy official. A politician opened one package but the detonation wires were loose and the bomb did not go off. Police quickly picked up the other packages.

Mayor Mitchell Plans to Seek A Fourth Term

Appleton's Chief Executive Makes Formal Statement

Mayor Clarence Mitchell will seek a fourth term.

Mitchell, the city's chief executive for the past six years, announced his plans late Wednesday upon returning from Madison.

The mayor had headed a local delegation that attended a meeting in Mitchell the state capitol on Appleton's chances for obtaining a state-federal grant to prepare a $100,000 comprehensive plan for Appleton.

Mitchell, 47, said he would take out nomination papers Friday for the April 7, 1964 non-partisan, citywide election. In discussing his plans to run for reelection and stake claim to the mayor's chair for another two-year term, Mitchell issued a formal statement in which he said:

"During the past several years, notably since 1959-60, I have been gratified to have been witness to Appleton's remarkable accomplishments. 'I say I' — because who wouldn't have been proud to serve as mayor of Appleton during an exciting period in the history of our city?"

Mitchell said looking back, and then projecting what the

Eloquent Appeal to Nation

Johnson Wins Congress Applause But Knows Road Ahead Is Rough

BY ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A subdued Lyndon B. Johnson came back Wednesday to his old home on Capitol Hill to plead with his friends to quit acting like congressmen and get on with their work.

"I need your help," said President Johnson. "I ask your help."

He Knows Congress

At least twice his voice wavered, and at the end he wiped his glasses.

Again and again the applause as the chief executive's office rolled in, as he said it's time to work, has the sympathy of everyone.

And so he laid it on the line, as one who has served as representative, senator and vice president in 32 years on the Hill. John F. Kennedy would be to that it was time for a balky, squabbling Congress to get moving again.

Perhaps the greatest change was in Johnson himself. Normally he's the nation's No. 1 backslapper, hand shaker, cheer leader and stirrer-upper of enthusiasm.

There was none of that.

boys in the back committee room will have. But even Johnson's enemies would have to concede that made a gallant and eloquent President of the United States!"

As always, the audience stood and applauded — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., whom many Republicans want to send to the White House in 1964; U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who made an unsuccessful race for it in 1952 and 1956; and the two Kennedy brothers, Robert F., the attorney general, and Edward M., the senator, their lives and their future so altered by that shot in Dallas, Tex., last Friday.

Speaks Clearly But as Johnson spoke, his attitude seemed to change steadily and surely. On every issue that has divided this nation, Johnson's voice came through loud and clear and in unmistakable words.

Whether Congress will act now, as Johnson said it must, or whether it will continue to take its own good time will remain for the future.

He knew that a president, cast into the chief executive's office as the result of an assassin's bullet, has the sympathy of everyone.

There was none of that.

The House doorkeeper, William M. (Fishbait) Miller, cried out the familiar but always stirring words: "Mr. Speaker, the President of the United States!"

HINTS FROM Heloise

Heloise

Dear Folks:

We have received many inquiries on how to remove moisture from the inside of bud vases, etc. Naturally the inside cannot be hand dried.

The best solution we have is to cut narrow strips of paper not having time to boil potatoes to welling or did you know that a can of those newspaper, and tiny cooked potatoes can be insert one end used? Drain the liquid from the into the vase. can and proceed with your favorite recipe.

The paper will absorb the moisture and prevent condensing.

Be sure to let the paper dry thoroughly before removing it. This prevents its tearing off inside of the bottle, bud vase, or decanter. By trial and error and 10 days of experimenting, this is the best answer we have come up with.

I throw this "bundle" in with my white clothes each time I do a batch of laundry.

After the nylon stocking containing the baby socks has been spin dried (and wringer type won't make a bit of difference, go on and run it through the machine and, leaving the little stockings in it, shake it a few times and throw it across my clothesline or put it in my dryer until dry.

By drying these little socks in a dryer, or on the clothesline, while they are in the nylon stocking, they refuse to become lost, do not get tangled with other items of clothing or get separated. This is the answer.

Gaily Wrapped Gifts Add To Festivity of Christmas

Rickrack Trim — to make a Christmas wreath interlock points of two lengths of green rickrack and press flat with iron. Baste interlocked strands together, and glue or stitch in overlapping circles on decorative cotton wrapping. Fashion a candy cane right, with interlocked red and white rickrack.

A pile of colorfully wrapped gifts under the tree is a decorative and tantalizing sight. Packages in bright red and green wrappings, mysterious-looking packages odd-shaped and interesting packages that rattle when shaken — these are all part of the excitement of Christmas.

Wrapping gifts imaginatively is a big part of the fun of Christmas. The National Cotton Council points out that you can find unusual and inexpensive gift wrap ideas around the house especially in your sewing room.

Fabric scraps — anything from velvet to calico — make excellent wrapping material as do cotton terry cloth towels or sheets of decorative Christmas tree cotton. To tie up packages, there's colored yarn, bias tape, lace, or cotton rickrack.

Trims

A variety of original package trims — wreaths, candy canes, trees — can be created with rickrack. Form an attractive Christmas tree with rows of green rickrack in graduated lengths. Glue on colored sequins for tree ornaments and use bias tape for the trunk and base.

To please a lady of any age, fashion a very special present with frostings of ruffles and lace. Trim a velveteen-wrapped package with white cotton lace, eyelet ruffles, bands of cotton embroidery, or frilly organdy appliques.

For a devotee of early Americana, use lengths of red calico or a gay provincial print as gift wrappings. Tie up the package with heavy twine, and decorate with an arrangement of pine sprays and pine cones.

Kitchen

Gifts for the kitchen might be practical, but they also can be the prettiest packages under the tree. Use cotton dish towels in colorful prints for wrapping and tuck small kitchen accessories in the bow arrangement. Decorate a gift wrapped in white tissue paper with a set of red cotton terry cloth pot-holders. Or use red shelf paper for wrapping, and pin on a doll-size apron cut from a small-figured red cotton print.

If the gift is for the bath — fragrant soap or bath salts — wrap it in a cotton terry cloth hand towel. You might package a towel set in a matching floral-printed bath towel. Decorate with an arrangement of artificial flowers.

Since a child is eager to tear off the wrappings and see what's inside, the simpler the wrapping for a child's gift the better. Why not use the color edition of the comics, and tie up with strands of red and green cotton yarn.

Or wrap in plain tissue paper, and tie with a red jump rope that has jingle bells attached to handles.

For the Baby

If there's a baby on your Christmas list, delight the mother by wrapping his gift in one of the new cotton stretch fabrics. Fasten with colored diamond pins, and use pink or blue pleated present.

Whatever materials you use for wrapping gifts, remember that the personal touch is the ingredient that makes giving a gift an art. Wrap each gift with imagination, to suit the contents of the person who receives it, and you'll add an extra measure of thoughtfulness to the simpler presents.

Tree as a Windbreak

After Christmas, your tree can be useful as a windbreak. If delicate shrubs around your home are exposed to strong winds, trees can be used for protection. Gather trees from neighbors and place them in the ground in rows or clumps.

Traffic Death Toll Can be Controlled — If Help Comes From All

you ignore them, or think they're meant for the other guy. When you're driving, it's your responsibility to protect yourself from harm. Depending on someone else is foolhardy. As the holiday season gets under way, examine your driving habits. If you've gotten a little careless or reckless, correct it now — don't ignore it — because it serves as fair warning of accident trouble ahead.

Consider Seat Belts

Need a gift suggestion for the family? Why not consider auto seat belts? There's no better way to show how much you care. Seat belts keep on giving comfort and security every time they're used. Protect your family's future with the extra margin of safety. Buy and install seat belts. They're truly the gift of life.

Day of Thanks an Ancient Custom, Goes Way Back to Pagan Times

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

On this saddest of all Thanksgivings in American history there is little solace in the knowledge that the good day has been observed since time immemorial, that whole peoples have risen and that thanksgiving has been practiced.

House

The Book of Judges declares that "the Canaanites went out into the field and gathered their vineyard and trod the grapes and held festival, and went into the house of their God and did eat, known as the Cerelia. It is from this that we take our word 'cereal'."

Jewish Festival

The ancient Jews, children of Israel, celebrated autumnal festivals with their Feast of Tabernacles, a time during which they lived in booths and gave thanks to God for their harvest. The harvest is today one of the principal festivals of the Jewish year.

The ancient Greeks had a word for it — Thesmophia. Theirs was a mystic harvest time rite which, strangely enough, was observed only by their women. Thesmophia was associated with the goddess Demeter, who was the goddess of soil and fertility.

The Romans had a word for it and the word is used almost daily in American families today. The Romans made their thanks to Ceres, goddess of the harvest. Her festival, usually observed then on Oct. 4, was when the last wagonload of the

Druid Festival

Almost every people — Christian or pagan — who tilled the soil or planted a seed, gave thanks to god or goddesses for a good harvest. Even the ancient Druids, whose world existed in the second century B.C. until the Romans invaded them, observed a giving of thanks day — Nov. 1.

When the Pilgrims came to the new world it was natural for them to think of a thanksgiving period for the new country because most of Great Britain had observed such a day through long centuries.

In the England of the pre-Reformation days, two special days were observed. One was Lammas Day, usually at the beginning of the harvest season and the other was the observance of "harvest home" festivals which were celebrated when the last wagonload of the harvest arrived "home" in a community.

Not Held First Year

But in the new world, our pilgrims did not give thanks for a harvest in their first year here.

Certainly the first recorded thanksgiving for it was one of hunger and starvation and unhappiness and gross misery. It was the second year, in 1621, after the first bountiful harvest, that they chose a time to give thanks.

In the long history of the world there have been poignant reasons for massive and profound grief on the day set aside for giving thanks and today it is our turn.

Movie Recalled to Delete References To Late President

NEW YORK (AP) — All 350 film copies of the movie, "Take Her, She's Mine," which opened here Nov. 13, have been recalled by 20th Century Fox to delete references to President Kennedy.

A Fox spokesman said a scene in which a character supposedly speaks to Mrs. John F. Kennedy is being removed and two scenes in which an actor speaks in a voice resembling the late President's are being dubbed with another voice.

Kills Sweetheart

TOKYO (AP)—Police reported Senmatsu Moro stabbed and injured his sweetheart, fearing he was losing her to another man, and then took poison. He was reported in critical condition today. Moro is 68, his sweetheart 64.

Lawrence Reschedules Cultural Events

Lawrence College has announced the rescheduling of three cultural events postponed because of the President's death.

A concert by the school's Men's and Women's choruses, originally planned for last Friday will be given at 2:30 p.m. next Friday in Harper Hall. Daniel P. Smith, lecturer in music, and Mari Taniguchi, assistant professor of music, will conduct the two groups in a program of Christmas music.

Lawrence Symphony Orchestra, slated to perform last Sunday, will be heard at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in Memorial Chapel. Kenneth Byler, associate professor of music, will conduct. Duo-piano soloists will be Clyde Duncan, associate professor of music, and Theodore Rehl, assistant professor of music.

A program of modern dance scheduled for last Saturday will be scheduled for next spring, date to be announced. The event, featuring the Dance Guild Theatre of Minneapolis, will be co-sponsored by the Lawrence College Theatre and Orchestra, a campus dance group.

Judge Andrew Parnell Will Speak at Venison

CLINTONVILLE — Judge Andrew Parnell, Appleton, will speak at the annual venison dinner sponsored by the Tilleson-Strehlow-Klitz American Legion Post No. 63 at the Veterans Memorial building Dec. 5. Dinner will be at 7 p.m., preceded by a cocktail hour.

Guests of the Legion members will be city officials, Rotarians, Lions Club, Association of Commerce members, policemen, firemen, police and fire commission, and water and light commission.

Day of Thanks an Ancient Custom, Does Way Back to Pagan Times

CHARLES HOUSE

This saddest of all Thanksgivings in American history there that thanksgiving has been practiced.

Certainly the first recorded thanksgiving is specified, according to the Bible, when Cain
"brought the fruits of the ground" and offered it to the Lord.

Abel, too, brought "the firstlings of his flock and the fat thereof. And the Lord had respect unto Abel and his offering."

But earlier kind of thanksgivings were not localized in Eden, or in Nod, east of Eden

NEW YORK (AP) — All 350 film copies of the movie, "Take Her, She's Mine," which opened here Nov. 13, have been recalled by 20th Century Fox to delete references to President Kennedy.

A Fox spokesman said
a scene in which a character supposedly speaks to Mrs.
John F. Kennedy is being removed and two scenes in which an actor speaks in a voice resembling the late President's are being dubbed with another

Lawrence Reschedules Cultural Events

Lawrence College has announced the rescheduling of three cultural events postponed because of the President's death.

A concert by the school's Men's and Women's choruses, originally planned for last Friday will be given at 2:30 p.m.
next Friday in Harper Hall.
Daniel P. Smith, lecturer in music, and Mari Taniguchi, assistant professor of music, will conduct the two groups in a program of Christmas music.

Lawrence Symphony Orchestra, slated to perform last Sunday, will be heard at 8:15 p.m.
Tuesday in Memorial Chapel.
Kenneth Byler, associate professor of music, will conduct. Duo-piano soloists will be Clyde Duncan, associate professor of music, and Theodore Rehl, assistant professor of music.

A program of modern dance scheduled for last Saturday will be scheduled for next spring, date to be announced. The event, featuring the Dance Guild Theatre of Minneapolis, will be co-sponsored by the Lawrence College Theatre and Orchestra, a campus dance group.

Judge Andrew Parnell Will Speak at Venison

CLINTONVILLE — Judge Andrew Parnell, Appleton, will speak at the annual venison dinner sponsored by the Tilleson-Strehlow-Klitz American Legion Post No. 63 at the Veterans Memorial building Dec. 5. Dinner will be at 7 p.m., preceded by a cocktail hour.

Guests of the Legion members will be city officials, Rotarians, Lions Club, Association of Commerce members, policemen, firemen, police and fire commission, and water and light commission.

Thanksgiving Day—1963

The Pilgrim spirit has not fled;
It walks in noon's bright light;
And it watches the bed of the glorious dead,
With the holy stars by night.

It has been more than 340 years since the Pilgrims landed from the Mayflower at Plymouth Rock and suffered through that terrible winter and spring in which so many of them perished from hunger and disease often brought on by simple exhaustion. They seem very remote from us in our warm, gadget-packed homes, with our easy travel, 38-hour work weeks and with so much surplus food molding away in storage.

But the tragic events of the last week reveal to us once again that without that spirit of the Pilgrims we may indeed perish. Many of us may fear that the words of William Butler Yeats' poem "The Second Coming" appear all too true.

Things fall apart; the center cannot hold;
Mere anarchy is loosed upon the world,
The blood-dimmed tide is loosed, and everywhere

The ceremony of innocence is drowned;
The best lack all conviction, while the worst

Are full of passionate intensity.

Thanksgiving Day, however, gives us the opportunity to look at our own times and our own people in the light of history.

The Pilgrims gave thanks when they landed simply because they had been allowed to pass over the vast seas. They gave thanks because they had the opportunity to build into reality their dream of religious freedom.

But they were not without doubts and fears. The young wife of William Bradford drowned as they neared the new land, presumably a suicide. Anne Hutchinson in later years recalled that at the sight of the wilderness her heart and spirit all but failed her and she would have fled back to England had she not believed that country doomed by its sins. Lady Arabella Johnson died soon after the landing, a victim of despair at the life in this wild land.

And that first winter the fatalities mounted. Four whole families were wiped out. When spring came only three married couples remained unbroken. Only five of eighteen wives survived. The children proved to be the toughest—possibly because they had more reliance upon their elders than the elders upon themselves.

To retain that undaunted spirit we can turn to the words of the Epistle and Gospel for Thanksgiving Day. "Let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath: . . . for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God. . . . Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves. . . . Who so looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed. . . . Be not anxious for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not life more than food, and the body raiment? . . . Which of you being anxious can add one cubit unto the measure of his life?"

It is to that measure of our life that we must look on this Thanksgiving Day just as the Pilgrims did so long ago. And as we give thanks for this tremendous land and for the privilege of living here, let us also give thanks for the opportunity to be doers of the word.

Only through belief in love, charity and brotherhood and through actively working for them can we keep alive the Pilgrim spirit which built our nation. And that spirit we must preserve, even in our era of abundance, if our nation is to survive.

The Language of Wisconsin

It's always a little disconcerting to find out how we are considered in other parts of the country, particularly in the east, that cultural and intellectual hub of the nation.

Wisconsin is variously pictured as a land of butter and cheese, idyllic dairy scenes, the stark, barren emptiness of mid-western mediocrity, McCarthyism and the climate of fear, big fish, muscle-bound ath-

Whither the Alliance for Progress?

Two years ago the late President Kennedy announced the Alliance For Progress and said that there was no task more important to the United States than to help social and economic progress in Latin America.

The Charter of Punta del Este spoke of the same aim "to enlist the full energies of the peoples and governments of the American Republics in a great cooperative effort to accelerate the economic and social development of the participating countries of Latin America, so that they may achieve the maximum levels of well-being with equal opportunities for all, in democratic societies adapted to their own needs and desires."

But so far it has appeared that the needs and desires of those in control in much of Latin America are little concerned either with democratic societies or social and economic development.

The United States, as its part of the agreements, has provided $2.3 billion to Latin American countries. The money has built schools, housing, power plants, roads and waterworks. Programs under the Food for Peace projects have made provisions available. The Peace Corps has sent quite a few Americans to Latin America to help in encouraging education and to improve sanitary and agricultural procedures.

But as the birth rate continues to soar, poverty has not been allayed but actually increased. Latin American nations have trouble finding markets for exports at reasonable prices. There is Communist agitation in Venezuela, nationalist policies in Argentina, military revolts in Peru, Honduras and the Dominican Republic, left-wing nonsense in Brazil. The desperately needed foreign private investment is deterred by the political instability of many of the nations and the nationalistic policies of others.

Many of the nations have been slow to adopt the required democratic reforms to qualify for United States aid. But even in the areas where sincere efforts have been made for reform, the results have been discouraging. And the failures are used by the extremists of both the right and the left for personal plays for power. Some of the military coups apparently were successful because regimes had not moved fast enough toward reforms; other coups were inaugurated by reactionary elements who preferred dictatorship assurances to the risks of democracy.

Probably part of the trouble right now is that we expect too much too soon. It is almost impossible for Americans to realize that the per capita income in several nations averages less than $200. The very rich are bound to resist to the bitter end any efforts to whittle down their positions of power and prestige. The uneducated are likely to be dupes of get-rich-quick schemes and the lures of the left. The inheritance of centuries of poverty, ignorance, superstition and revolt is not easy to dispel in a couple of years.

Nevertheless the United States cannot modify what we know to be sound economic principles merely to give Latin America more time. Quite obviously the proposal of Brazil that Latin America be permitted to have and spend the funds we give in any way they want is ridiculous. Nor should we continue to give public monies to nations like Argentina which ignore our advice and insist upon discouraging private investment. Our concepts and theirs of democracy may be quite different but the obvious fact remains that ours is successful in maintaining high standards of material living and political stability and theirs is not.

Despite the discouraging aspects of the Alliance For Progress, it should be noted that so far no other country in Latin America or the Caribbean except Cuba has gone Communist. But the continued failures of Latin America to institute reforms consistent with this century keep the door continually open to revolts and coups, both reactionary and Red.

Improving conditions in Latin America is going to be a long and tedious chore. It can't be done merely with money. The sooner both giver and recipients come to realize this, the better all around.

have visited our school and did seem quite concerned. In discussing the situation with our principal, it's always the same old story. The children who attend our school come from both Outagamie and Calumet Counties. The cops from one county, it seems, have no authority over the affairs of the other county. Surely problems like this exist in other places and have been settled. Why not here? Must we wait until something tragic happens before resolving this urgent situation?

Children of Darboy School Ask Help in Road Safety

Editor, Post-Crescent:
We, the children of Holy Angels School in Darboy, are deeply concerned over the speeding cars passing here daily. In the course of one year, two accidents occurred near our school, one very serious. There exists a desperate need for precautionary measures along these lines. We have taken a step in the right direction by adopting a

100 Years Ago Today

At Insistence of Woman Editor, Lincoln Proclaimed Thanksgiving

Today marks the centennial of Thanksgiving Day as an official national holiday. Partly through the long efforts of an insistent woman editor and partly in the hope of reuniting a country torn asunder by civil war, President Abraham Lincoln in 1863 proclaimed the last Thursday in November as a day of national Thanksgiving.

True, Thanksgiving has been observed many times by Americans in the years since the Pilgrims' Thanksgiving of 1821, but its celebration has been haphazard. Even in Plymouth Colony, as in succeeding American colonies which later became states, Thanksgiving was held irregularly and at varying times of the year. Sometimes the harvest festival was even held in mid-summer.

George Washington proclaimed a national day of Thanksgiving in 1789, the year of his first inauguration. He issued a proclamation, calling upon the people to thank God for a constitutional form of government. A national observance again was celebrated in 1815 by proclamation of President Madison. Otherwise, until 1863, Thanksgiving was left to the discretion of state governors.

A permanent, yearly Thanksgiving Day was one of the fondest dreams of one tiny, persistent New Hampshire lady. That woman was Sarah Josepha Hale who saw Thanksgiving Day as the great home festival. Born in 1788, Mrs. Hale had been widowed at the age of 34 with five small children to support. She soon developed into a prolific writer and later became the first editor of the first ladies' magazine, Godey's Lady's Book, a precursor for the 19th Century woman.

Sarah Hale emerged as one of the most influential women of her era. From 1846 until 1863 she used that influence in an unswerving campaign to put Thanksgiving on the annual holiday calendar. For 17 years, letters went out in her own hand to governors, presidents and thousands of other distinguished persons. Editorials in Godey's urged — nay, pleaded — for an established Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Hale's campaign for a national Thanksgiving Day was one of the few issues on which all states seemed to be in harmony. Indeed, it was because of this and the hope that the holiday might help to unite the nation once more that President Lincoln finally capitulated to her demands. The choice of date was no accident. Following Washington's lead, Lincoln selected the last feast day of the church year.

Thanksgiving did not slip back into national obscurity. By means of her pen and prestige, Mrs. Hale saw to it that the holiday was kept in the public conscience. The next year, Lincoln again set aside the last Thursday in November as a day of Thanksgiving. It was a tribute to the little lady from New England that the New York Times reported on Nov. 24, 1864: "Yesterday was more generally observed as a national holiday than any preceding Thanksgiving day we remember."

Looking Backward

1863 National Thanksgiving Day

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Nov. 26, 1863.

The year drawing towards its close has been filled with blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added which are so extraordinary in nature that they cannot fail to penetrate and soften the heart which is habitually insensible to the ever-watchful Providence of Almighty God.

In the midst of a civil war of unequalled magnitude and severity, which has sometimes seemed to invite and provoke the aggressions of foreign States, peace has been preserved with all nations; order has been maintained; the laws have been respected and obeyed; and harmony has prevailed everywhere, except in the theatre of military conflict, while that theatre has been greatly contracted by the advancing armies and navies of the Union. The needful diversions of wealth and strength from the fields of peaceful industry to national defense have not arrested the plow, the shuttle, or the ship. The axe has enlarged the borders of our settlements, and the mines, as well of iron and coal as the precious metals, have yielded even more abundantly than heretofore. Population has steadily increased, notwithstanding the waste that has been made in the camp, the siege and the battle-field; and the country, rejoicing in the consciousness of augmented strength and vigor, is permitted to expect a continuance of years with a large increase of freedom.

No human counsel hath devised, nor hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the Most High God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy. It has seemed fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently and gratefully acknowledged, as with one heart and voice by the whole American people.

I do therefore invite my fellow citizens, in every part of the United States, and also those who are at sea, and those who are sojourning in foreign lands, to observe and set apart the last Thursday in November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the Heavens, and I recommend to them that, while offering up the expressions of praise justly due to Him for such singular deliverances and blessings, they do also, with humble penitence for our national perverseness and disobedience, commend to His tender care all those who have become widows, orphans or sufferers in the lamented civil strife in which we are unavoidably engaged, and fervently implore the interposition of the Almighty Hand to heal the wounds of the Nation, and restore it as soon as may be consistent with the Divine purposes, to the full enjoyment of peace, harmony, tranquility and Union.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the City of Washington, this the third day of October, in the year of our Lord 1863, and of the Independence of the United States, the eighty-eighth.

Thursday, Nov. 24, 1938.

Thanksgiving Day, 1938, marked the dedication of a new organ at St. Theresa Church, Appleton. The Rev. L. A. Döbelsteen, Luxemburg, was guest organist at ceremonies that morning in the church. The Rev. M. A. Hauch sang the mass and the 40-member parish choir, directed by Ray Preeters, sang in honor of St. Theresa, the Little Flower. The work they sang was composed by Father Döbelsteen. Mrs. Ray Preeters presented the vocal selection "Ave Maria."

Kaukauna High School students presented a Thanksgiving program in the form of talks the previous day at a student assembly. Speakers were Evelyn Seidel, Verna Krueger, Raymond Bruns, William Van Lieshout, Delores Derriks, Jack Flanagan and Dorothy Kobussen. John Velie presented "A Prayer of Thanksgiving" and Robert Smith gave an instrumental solo.

10 YEARS AGO
Thursday, Nov. 26, 1953.

Thanksgiving Day dawned cloudy and cold with the temperature reaching an overnight low of 26 degrees. Highways were clear for traveling with snow flurries forecast for early the next morning.

Shirley Menting, art student at Kimberly High School, designed the draperies for the home economics room at the school. Student Joan Neve assisted with the printing of the draperies done by the silk screen process. Donald Peterson, Scandinavia, winner of the 1953 4-H Dairy Achievement award, was to attend the 32nd annual 4-H club congress in Chicago.

Wisconsin Report

Kennedy's Death Heavy Blow to State Democratic Leadership

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON The impact of the tragic death of President Kennedy on the politics of the state of Wisconsin is various and serious.

It represents a heavy blow to the Democratic party and the Democratic state administration, quite aside from the emotional force involved.

Gov. John W. Reynolds had planned his entire campaign blueprint for the new year upon an association with the late Mr. Kennedy, in the calm assumption that he would be a heavily popular standard-bearer and that he would carry this state in 1964 in spite of its Republican leanings four years earlier.

If it is assumed that a nomination of President Johnson next summer by the Democrats is inevitable, as it probably is, the state party organization will confront the necessity for accommodation with a man toward whom it has been cool nearly all of his public career, and with whom some of the state leaders have publicly quarrelled on their own way up the ladder of Wisconsin politics.

RECOLLECTIONS

Gaylord Nelson, for example, keynoted his own first announcement of gubernatorial candidacy in 1959 with a public attack upon Johnson, then majority leader of the U. S. Senate.

There is little doubt that Nelson as U. S. Senator has overcome that earlier dislike and will now join with the others of his party in public declarations of support of the new national executive. But the record has been made, and it probably reflects the realities of the Wisconsin situation more accurately than the contemporary statements which will have a ring of mechanical courtesy about them.

The scene in the Wisconsin party caucus at the Los Angeles convention hall in 1960 will also be remembered. The Wisconsin delegation didn't want Johnson for vice president and didn't care who knew it. Only through the desperate appeals of Sen. Proxmire, among others, was an open revolt avoided. Even then, some of the Wisconsin delegates stormed out of the hall in indignation and some of them took the next train or plane back to their homes in Wisconsin.

That record will also have more pertinence to the private views of typical Wisconsin Democratic leaders than their public declarations of loyalty today.

STRANGER HERE

Mr. Johnson has been a man of stature in the national administration for years, but he made his first visit to Wisconsin only a few months ago. The $100 a plate money raising dinner which he keynoted was successful, as such things go, and his reception was warm enough.

But he must have wondered why the bid came so late. Someone may have told him that local Democrats had considered such an invitation before, but had been dissuaded from going through with it. He might also have remembered that the senior senator from Wisconsin, Sen. Proxmire, made his own first publicity triumph in Washington a couple of years ago with a public challenge of Johnson's senate leadership.

Aside from such matters, there are the pragmatic facts of personal relations and patronage. Such men as Gov. Reynolds and his friend Patrick J. Lucey, who continued to be regarded as the organization boss here by the Kennedy administration in spite of the fact that the chairmanship had passed to another, had a close and trusted contact with the White House under the late president.

Now there is a new leader, with a new circle of friends, who will compose a new White House establishment with which Wisconsin will have a relationship, at best, that will be far less intimate and influential.

Strictly Personal

Intelligence, Talent May Not Go Together

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Purely Personal Prejudices:

It is one of the ironies of nature that intelligence and talent do not necessarily go together; and so we find people of talent without the intelligence to control their gifts, and people of intelligence without the talent to express their perceptiveness.

Those who tend to "blame" science for recent frightening developments in warfare and technology should recall what Gustav Le Bon said a long time ago: "Science has promised us truth. . . . It has never promised us either peace or happiness."

Marx and his followers were guilty of a dangerous half truth when they propounded the maxim that "The moneyed class is not fit to rule;" this is true, but they failed to add that NO class is fit to rule — and perhaps the proletariat least of all.

The only time we are willing to admit that there are two sides to every question is when we do not adhere too strongly to either side.

It is the grandness of sound, rather than the objectivity of meaning, that sways most of us; for instance, "a thousand" sounds greater than "twelve hundred" because the very word "thousand" is more impressive than "hundred," until we take a second look at the context.

The most false dichotomy we can make is between "mind" and "emotions" or "heart" and "head" — for the thinking and feeling are inseparably linked to one another like the blades of a scissors, and we cannot cut anything accurately or cleanly unless both blades are operating in conjunction.

Children, until they are civilized, tend to laugh at cruelty, deformity, or misfortune; in short, at anything they consider alien or inferior to themselves; as we get older, we discipline these reactions and no longer laugh at cruelty, deformity or misfortune in individuals—but, rather, we transfer such reactions to large and anonymous groups of people who, we permit ourselves the luxury of feeling, are alien and inferior. But are we any better than the children?

In a surprisingly large number of families, the wrong member is going for psychiatric help: the more disturbed one who is rigidly opposed to getting help has driven the more flexible and less disturbed one into treatment — which can hardly have a satisfactory solution.

The peril of divided authority was never more forcefully or tersely put than by Napoleon, when he observed: "One bad general does better than two good ones."

Every true artist is a moralist who knows better than to preach; it is only when there is a deficiency of art that the moralizing seeps through to the surface and spoils the work.

Insurance Plan on Dollar Stands Test

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The 10-nation health insurance plan for the U.S. dollar, and other principal world currencies, stood its first real test with marked success.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York and Europe's central banks acted together and quickly to prevent any run on the dollar after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Without the agreed plan to move simultaneously into the foreign exchange markets to prevent such a run, the dollar might have been under pressure.

Surplus Dollars
This is because foreigners hold so many surplus dollars, built up in recent years as a result of big deficits in our balance of payments in international trade and monetary dealings.

These dollars, if dumped on the market for gold or other currencies, could have shaken the value of the dollar — the world's chief monetary reserve as a supplement to gold — and a mainstay of America's healthy economy.

An assassination is the kind of unsettling news on which speculators sometimes feed.

10-Nation Pact
The 10-nation pact to guard against speculative runs followed the October 1960 gold rush which shook the dollar.

The price of gold was run up temporarily to $40 an ounce on London's free market, compared to the official U.S. Treasury price of $35.

MEDICAL QUACKS STILL PREY ON WALLETS OF GULLIBLE

DEAR CY:
My sister has been ailing for some time and has spent money like water on cures. Last week, she came over for coffee with a story of how some doctor expressed interest in making her well. Upon going to his office, she was shown hand-written letters from former patients who felt he had cured them. She was all set to rent a machine from him for home treatments until she got the price. Even with her spending habits, it was too much. She decided to ask me, and I am asking you. This man sounds like a quack, although I understand quackery is under control.

SISTER'S SISTER

The lid is far from bolted down on medical quackery. That's one reason Washington, D. C., hosted the Congress on Medical Quackery on the 25th and 26th of October. From this joint meeting of the American Medical Association and the Federal Drug Administration, Americans are expected to receive explosive information on how sincerely medical quacks have set to preying on the public's gullibility and pocketbook. Quacks can usually be spotted when they solicit business, offer gimmicks for rent or for sale, or show proof positive of how they cured patients. Another danger signal can be request for advance payment. Your sister should check out this charlatan through her local medical society. She can also write Oliver Field, head of the American Medical Association's Department of Investigation (535 North Dearborn St.), Chicago. He may have a file on the shortcomings and goings of this "doctor."

DEAR CY:

Our Laurie is only 14 years old but draws beautiful dress designs. She is seriously interested in making commercial attire, particularly dress and women's apparel designing. Can you direct us to a school that gives lessons in this through the mail? Any key to dress designing?

W. J. FENN

DEAR W. J.:
Successful apparel designers tell me the major stumbling block for beginners is ignorance of what can (and cannot) be done with fabrics of different weights, textures, and widths, in covering the female form. A gorgeous two-dimensional design on paper may be chic as a gunny sack on an active, three-dimensional body. Maybe it can't be contrived by a pattern-maker at all. Basic training will be in making her own, and others' clothes, and experience with a good dressmaker would be helpful. Let her concentrate on completing high school and excelling in art there. Perhaps she can land an art scholarship. These home study schools, however, will be more than eager to give you information on their courses: Lifetime Career Schools (11826 San Vicente Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif.); National School of Dress Design

New Brillion Homemaker Officers Named

BRILLION — Mrs. John Hoyer and Mrs. Charles Miller were appointed new secretary and vice president, respectively, of Brillion Valley Homemakers Club at the group's recent meeting.

"Care of Clothing" was the project lesson presented by leaders Mrs. Hoyer and Mrs. Alfred Wittmann. Mrs. Florian Cafilisch gave a health topic.

The club's annual Christmas party will be Dec. 19 at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Bohman. Mrs. Harland Schuh, Mrs. Ellen Radloff and Mrs. Wittmann are in charge of arrangements.

There was a discussion of the Calumet County Homemakers annual Christmas Festival which will take place at Chilton High School Dec. 9. Club members are to take candy and cookies to donate for charity purposes.

The group's next regular meeting will be Jan. 15 at the home of Mrs. Ed Michels Sr. Leaders for the project then will be Mrs. Bohman and Mrs. Schuh.

4 New London Churches Hold Joint Services

NEW LONDON — Union Thanksgiving services for four churches will be held at 8 p.m. today at the First Congregational Church.

The Rev. Wesley Sharpe, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will discuss "Thanks Be To God" during the service. He will be assisted in the service by the Rev. Dan Maurice, pastor of First Assembly of God Church and the Rev. Alfred C. Davis of First Congregation A. Church. The Evangelical United Brethren Church also will take part.

Special music will be presented by choirs from the Methodist and Congregational churches.

Thanksgiving masses will be at 6:30 and 8 a.m. Thursday at Most Precious Blood Catholic Church.

Services will be at 9 a.m. Thursday at Emanuel Lutheran Church.

Aged Entertained by New London Group

NEW LONDON — Residents of the Villa St. Vincent, home for the aged, were entertained recently by a group of New London musicians. Both modern and old time music was presented, along with several vocal selections, by Del Palmer, Ivan Brisco, Ed Wert, Gilbert Kroll and Bob Palmer.

Stockbridge Tips Shiocton Gerry Mayer, Dawn Pace Non-Loop Win

SHIOCTON — The Stockbridge Indians got the better of a ragged, foul-filled basketball game here Tuesday night as they took a 12-5 first period lead and never trailed thereafter, enroute to a 54-44 non-conference victory over Shiocton.

Both teams utilized a pressing defense throughout and the result was like a carry-over from the football season as they "scrimmaged" their way to a grand total of 50 fouls.

Gerry Mayer and Gary Daun provided the brunt of the Indians' scoring attack with 17 and 10 points, respectively.

Athletic Group In Clintonville Re-elects Officers

CLINTONVILLE — Officers of the Clintonville Athletic Association, sponsors of the city's semi-pro baseball team, were re-elected at the annual meeting recently held at the city hall.

They are Roy Bloomquist, president; Fred Beckman, vice president; Milton Boehke, secretary and treasurer; and Guy Krauskauka with burial in Holy Cross Cemetery. The Rt. Rev. Pandrey, Don Jirschele and Walter Huebner.

In addition to meeting all expenses, the association bought a $1800 garage for batting practice, helped finance construction of the athletic fieldhouse in Walter A. Olen Park, and contributed towards building the field's press box and dugouts.

The association voted to give $45 to the American Legion post for its Junior Legion baseball program. The amount equals estimated profits on refreshment sales which the association made during Legion ball games last summer.

Bowler Quint Wins Over Bear Creek

BEAR CREEK — A 37-point barrage and the superior rebounding strength of 6-4 Steve Fuhrman proved too much for Bear Creek of the Little Nine Conference as Bowler captured a 71-60 non-conference victory here Tuesday night.

Bear Creek managed to pull even at 53-all midway through the final period, but two tip-in buckets by Fuhrman put Bowler in front to stay.

Darrell Zieske was the mainstay in the Creekers' offense as he clicked for 30 points. Mike Flanagan chipped in with 18 for Bear Creek.

U. S. Aims at Kennedy Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The text of President Johnson's speech today to a joint session of Congress:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, members of the House and Senate, my fellow Americans:

All I have I would have given gladly not to be standing here today.

The greatest leader of our time has been struck down by the foulest deed of our time. Today John Fitzgerald Kennedy lives on in the immortal words and works he left behind. He lives on in the mind and memories of mankind. He lives on in the hearts of his countrymen.

No words are sad enough to express our sense of loss. No words are strong enough to express our determination to continue the forward thrust of America that he began.

Dreams Vitalized

The dream of conquering the vastness of space, the dream of partnership across the Atlantic and across the Pacific as well, the dream of a peace corps in less developed lands, the dream of education for our youth, the dream of jobs for all who seek them, the dream of care for our elderly, the dream of an all-out attack on mental illness, and above all, the dream of equal rights for all Americans, whatever their race or color—these and other American dreams have been vitalized by his drive and dedication.

Now the ideas and ideals of which he so nobly represented must and will be translated into effective action.

U. S. Faces Risks

Under John Kennedy's leadership, this nation has demonstrated that it has the courage to seek peace, and the fortitude to risk war. We have proved that we are a good and reliable friend to those who seek peace and freedom. We have shown that we can also be a formidable foe to those who reject the path of peace and who seek to impose upon us or our allies the yoke of tyranny.

This nation will keep its commitments from South Viet Nam to West Berlin. We will be un-resourceful in our pursuit in areas of agreement even with those with whom we differ; and generous and loyal to those who join with us in common cause.

No Victors in War

In this age where there can be no losers in peace and no victors in war—we must recognize the obligation to match national strength with national restraint—we must be prepared at one and the same time for both the confrontation of power and the limitation of power—we must be ready to defend the national interest and to negotiate the common interest. This is the path that we shall continue to pursue.

Those who test our courage will find it strong and those who seek our friendship will find it honorable. We will demonstrate anew that the strong can be just in the use of strength—and the just can be strong in the defense of justice.

We will carry on the fight against poverty and misery, ignorance and disease—in other lands and in our own.

Serves All of U. S.

Our American unity does not depend upon unanimity. We have differences. But now, as in the past, we can derive from those differences strength, not weakness; wisdom, not despair. Both as a people and as a government can unite upon a program which is wise, just and constructive.

For 32 years, Capitol Hill has been my home. I have shared many moments of pride with you—pride in the ability of Congress of the United States to act; to meet any crisis; to distill grams of national action.

Must Share Burden

An assassin's bullet has thrust upon me the awesome burden of the presidency. I am here today to say that I need your help. I cannot bear this burden alone. I need the help of all Americans. This nation has experienced a profound shock and in this critical moment it is our duty, yours and mine, as the government of the United States to do away with uncertainty and show that we are capable of decisive action: that from the brutal loss of our leader we will derive not weakness but strength, that we can and will act and act now.

From the chamber of representative government let all the men of good will, and none misdeed, that I rededicate this government to the unswerving support of the United Nations, to the honorable and determined execution of our commitments to our allies, to the maintenance of military strength second to none to the defense of the strength and stability of the dollar, to the expansion of our foreign trade, to the re-enforcement of our programs of mutual assistance and cooperation in Asia and Africa, and to our Alliance for Progress in this hemisphere.

Will Not Hesitate

On the 20th of January, in 1961, John F. Kennedy told his countrymen that our national work would not be finished "in the first one thousand days. Nor in the life of this administration, nor even perhaps in our lifetime on this planet." But, he said, "Let us begin."

Today in this moment of new resolve, I would say to my fellow Americans, let us continue. This is our challenge—not to hesitate, not to pause, not to turn about and linger over this evil moment but to continue on our course so that we may fulfill the destiny history has set for us. Our most immediate tasks are here on this Hill.

Civil Rights Plea

First, no memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the civil rights bill for which he fought. We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights. We have talked for 100 years or more. Yes, it is time now to write the next chapter—and to write it in books of law.

I urge you again, as I did in 1957, and again in 1960, to enact a civil rights law so that we can move forward to eliminate from this nation every trace of discrimination and oppression based upon race or color. There could be no greater source of strength to this nation both at home and abroad.

Urges Tax Cut

And second, no act of ours could more fittingly continue the work of President Kennedy than the earliest passage of the tax bill for which he fought, a bill designed to increase our national income, our federal revenues, and our insurance against recession. That bill, if passed without delay, means more security for those now working and more jobs for those now without them.

In short, this is not time for delay. It is a time for action—strong, forward-looking action on the pending education bills to help bring the light of learning to every home and hamlet in American-Strong, forward-looking action on the pending foreign aid bill, making clear that we are not forfeiting our responsibilities to this hemisphere or to the world, nor erasing executive flexibility in the conduct of foreign affairs—and strong, forward-looking action on the remaining appropriation bills.

Pledges Thrift

In this new spirit of action the Congress can expect the full cooperation and support of the executive branch. And in particular I pledge that the expenditures of the government will be administered with the utmost thrift and frugality. I will insist that the government get a dollar's value for a dollar spent.

The government will set an example of prudence and economy. This does not mean we will not meet our unfilled needs or that we will not honor our commitments. We will do both.

As one who has long served in both houses of the Congress, I firmly believe in the independence and integrity of the legislative branch. I promise you that and evil and violence. Let us put an end to the teaching and preaching of hate. It turns away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those defiant will-willys— as nature's most destructive storms

New Dedication

I know we meet in grief, but let us also meet in renewed dedication and renewed vigor. Let us meet in action, in tolerance and mutual understanding.

John Kennedy's death commands what his life conveyed— that America must move forward. The time has come for Americans of all races and political beliefs to understand and respect one another. Let us put an end to the teaching and preaching of hate. It turns away from the fanatics of the far left and the far right, the apostles of bitterness and bigotry, from those defiant will-willys— as nature's most destructive storms

Winterization Applies to People as Well as Autos

BY CARL N. NEUTERT, M.D.
State Health Officer

When the mercury dips toward the freezing mark and fog and clouds start closing in along with early hours of darkness, it's time to winterize — both our cars and ourselves.

Most of us know what to do about our cars — such as adding anti-freeze, checking the battery, brakes, and defroster — and do it. But how many of us bother to prepare ourselves for the rough weather and bad driving conditions ahead?

This we can do by determining to avoid accidents and changing our driving techniques along with the weather.

Most of us know, of course, that we should use seat belts and good tires and have chains in case an emergency arises. Most of us realize, too, the need for keeping our windshield and windows clean. But this is not enough — especially in the winter.

'Feel of Road'

For this is a time when it is us to decide if the roads, our vitally important for us to get cars and we are in driving condition — and then govern our at a safe distance and to apply actions accordingly. Add a defour brakes before going into termination to drive safely turns and pump them in order when we don our gloves and to stop on snow and ice. It's also a time when mental needs to worry us.

preparation means a lot. In winter, above all, we should always take the right attitude with us when we get behind the wheel.

The privilege of driving a car on winter streets or highways calls for the driver's complete and undivided concentration on his driving — especially when road conditions are unfavorable.

This means that if we are preoccupied, tired, angry, upset, or under the influence of spirits other than those of the holiday season, it's best to let someone else do the driving for us.

Winter in short is a time for us to decide if the roads, our vitally important for us to get cars and we are in driving condition — and then govern our at a safe distance and to apply actions accordingly. Add a defour brakes before going into termination to drive safely turns and pump them in order when we don our gloves and to stop on snow and ice. It's also a time when mental needs to worry us.

William Bradford Proclaimed First Thanksgiving After Harrowing Year

Doughty Pilgrim Leader Helped Colony That Shaped a Nation

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Posterity has dealt indifferently with William Bradford, the Pilgrim governor who proclaimed the first Thanksgiving Day back in 1621.

By all rights of character and accomplishment, of wisdom and courage, of over-all inspired leadership, Bradford should be revered as a great American, a figure on a par with Washington and Lincoln in our national gallery of heroes.

But somehow, dimly viewed through the mists of history, his image has been obscured by the fame of Miles Standish, John Alden and Priscilla Mullin, whom Longfellow ennobled in his fanciful recreation of the Plymouth story; or else he has been confused with the stern, witch-hunting Puritan governors of the neighboring Massachusetts Bay Colony.

Larger Stature

Bradford certainly loomed larger in the life of Plymouth than Standish, who was his close friend and military adviser for many years, and John Alden and Priscilla Mullin, whom he joined together in a civil marriage ceremony shortly after becoming governor. And he never did burn a witch, although he once had the unhappy duty of sentencing John Billington, a fellow passenger on the Mayflower, to be hanged for murder.

Only 31 at the time of his election, a silk weaver by trade and a Pilgrim by rigid choice of conscience, Bradford was to govern Plymouth for 30 of the next 35 years and to put indelibly the stamp of his remarkable character on the new world's first successful experiment in democracy.

It was he who molded Plymouth into what it was to become, a shining symbol of harmonious self-government, of a hard-working, God-fearing free society ruled by love and laws, at peace with its neighbors but ever ready to defend itself in case of attack, a symbol that was to have an effect far beyond the boundaries and far beyond the life span of the tiny colony.

Shaped Nation

Massachusetts Bay eventually swallowed up Plymouth, but Plymouth's way prevailed in shaping the mighty nation that found its seeds in these small beginnings.

Low-born, uneducated, an orphan at 8 and a religious dissenter at 12, Bradford had in him the makings of the first authentic American: the pioneer, the rebel, the independent thinker, the self-made man. Other New England colonies were run by university men. Virginia's governors came from the royal court. But Bradford was homespun and self-taught; neither birth nor wealth assisted him in fulfilling his destiny.

He took over the fortunes of the colony at a desperate time. John Carver, the first governor, fell dead of sunstroke on a balmy April day shortly after the Mayflower sailed home to England. His death climaxed a series of grim tragedies that decimated the colony in the first few months in the new world.

High Mortality

Of the 102 Mayflower passengers who survived the hazardous 65-day ocean voyage to step ashore on that bleak and forbidding coast, only 56 lived through the first winter. Scarcely 20 men were on hand in the Commonwealth to pick the new governor. The young man they chose already knew much of suffering and of sorrow.

In the cold, dark waters off Provincetown, his 23-year-old wife, Dorothy Bradford, lay buried, on a bitter December day, while her husband was off in the long boat on the final expedition that resulted in the discovery of the fine harbor at Plymouth. She had either jumped or fallen from the high deck of the Mayflower.

Whether a suicide or an accident victim, he would never know, but his sleep was tormented by memories of her pinning away for the 5-year-old son they had left behind in Holland.

Widowers' World

Plymouth was a widowers' world. Miles Standish, Edward Winslow, Isaac Allerton, the men who helped Bradford most in that first trying year, all had lost their wives in the terrible general sickness.

But somehow, through sickness and death, through threat of starvation and Indian attack, through the howling storms of winter and the drenching rains of spring, Plymouth endured. The little graveyard on the hill, where bodies were taken by dark of night lest the Indians learn of their weakness, received no new tenants for a while, and the tiny settlement local Indians that was to remain gradually regained its strength unbroken during the life of the colony.

By fail, the governor could proclaim a day of thanksgiving and invite the local Indians to share in a feast that lasted three days and saw Miles Standish drill his little company up and down Plymouth's main street for the edification of the 90 braves who showed up.

Plymouth's Thanks

What had Plymouth to be thankful for?

Against the approach of another severe winter, seven one-room houses and four supply buildings stood in a neat row. There was a good harvest of 20 acres of Indian corn, and fish and fowl abounded at their door.

Some beginnings had been made in the beaver trade, so they had hopes of paying off their staggering debt to the merchant adventurers in London who underwrote the voyage.

And, best of all, they had signed a peace treaty with the King James' promise to harry all dissenters out of the land, so was not long in catching up with the little colony at Scrooby.

When Brewster and four others were summoned before the Ecclesiastical Commission in York a price on his head for printing seditious tracts. They started out in two ships, but the Speed-ford's adventures began in earnest.

Treacherous Seaman

A British sea captain, hired to take them to Amsterdam, betrayed them to the king's troops. Scarcely 18, Bradford was imprisoned in Lincolnshire for a month.

A farmer by upbringing, William Bradford settled down with the Scrooby congregation in the lovely city of Leyden to learn the silk weaver's trade and later to become a worker in fus-tian, a twill cloth. He became fluent in French and Dutch, took out citizenship, bought a house and married Dorothy May, 16, who in time bore him a son.

The Scrooby folk flourished in exile, but with war threatening between Spain and Holland, they determined to seek refuge in the new land that fired their imaginations in the maps and writings of Capt. John Smith.

Coaxed King

Obstacles beset them on all sides. King James had to be coaxed into letting them go. Elder Brewster had to be smuggled aboard the Mayflower with a price on his head for printing seditious tracts. They started out in two ships, but the Speedwell, which was to have been their fishing boat in the new world, was overmasted and leaked badly and had to be abandoned.

They had hoped to be underway by early summer, but it was Sept. 6 before the high-pooped, deep-bellied, three-master, 180-ton Mayflower set sail from Plymouth with 102 passengers. Some had been aboard for seven weeks. Moving at only two knots, it would be more than two months before the Mayflower dropped anchor again.

"After long beating at sea," wrote Bradford, "they felt with that land which is called Cape Cod, the which being made and certainly knowne to be it, they were not a little joyful."

Bradford Rule

Bradford ruled Plymouth with an almost instinctive blend of tolerance and firmness.

He put down an internal revolt by intercepting letters sent home to England by John Lyford, a clergyman who would have wrecked the colony with his false accusations.

In the midst of a two-month drought, he decreed a day of prayer and fasting and saw it rain that very night.

Thursday, Nov. 28, 1963 Appletan Post-Crescent A22

For years he struggled to free the colony of debt. He codified its laws, married its lovers, presided in its court, directed its trade, prophesied in its church on Sunday, negotiated its treaties with the Indians and the new colonies springing up all around.

Town Meeting

Once a month the town meeting convened in his house at the southwest corner of Plymouth's only two streets. The house was already occupied by Alice Southworth, the widow whom he married in 1623, her two children, the three she bore him, his first son John, who eventually came over, and four orphan boys.

Somehow, in the midst of everything, the governor found time to begin jotting down in a vellum-bound journal his history, "of Plimoth Plantation," now regarded as an American masterpiece.

He was a person for study as well as action," wrote Cotton Mather of the untutored silk weaver who managed in a busy lifetime to master Latin, Greek, French and Dutch, in addition to more than a smattering of history, philosophy, theology and the classics.

Five times he declined to run for governor, but they always prevailed upon him the following year to resume his office. When the neighboring colonies confederated into a United Colonies of New England, Bradford twice served as president and four times was a commissioner.

Each passing year saw old friends pass away or move to the newer settlements. Brewster died in 1643. Standish in 1656. Still Bradford held on, walking proud in his robes of office: the green gown with the violet cloak, the leaden-colored suit with the silver buttons.

Cotton Mather wrote that, "He died May 9, 1657, in the 69th year of his age, lamented by all the colonies of New England as a common blessing and a father to them all."

With a volley of muskets and a slow roll of the drums, the only ceremony that the Pilgrims allowed, they laid him to rest on the little hill above the town, overlooking the bright blue bay where the Mayflower once rode at anchor with its previous cargo of continent builders.

Many Questions After Changing Administrations

GOP Choice of Nominee Narrows to Nixon, Goldwater

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Questions are being asked by people on every side here and abroad as to what the effect will be on public policy as a consequence of the change of administration. What kind of president will Lyndon Johnson make? What policies will the Kennedy administration will he maintain or alter or abandon? What will be the effect in the field of foreign policy and on the attitude of governments abroad toward the United States? What becomes of the Republican case and the contest for the nomination, especially as it affects Messrs. Goldwater, Rockefeller and Nixon? What will be the impact on American business and on chances for a recession or a boom?

The asking of these questions is evidence of the complete involvement of American policy in the life of a single leader. Here are some answers that seem logical:

1. National politics: President Johnson will follow the practice of those presidents who have come into the office during a term for which a deceased predecessor had been elected. The new president always feels committed to carry on existing policies and to retain the cabinet. Modifications will come as changing circumstances may require. But Mr. Johnson's campaign for the nomination must be made in the next eight months before the Democratic national convention meets and must inevitably be based on a championing of Kennedy policies and principles at home and abroad. Mr. Johnson will doubtless be nominated and stands a good chance of being elected.

Foreign Policy
2. Foreign policy: It will not change perceptibly. The same advisers and personnel who counseled Mr. Kennedy will, in the main, be at President Johnson's side. There may be some changes in the formula of negotiation — perhaps a greater reliance on the diplomats than on personal meetings with foreign potentates. Such conferences may become more of the ceremonial kind than of the "negotiating" pattern.

3. Domestic Legislation: The Kennedy program of tax reduction and "civil rights" will be enacted with the same modifications that would have been legislated if Mr. Kennedy had lived. A bipartisan coalition in Congress still rules the day. The deceased president would have been compelled to compromise. Lyndon Johnson will compromise and will make it seem like a victory. He has been and will be a skillful negotiator inside both parties in Congress.

4. World Peace: President Johnson knows he will have a united country behind him and that American policy in its broad aspects has universal approval. The question of whether peace efforts can be effective depends now, as before, on the Communist regime in the Kremlin, about which Mr. Johnson has no illusions.

Party Problems
5. Republican party problems: Overnight a change has come. The anti-Kennedy drive now will have to become an impersonal criticism of policies, rather than of the man, if a constructive issue is to be developed by the Republicans. The voters will not be inclined to blame President Johnson for any mistakes of his predecessor. Democrats, on the other hand, will naturally take credit for recognized achievements of the administration during the preceding three years or more. The Republicans have only one course to pursue—the exposition of a non-radical philosophy, which reflects the convictions of the rank and file of Republicans, as distinguished from the "me-tooism" of many so-called "liberal" Republicans. The Goldwater boom has been based largely on the anti-Kennedy sentiment and on a drive for conservative policies. The Arizona senator is still in the lead, and the only other candidate with a chance to get the Republican nomination is Richard Nixon. The former vice president now will have in his favor the argument that he knows as much about the presidency as—if not, more than—Lyndon Johnson, who has served as vice president two years and ten months, while Mr. Nixon held that office eight years. Mr. Eisenhower's influence in behalf of his former vice president may be considerable, as the distinguished general is still a powerful voice in his party. It's an even bet as between Goldwater and Nixon today.

6. Effect on business: The momentum of the last several months will continue into the will listen to the views of his predecessor, is a conscientious man who will seek to serve his country. But the new president is at heart friendly to the group controls the government— the monopolists who have had a great deal more experience with the legislative process and has today a better perception of the difference between the possible and the impossibly. President Johnson will not demand unrealistically that force price in business but will be motivated by a desire to encourage a economy cannot readily absorb president in this century. School Operators Charged in Mail, Radio Violations

CHICAGO (AP)—Three men, operators of a defunct Milwaukee school for young women in former Stewardess Flight Training School, have been charged with violating mail and radio statutes.

The charges were included in a 21-count indictment returned Tuesday before Judge William J. Campbell of U.S. District Court. The grand jury indictment grew out of an investigation of the operations of the school. Named in the indictment were James G. Haig, Robert Bowden Wermager and Jack T. Jaycox, the school promised the ap-advertising by the school.

Youth Meeting Rescheduled To Saturday

200 Expected for 9-County Conference At Jefferson School

The annual fall conference of District 5 of the Wisconsin Youth Committee has been rescheduled to Saturday at Jefferson School, Appleton.

The nine-county meeting originally was scheduled for last Saturday, but was postponed because of the death of the late President John F. Kennedy.

About 200 teen-agers are expected to attend the conference. The advance registration totals 160, according to Ron Kirk, president of the Appleton Youth Council, host for the one-day meeting.

The conference theme will be "Different Colors, Different Creeds, People Just the Same." Dr. Gilbert James, sociology professor at the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center and a member of the Fox Valley Urban Team, will give the keynote address on "Personality and Prejudice" at 9:30 a.m.

Panel Discussion

A panel discussion on the Wisconsin Youth Committee is scheduled at 10:50 a.m. Panelists will be James Zimmerman, Appleton; Marie Peterson, Marinette; and Laurie Krueger, Little Suamico.

Four workshops on "Teen-Agers and Prejudice," "International Understanding Through Exchange Students," "The Peace Corps" and "Challenges to Democracy" will be held from 1 to 2:25 p.m., and repeated from 2:25 to 3:45 p.m.

Elections will be held for two representatives from each county to serve on the District 5 committee, officers for the District 5 executive committee, and four district representatives to the state organization.

Kimberly Panel Guides Better Business Talks

Land Availability And Good Products Listed as Problems

KIMBERLY — A panel discussion on how to improve local business was held at a meeting of the American Legion Tuesday at which businessmen of the community were special guests and participated in the discussion.

Le Roy Balza and Richard Hoolihan represented business on the panel while George Acker and Jerry Bobber were Legion representatives. Moderator was Greg Weiss. Balza claimed lack of available land and difficulty of good products competing with chain stores as reasons for hardships of small local business.

Hoolihan indicated the village population and growth showed business potential and if land were available, new businesses and industries might be induced to move to the community. Bobber suggested joint sale ventures as a way to keep local people from shopping out of town and Acker felt a better display of merchandise and the friendliness of local merchants would help to overcome some out-of-town attraction.

Business Session
Legion members voted to sponsor two Cub Packs in the village and changed meeting nights from the third Tuesday to the third Wednesday of each month.

Delegates named to the Dec. 11 Christmas party of the County Council at Shiocton were Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. James Koch, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winus, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lund, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winus, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Dresang, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Werth, Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sears, Henry Steirs, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stahlberg and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roovers.

SPEBSQSA Group To Entertain for Home-School Unit

KAUKAUNA — Twenty-five members of the Kaukauna-Little Chute SPEBSQSA chapter, under the direction of Keith Eifler, will present a program of Christmas music at a meeting of the Holy Cross Home-School Association at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the school cafeteria.

Continuing with the explanation of the modern math program, Mrs. Arthur Oettinger and Mrs. Edward Wulgaert, third grade teachers, will discuss the program at that level and conduct a question and answer period.

Refreshments will be served by mothers of sixth grade to tell the people when they call youngsters under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Appleton and Mrs. Joseph Krings.

Board Votes Big Tax Cut For Grand Chute Residents

Reduced Rate Per $1,000 Will Range From 98 Cents to $20

Residents of Town of Grand Chute, blasted by skyrocketing tax rates last year, will get tax breaks ranging from 98 cents to a whopping $20.46 per $1,000 assessed valuation in 1964.

Town officials Tuesday night set a base rate of $31.50 per $1,000 valuation.

For residents in the portion of the town which is part of the Hortonville School District 1, the rate will be $36.48, and in the Butte des Morts Sanitary District, the rate is $36.50.

Last year, rates soared to a maximum of $51.96. Most of the blame for the gigantic boost was laid to annexation of certain school areas to the Appleton and Hortonville school districts, retroactive for about six months.

A state credit of $2,158 will reduce this year's rate by slightly more than 15 cents.

In all three portions of the town, state levies amount to $6.521, or 43 cents of the tax rate.

Areas served by the Appleton school district face a school levy of $396,676, up $41,000 from last year, with a tax rate of $26.42.

County taxes in all but that portion of the town served by the Hortonville School District are $103,689.

County Tax Rate
This, however, was offset by $35,000 from the town general fund and the town board set the rate at $4.50. Rate in the remainder of the district was $5.25.

School levies in the portion of the town in the Hortonville School District was $9,808, with a rate of $30.65.

For vocational school use, the levy was $2,265 with a levy of 15 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Old school districts, last year's rate, this year's rate and the reductions are:

Appleton 1 and 10, $33.28, $31.50, $1.78.

Triangle (2), $46.42, $31.50, $14.92. Portions of this district where a sanitary district is in the making paid $49.86 last year, compared to $36.50 this year, a drop of $13.36.

Twin Willow (3), $51.96, $31.50, $20.46.

Woodlawn (4), $41.28, $31.50, $9.78.

Elmdale (7), $46.05, $31.50, $14.55.

Badger (8), $42.50, $31.50, $11.00. In portions of this district in the sanitary district, $49.86, $36.50, $13.36.

Sunnyview (joint district 2 with Greenville), $44.58, $31.50, $12.88.

Elm Tree (joint district 13), $45.13, $31.50, $13.63.

Funds for operation of the town are obtained from other revenues. In these levies the town serves only as a collection agency for the state, county and schools.

Two in Hospital After Cars Crash

Two men were hospitalized Tuesday after a 2-car accident Tuesday on the Quarry Road at the intersection with Outagamie County Trunk A.

Richard Kufner, 35, 1306 W. Kimberly Ave., received chest, face and knee injuries. Frank Meyerhofer, 56, route 4, Appleton, complained of shoulder and head injuries. Both were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by Larry's Ambulance Service.

County police said Kufner was driving his car south on A, and Meyerhofer was driving west on the Quarry Road when the accident occurred.

For the month of December Feuerstein was directed to issue a receipt to permit parking. Starting Jan. 1 the city will put a decal system into operation.

West Ramp Usage
Aldermen said there would be no permit parking on the West Ramp because they felt it would be completely filled in the near future once the city decides to charge motorists for parking in the No. 3 surfaced lot at Division and Washington Streets, north of the ramp.

Officials were told more than 200 cars have been parked in the lot where there presently is no charge for parking. The city purchased the property for eventual extension of Washington-Franklin Streets.

There was also indication the committee will recommend metering of the city hall parking lot, along with several side streets in the central city area.

The committee received requests from two business concerns, asking permission to purchase 25 and 15 parking permits, respectively. Aldermen said the requests would be treated "no differently than anybody else's."

Sales Tax Credit Allocations Listed In Fox Valley Areas

Appleton Receives $100,000 Windfall, Rate Lowered 65 Cents

Communities throughout the Fox Valley region were sent notice of sales tax credit refund allocations Wednesday by the Wisconsin Department of Taxation at Madison.

The refunds can be used by taxpayers to apply against their 1964 real estate tax bills.

Allocations were more than originally estimated by some communities, and in the case of others considerably less.

In Appleton, City Clerk Elden Broehm announced the $534,238 listed by the state was more than $100,000 over last year's figure and would represent a "windfall" for local taxpayers.

Residents in the portion of Appleton which is in Calumet County (second precinct of the 9th Ward) received a financial setback. The allocation for that area will be 14.646 compared to $23,794 in 1962.

Rebate Impact
The rebate notices received by Broehm will have the following impact on Appleton homeowners:

—Instead of receiving a credit refund amounting to $3.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation, more than 16,000 will have a $4.15 credit. The tax rate set by the common council is $46.65, and minus the $4.15 credit, the city's net rate will be $42.50—65 cents lower than this year.

In the case of the estimated 1,200 Appleton residents in the Calumet County precinct, instead of having a $6.34 credit refund as this year — they will get a $3.47 cred on their 1964 gross rate of $47.44 (a corrected figure since the budget was adopted), their net tax rate will be $43.97, compared to $41.10 this year.

No Explanations
Officials could give no explanation for the increases and decrease.

UW Center Play Will Be Presented Friday

The Center Players of the University of Wisconsin Fox Valley Center have rescheduled their performance of "Arms and the Man" for this Friday evening, Nov. 29, at 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Room of the Fox Valley Center.

The production was originally scheduled for last Friday, and was postponed because of the death of President Kennedy.

Talks, which begin at 10 a.m. and end at 4:30 p.m., will be "The Need for Urban Renewal; Urban Renewal Planning in Wisconsin; How the URA Can Help the State and Local Community and The HHFA Role in Urban Renewal."

There also will be a question and answer period.

No Dispensation To Eat Meat on Friday This Year

Catholics in the Green Bay Diocese won't be able to eat meat Friday, the day after Thanksgiving, as they did in the past several years.

The office of Bishop Stanislaus V. Bona announced today that he didn't grant a dispensation this year. Consequently, all Catholics must abstain from meat on Friday.

Bishop Bona gave no reason why he didn't grant the dispensation this year.

Bishops have the authority to lift the Friday restriction under special conditions, but the decision lies with the individual bishops.

General government increases

COMBINED LOCKS — A 1964 budget of $513,370 of which $382,170 is to be raised by tax levy at a rate of $31.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation has been adopted by the village board.

Last year the budget was $429,772 of which $308,190 was raised through tax levy with a tax rate of $27. Assessed valuation of the village this year is $12,131,390 up $717,455 over the 1962 figure of $11,413,935.

Major reason for the increase in costs is operation of schools which increased from $169,617 to $260,624. The village is also required by law to give one-half of its utility tax returned from the state to the school district, but this was included in the school operation total.

from $11,760 to $16,877 in 1964, major increase noted in $4,000 salary for the clerk-treasurer whereas the two jobs were part-time in 1963 and cost $1,300. Village board expenses were also increased from $2,500 to $4,000 per year.

Protection to persons and small property was increased from prove very costly to the municipality. The board will receive a $4,000 appropriation in 1964 toward purchase of a rescue truck. No such expenditure was made in 1963. Health and sanitation costs increased from $6,150 to $7,075. Hay Load Shifts And Spills Along Memorial Bridge

About eight tons of hay loaded aboard a truck in Winneconne and headed for Kaukauna, shifted on the back of the truck about 9 p.m. Wednesday, spilling bundles of hay along the Memorial Drive bridge.

Dennis Miller, 19, 904 1/2 W. Wisconsin Ave., driver of the truck, said he noticed the hay shifting on the truck as soon as the weight shifted, but he drove for several blocks "to avoid a possible accident."

Hay was stretched from the south side of the bridge north to College Avenue.

Police asked the assistance of volunteers to clear the bridge. Traffic had to pass around the hay bundles which covered the entire northbound lane leading over the bridge.

Helping clean up the hay was Donald Jost, 17, Donald Miller, both of 1335 Katherine St., Robert Steinberg, 18, 813 W. Loraine St., and Jan Regal, 19, 1341 W. Wisconsin Ave. The is owned by Alvin Driessen, route 1, Kaukauna, according to Dennis Miller.

35 City Posts to be Filled; City Clerk Lists Regulations, Names Terms of Office Ending

Friday will mark the kick-off of 1964 spring election campaign in Appleton. Other city officials are elected on a two-year term basis.

City Clerk Elden Broehm announced Wednesday afternoon those officials and their annual salaries include: mayor, for any of the 35 city posts to $10,500; clerk, $8,600; treasurer, $8,600; assessor, $8,600; and attorney, $6,980.

Ten aldermen will be elected in the even-numbered wards, plus one in the 15th Ward, the post paying $1,200 a year. Members of the common council are elected for two years.

In addition, 10 supervisors who represent half the group from Appleton serving on the Outagamie County Board, will be up for re-election. They serve two-year terms and receive $14 per board meeting and $12 for every committee session they attend.

The non-partisan election will be April 7, 1964. Deadline for filing nomination papers, which officially designates a person a candidate, is Jan. 28, 1964 at 5 p.m.

Election rules listed by Broehm for prospective candidates:

KHS Band, Chorus Present Concert

KAUKAUNA — Students at Kaukauna High School were treated to a 30-minute program by the school's concert band and Mixed Concert Wednesday as a Thanksgiving program in the auditorium.

Climax of the affair was the presentation of "God of Our Fathers" during which the two units merged. The concert band, under the direction of Stephen Schultz was making its first formal indoor appearance, having previously performed at football games providing halftime precision drill exhibitions.

The Mixed Chorus under the direction of Robert Lamont was making its first appearance of the year.

Little Lost Girl Found Safely Helping Mother Do Shopping

NEENAH—Police Wednesday afternoon had a few anxious moments when a babysitter called at 12:35 p.m. to say two children told her one of the youngsters she was caring for had gotten into someone's car and was driven away.

A squad car and two motorcycles swung into action and began checking out the complaint.

The three-year-old girl was playing with two other neighbors in the yard at the time she got into the car.

Police found the girl about 45 minutes later. It was her mother's car and she and her mother had gone downtown to do some shopping.

Board Votes to Hire Kaukauna City Inspector

Dual Job Would Combine Plumbing And Building Duties

KAUKAUNA — The board of public works voted to recommend to the common council advertising for a combination building and plumbing inspector for the city in line with state requirements for a third class city.

If approved by the council, the matter will be referred to the finance committee to establish a salary for the position.

The board will also recommend garbage and burnable materials be kept in separate containers, not to exceed 20-gallon capacity, from non-burnable materials. Action was taken after the owner of the incinerator burning city rubbish notified the board of difficulty experienced with glass bottles in the incinerator.

Object to Bill
Board members voted to have Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon write a letter to the state assembly voicing objection to a bill which would require any municipality having public works projects which exceed $1,000 in cost advertise these projects for bidding by private industries or cost businesses.

Aldermen felt the $1,000 fee were also increased from $2,500 to $4,000 per year.

MGIC to Discontinue Commissions to Agents Of Saving, Loan Units

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Corp. will discontinue payment of commissions to Wisconsin licensed agents affiliated with savings and loan associations, president Max Karl said today.

Karl said discontinuing the commissions, effective Nov. 30, will affect 103 agents in the state. Commissions were not paid elsewhere. He said the move was one of two discussed by MGIC officials with Joseph F. McMurray, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, in Washington Nov. 15.

The other, Karl said, was ownership of MGIC stock by persons in the savings and loan business.

Atlas-Centaur Sent Into Orbit; Spurs Moon Flight Hopes

BY HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The supercharged Atlas-Centaur rocket scored its first test flight success Wednesday, hurling its five-ton second stage into orbit in a performance strengthening plans for manned and unmanned exploration of the moon and planets.

The success ended months of costly, frustrating troubles for the rocket, whose Centaur second stage has the first rocket engine in the world propelled by high energy liquid hydrogen fuel.

The launching was the second

Earlier Launching
Tuesday night an Interplanetary Monitoring Platform was launched into a wide swinging orbit to investigate solar radiation which poses a hazard to moon-bound astronauts.

IMP, which settled into a near-perfect orbit ranging from 118 to 172,234 miles high, is to determine if satellite instruments can predict solar flares, great eruptions on the sun which produce the deadly space radiation.

But the starring role in the space double-header went to the previously ill-starred Atlas-Centaur, whose success was important for these two major reasons.

Behind Schedule
Atlas-Centaur is the only large U.S. rocket with a chance of being operational in time to launch the unmanned Project Surveyor spacecraft to the moon on reconnaissance missions. This would be in advance of the Project Apollo manned lunar landing set for late in this decade.

Because of numerous problems, Atlas-Centaur is two years behind schedule, but the flight Wednesday spurred hopes it will be ready for the present surveyor target date of early 1965.

Centaur long ago was selected to pioneer liquid hydrogen technology. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has made a heavy commitment to use this frigid fuel for upper stages of big boosters for several years.

Included is the Saturn 5, the giant vehicle which will start the three-man Apollo team on lunar voyages. Hydrogen delivers 40 per cent more punch than conventional fuels like the kerosene used in the Atlas.

Vatican Council Gives Study to Anglican Church

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council was urged Wednesday to give special consideration to the 50-million-member Anglican Church in a Christian unity document. The Anglican communion includes the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States.

"The Anglican Church should be given special treatment," Bishop Bernardin Collin of Digne, France, told the 2,200 council fathers in St. Peter's Basilica.

Another French prelate, Co-adjutor Archbishop Paul Guion of Rennes, agreed and said "Anglicanism should be given special mention as distinct among churches that arose out of the Reformation."

Ready to Jail Entire Local

Judge Says Union Must Pay Fines To Pay Bond

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal judge threatened Wednesday to jail an entire 244-member union local unless it pays $41,300 in fines levied for refusing to load a Canadian grain ship or post bond equaling the amount of fines by Dec. 28.

Judge James Parsons of U.S. District Court issued the warning to members of Local 418 of the Grain Workers Union who have refused to load ships owned by Upper Lakes Shipping Ltd. of Toronto.

The issue involved stems from a labor dispute. The grain workers have acted in sympathy with the Seafarers International Union. Upper Lakes once drew its crews from SIU ranks but switched last year to the Canadian Maritime Union.

Judge Orders Fines

Judge Parsons levied the fines against the union for each day the member have refused to load Upper Lake ships in Chicago in defiance of a court order.

Judge Parsons renewed his threat to lock up the entire membership of Local 418 after Irving Friedman, union attorney, called as a witness Frank Gradon, a certified public accountant. Gradon said an audit of the local's books showed assets of only $14,472.

Surprises Not Expected in FBI Report

Probably Will Say Oswald Acted Alone in Assassination

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI report to President Johnson on the assassination of John F. Kennedy promises no great surprises.

In all likelihood, according to the best information available, it will point to Lee Harvey Oswald as the slayer.

Then the American public will have assurances from an agency with all the impressive credentials of the FBI that Oswald, acting alone and not as part of a conspiracy, fired the fatal bullets last Friday from the window of a Dallas, Tex., building.

Report Incomplete
The report is not yet complete. FBI investigators and the Justice Department are working under great pressure to lay the full, tragic story on Johnson's desk.

"We've got to build an airtight case even greater than if we were going to court," one official said.

"The evidence, of course, will never get to court. Oswald, accused by police of the Kennedy assassination, was himself slain by a Dallas night club operator as he was being transferred from one jail to another on Sunday.

X15 Flies 5 Times Speed of Sound

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—An X15 with an electronic mastermind needed for aerospace flight streaked more than five times the speed of sound Wednesday with a new hand at the controls.

It was the first flight by U.S. space agency pilot Milton O. Thompson in an X15 equipped with "black boxes" designed to control it during the difficult transition from space down into the atmosphere.

Search Abandoned for Missing Pilot of U2

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Navy abandoned Wednesday the search for the pilot of a U2 plane that crashed in the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 20, presumably on its return from a mission over Cuba.

Capt. Joe C. Hyde Jr., the pilot, was not in the cockpit when the plane's wreckage was found on the bottom of the Gulf. Divers and scores of aircraft participated in the unsuccessful hunt for him.

Today's Services to Have Somber Tone

President Kennedy's Murder Casts Gloom Over Holiday

America observes Thanksgiving Day but her heart won't be a Thanksgiving Day message to the people.

The tragic death of President John F. Kennedy was too recent and too deeply etched for a normal observance of the traditional happy time of bountiful feasts and family reunions.

The Rev. John W. Peggan, a curate at St. Francis Xavier church at Hyannis, Port, Mass., where Kennedy had a home, said only last Sunday:

"Here in America, this Thanksgiving will be different. This year, as the Pilgrims did, we will turn again to God. We have a great deal to be thankful for. The men who fought and died for us in the hot wars and in the cold war. We should be grateful for the great men God has given us."

Special Services

The usual religious services associated with the holiday—now 174 years old—took on special significance in a nation shocked both for the turkey and for the assassination of a president. Almost every church and synagogue scheduled special services.

President Johnson scheduled a nationwide television address at 6:15 p.m. EST Thursday. He planned to spend the holiday at his Washington home with his family.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said the 15-minute talk "will be a Thanksgiving Day message to the people."

Gov. Connally Relates Story of Shooting

DALLAS (AP)—Texas Gov. John Connally, wounded during the assassination of President Kennedy, said Wednesday that after being shot Kennedy "slumped over and said nothing."

"As I turned to the left, I was hit. I knew I was hit badly. I said, 'My God, they are going to kill us all.'"

"Then there was a third shot and the President was hit again. Mrs. Kennedy said 'Oh, my God. They killed my husband Jack.'"

Joy Turns to Tragedy
"In the space of a few seconds, great joy and anticipation turned to great tragedy," Connally said he did not think the assassin was after him only.

"The man did what he intended to do—he shot both of us," the governor added.

Connally said that perhaps Kennedy, through his death, was asked to do something that is hard in life, and that is "to shock and stun a nation and the people and the world to what is happening to us through this cancerous growth of extremism."

"This is the only answer I can give you on why he is gone and I am not," he added.

He said the world should avoid the type of extremism that breeds hatred.

The governor said he was not told that Kennedy was dead until Saturday, the day after the assassination.

Kidnaping Of Officer Part of Plot

BY RICHARD G. MASSOCK

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Pro-Communist terrorists kidnaped the deputy chief of the U.S. Army mission Wednesday in their relentless drive to bring down the government. Police blocked all exits from the capital and began an all-out search for the officer.

The underground struck one week after subjecting Caracas to a paralyzing, two-day reign of terror that left 24 dead and nearly 100 wounded.

At 7 a.m. four men met Lt. Col. James K. Chenault, 46, Sherman, Tex., as he left his home in the Bello Monte section and prepared to enter his car. The four overpowered the Venezuelan chauffeur and carried the uniformed officer away in a car. The car was found abandoned by police.

Two hours after the kidnaping a man telephoned the U.S. Embassy and identified himself as a member of the pro-Communist Armed Forces of National Liberation—FALN.

"We just want him for propaganda purposes. Don't worry. We are not going to harm him," he said.

Rear Adm. Luis Rojas Croce Orozco, acting defense minister, ordered special security measures for all members of foreign military missions. The United States has about 73 officers and men in Air Force, Army, Marine and Navy training missions.

The FALN raided the Army mission's headquarters earlier this year and burned the building.

President Romulo Betancourt, chief target of the underground, got the news upon returning to his office from a pontifical Mass for John F. Kennedy in Caracas Roman Catholic Cathedral. He ordered the all-out search for Chenault and the kidnapers.

In addition to killings, bombings of government installations and sabotage of U.S. oil and other installations, the FALN also engages in spectacular such as the kidnaping.

The terrorists have seized a freighter and an airliner, stolen and returned five valuable French paintings, and last August kidnaped and later released a visiting soccer star from Spain.

Only Tuesday, the FALN sent bombs disguised as Christmas packages to three major candidates for the presidency in the Dec. 1 election, three other Venezuelan political leaders, and a U.S. Embassy official. A politician opened one package but the detonation wires were loose and the bomb did not go off. Police quickly picked up the other packages.

Mayor Mitchell Plans to Seek A Fourth Term

Appleton's Chief Executive Makes Formal Statement

Mayor Clarence Mitchell will seek a fourth term.

Mitchell, the city's chief executive for the past six years, announced his plans late Wednesday upon returning from Madison.

The mayor had headed a local delegation that attended a meeting in the state capitol on Appleton's chances for obtaining a state-federal grant to prepare a $100,000 comprehensive plan for Appleton.

Mitchell, 47, said he would take out nomination papers Friday for the April 7, 1964 non-partisan, citywide election. In discussing his plans to run for reelection and stake claim to the mayor's chair for another two-year term, Mitchell issued a formal statement in which he said:

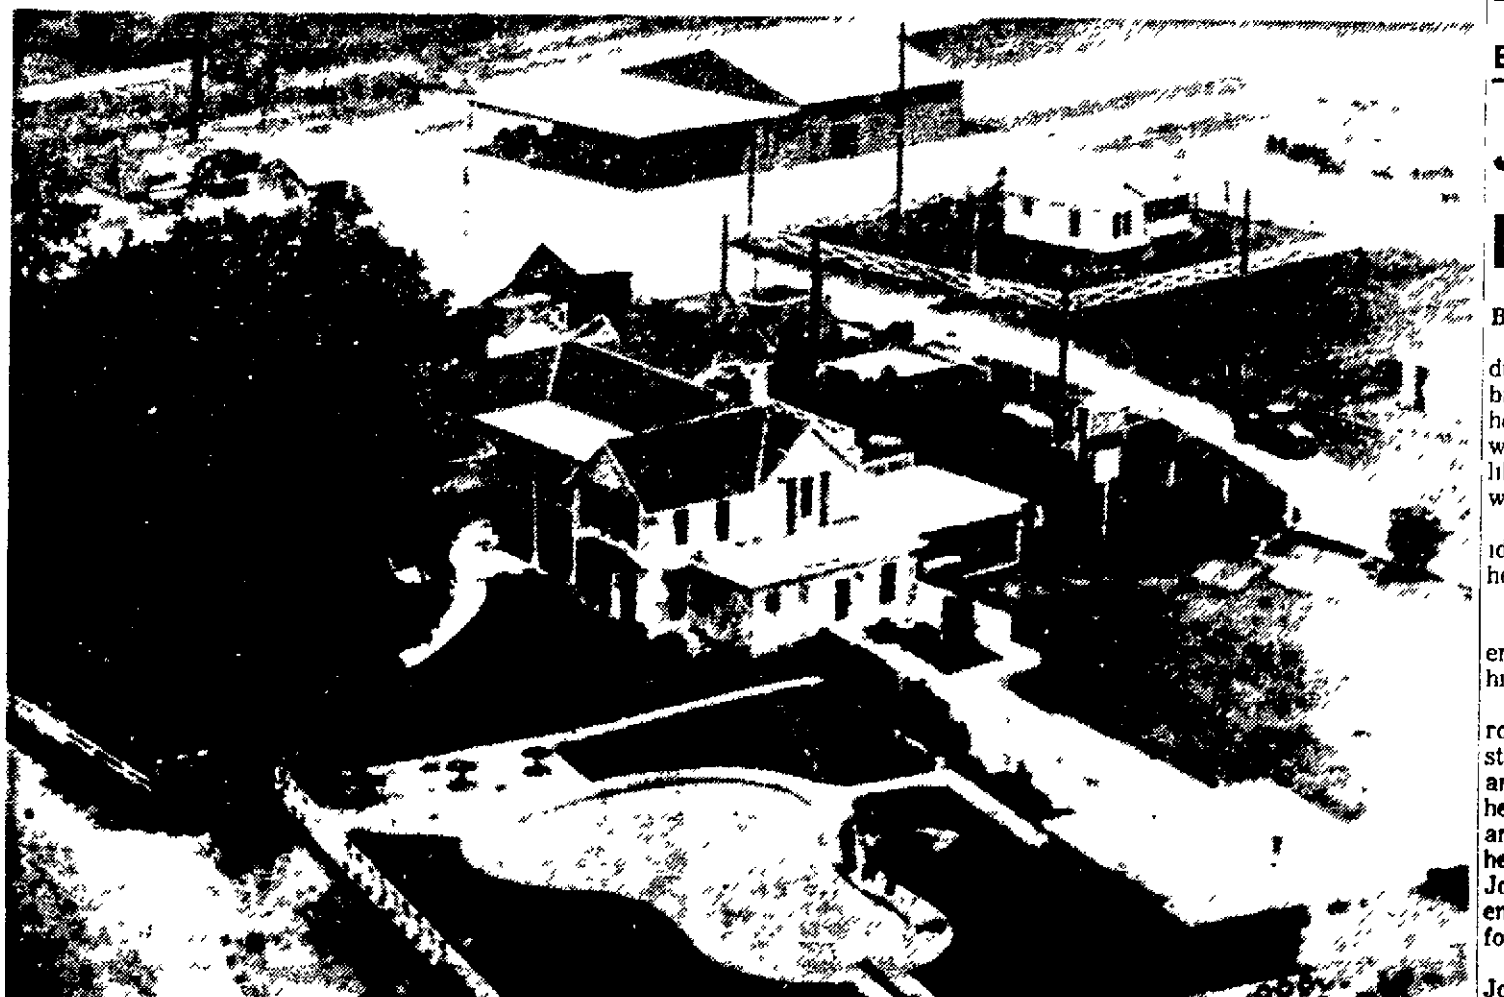

Been Gratified
"During the past several years, notably since 1959-60, I have been gratified to have been witness to Appleton's remarkable accomplishments. 'I say I'—because who wouldn't have been proud to serve as mayor of Appleton during an exciting period in the history of our city?"

Mitchell said looking back, and then projecting what the

Eloquent Appeal to Nation

Johnson Wins Congress Applause But Knows Road Ahead Is Rough

BY ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A subdued Lyndon B. Johnson came back Wednesday to his old home on Capitol Hill to plead with his friends to quit acting like congressmen and get on with their work.

"I need your help," said President Johnson. "I ask your help."

He Knows Congress
At least twice his voice wavered, and at the end he wiped his glasses.

Again and again the applause as the result of an assassin's rolled in, as he said it's time to stop talking about civil rights everyone and start passing some laws, as he bitterly denounced bigotry and the violence it produces; as he said the best memorial to John F. Kennedy would be to enact the programs he fought for.

But no one knows better than Johnson that what a president asks of Congress and what he gets can be two different things. And no one knows better than Johnson that applause doesn't necessarily reflect what the boys in the back committee room will have.

But even Johnson's enemies would have to concede that he made a gallant and eloquent try.

He knew that a president, cast into the chief executive's office as the result of an assassin's work, has the sympathy of everyone.

And so he laid it on the line, as one who has served as representative, senator and vice president in 32 years on the Hill, that it was time for a baiky, squabbling Congress to get moving again.

Perhaps the greatest change was in Johnson himself. Normally he's the nation's No. 1 backslapper, hand shaker, cheer leader and stirrer-upper. There was none of that.

The House doorkeeper, William M. (Fishbait) Miller, cried out the familiar but always stirring words "Mr. Speaker, the President of the United States!"

As always, the audience stood and applauded — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., whom many Republicans want to send to the White House in 1964; U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who made an unsuccessful race for it in 1952 and 1956; and the two Kennedy brothers, Robert F., the attorney general, and Edward M., the senator, their lives and their future so altered by that shot in Dallas, Tex., last Friday.

Speaks Clearly
But as Johnson spoke, his attitude seemed to change steadily and surely. On every issue that has divided this nation, Johnson's voice came through loud and clear and in unmistakable words.

Whether Congress will act now, as Johnson said it must, or whether it will continue to take its own good time will remain for the future.

Decorations Signal Start of Fox Cities Holiday Shopping

Parking Availability, Store Hours Outlined for Christmas

Christmas decorations will be up Friday throughout the Fox Cities signifying the opening of Christmas shopping season.

Although some bargain hunters have been crossing items off their Christmas shopping lists for several months, the traditional start of the big shopping push begins the day after Thanksgiving.

The season will carry on until regular closing hours on Dec. 24.

Stores Open at Night

Stores will be open every night, Monday through Friday, in Appleton, Menasha and Neenah until Dec. 23. Night shopping hours in Kaukauna will be Nov. 29 and Dec. 4, 6, 11, 13, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 23. All night closings will be at 9 p.m.

Downtown Appleton merchants will be aided this year by three new parking ramps in the downtown area which have furnished an additional 1,146 parking spaces.

Two are city ramps — the West Ramp at Washington and Division streets with a 250 car capacity and the East Ramp on Washington, Franklin and Morrison streets with a 430 car capacity — and the other is the new H. C. Prange Co. ramp with a capacity of 466 cars when completed.

AAL Parking Lot

In addition, the Aid Association for Lutherans has agreed to make its two parking lots available to night shoppers after 4 p.m. The lots in the blocks bordered by Superior, Franklin, Appleton and Washington streets have 200 parking stalls.

Special Yule decorations have been installed at all five shopping areas in the Twin Cities including Shore Lane, Fox Point, downtown Neenah, downtown Menasha and the Island.

WEYAUWEGA — An informational meeting on present and future needs of elementary schools not attached to a kindergarten through grade 12 district in Waupaca County will be held Dec. 11 at the Weyauwega Elementary School.

Otto Newman, county superintendent, said school boards from six rural schools and from the graded schools in Weyauwega and Fremont have been invited.

Basketball Practice Set at Manawa High

MANAWA — Little League basketball practice will be Saturday at the high school.

Boys in the 7-10 age group report at 1:15 p.m. Those 11-14 years report at 2:30 p.m.

All boys participating in Little League Basketball and attending a school in the Little Wolf District Jt. No. 7 is protected while practicing or playing basketball, according to a schedule of W.I.A.A. Insurance.

Parochial school boys participating in the program not already covered by some form of insurance, must furnish their own.

Advisor Announced For Nurses Club

CLINTONVILLE — Mrs. DuWayne Tanner, the city and school nurse, has become the advisor for the Future Nurses Club at the Senior High School. Club members decided at their last meeting to sponsor a cookie and popcorn ball sale at a date sometime before Christmas.

Homemaker Club Plans Holiday Fete

NEW LONDON — The Fifty-Fivers Homemaker Club made plans for a Christmas party at Rainbow Supper Club Dec. 12 when it met at the home of Division St.

Mrs. Antoin Sievers.

The program was presented by Mrs. Henry Hanke and Mrs. Ed Dobberstein. The next meeting will be Jan. 16 at the home of Mrs. Ronald Steingraber, 708 gram on Advent.

Speakers Earn Trophy, Top Ratings in Tournaments at Bradley and Purdue

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh State College debaters won honors at debate tournaments last weekend at Bradley and Purdue universities, according to Robert Carr, director of forensics. OSC speakers took a second place trophy and an excellent rating at the Bradley University tournament, where they won 20 matches and lost only five. Two Oshkosh debaters at the Purdue University meet placed third and fifth among 84 speakers while downing three top teams. The second-place rating at Bradley was based on total points earned by five Oshkosh State teams entered. The "championship division" duo of James J. Bello, Wisconsin, and garbage disposal was listed in 1963 as dumping was done with in the village. This adds $1.42 to the total.

Highway costs in 1963 were listed at $81,300 compared to $98,700 in 1964, but the 1964 budget includes a $21,000 appropriation for an addition to the garage, not included in 1963. Recreation in 1964 will cost $5,500 compared to $5,300 in 1963. Transportation charges in 1963 were $2,474 where none are listed in 1964.

Indebtedness payments in 1963 amounted to $33,570 compared to $32,620 in 1964. State taxes increased from $2,721 to $3,176 in 1964, county taxes increased from $47,577 to $54,739 in 1964. In 1963 the village paid $39,781 to other districts for school taxes whereas none will be paid in 1964.

Miscellaneous expenses in 1965 amounted to $10,018 compared to $9,996 in 1964. This includes social security costs, Wisconsin retirement payments, advertising, engineering fees and tree-planting programs.

Other Receipts

Receipts anticipated other than tax levy in 1964 show state income taxes decreased from income taxes decreased from $54,000 to $37,000; utility tax increased from $22,000 to $22,500; telephone tax increased from $1,100 to $1,300; fire insurance refund steady at $300; special assessments decreased from $22,700 to $11,100; licenses and permits up from $600 to $900; state and county aids down from $13,381 to $12,400 and miscellaneous receipts up from $7,500 to $45,700.

The 1964 miscellaneous budget includes receipt of $21,000 from sale of notes, a $16,000 sur-matches and lost only five. Two Oshkosh debaters at the Purdue University meet placed third and fifth among 84 speakers while downing three top teams.

The second-place rating at Bradley was based on total points earned by five Oshkosh State teams entered. The "championship division" duo of James La Belle, Winnecone, and Jerry Whitburn, Merrill, won three and lost two for an "excellent rating."

In "varsity" competition, Gwen Martens, Sheboygan, and Donna Witkowski, Waupun, earned a superior rating with a 4-1 record. Rochelle Roach, Florence, and Mar Koplitz, Oshkosh, also had a superior rating with a 5-0 record.

In novice competition, Marcia Luebcke, Rhineland, and George Schriver, Sheboygan, earned a superior rating with a 5-0 record, while Tim Meyer, Sheboygan, and Betty Jenneman, Chippewa Falls, had a 3-2 record for an excellent rating.

Individual ratings at Bradley went to Eliud Wahome, Africa, with an excellent in oratory, and to V. Alan Johnson, Oshkosh, with an excellent in discussion.

At Purdue, Judith Cerutti, Hartford, rated third and her partner, Mary Jo Perk, Dubuque, Iowa, was fifth among the 84 speakers. The duo won debates from Dartmouth, Southern Illinois and the University of Missouri. They lost to Butler and Wooster.

Neenah Man Pleads Guilty of Tippy Driving

NEENAH—George W. Kotler, 59, 609 Higgins Ave., Neenah, was fined $125 and costs or 30 days in the Winnebago County Jail Wednesday after pleading guilty of driving while intoxicated Sunday in the 400 block of Sherry St. and causing an accident.

The car Kofler was driving struck a power pole at 2:50 p.m. Sunday. Kofler had posted a $150 bond after being arrested by Neenah police.

creases in the credit refund over those announced at this time a year ago.

The changes in the actual all locations point out the danger when some municipalities lean too heavily on the credit refund estimates when considering budgets and rates.

By state law, the refund is applied directly to the tax bill of the property owner, rather than going into the general fund of municipalities. The purpose of the rebate is to provide direct tax relief.

Personal property tax refund allocations, covering merchants and manufacturers stock, will be announced later by the tax department.

Neenah Allocation

Broehm said he double-checked the formula for arriving at the tax rate credits and indicated they were correct.

Elsewhere in the Fox Cities region, Neenah will receive a $206,963 sales tax rebate to be applied against the 1964 property tax, boosting the rate discount from $1.77 to $1.79 per $1,000 assessed valuation. Neenah had estimated a $193,336 allo-

Chilton will receive $25,275 compared to $25,867 last year, dropping the credit refund from $3.74 to $3.52.

New London Share
New London's state sales tax credit amounted to a total of $58,467 or $49,563 in the Wau-paca County portion of the city.

and $8,904 for the Outagamie County ward.

Last year Waupaca County's share totaled $47,013 and Outagamie $7,601.

The rebate will be $5.80 per $1,000 for Waupaca compared with $5.70 last year and $3.87 in Outagamie County with $3.44 last year.

The sum amounts to about a 10 per cent refund on the tax levy. Kaukauna's rebate totaled $68,016, an increase over the 1963 figure of $58,174. The credit refund will be $2.70 on a gross rate of $49 per $1,000 assessed valuation, making a $46.30 net rate.

Big Surprise
Kimberly got the biggest surprise of all with its allocation amounting to $31,109, almost triple that of 1963, resulting in a credit refund on the rate of $2.52. The tentative budget calls for a gross $58 rate. This year the refund was $1, applied to a $54.50 gross rate.

The rebate allocation for Combined Locks exceeded expectation, amounting to $31,251 compared to $21,645 in 1963. It will mean a $2.75 credit refund compared to the previous $2.07. The tentative gross budget calls for a rate of 31.50.

While Little Chute's rebate will amount to $17,208 as compared to $16,370 this year, the tax credit will be $2.50 — down 18 cents. This is caused by a 10 percent increase in the village valuation. The refund will be used to reduce the $55.75 gross tax rate of district No. 1 and $49.65 rate of district No. 2.

See Many Benefits In Doing Christmas Shopping Early

Layaway Aids Those Who Do Wish to Keep Gifts in Storage

"Pay Your Way — With Lay-fore you take delivery, away" and "Give Your Nerves a Break" — These slogans are ing early shopping are the more reasons to get Christmas shop-complete selections and, in varying under control as early as ious instances, the better buy. possible. "Shop early" is a familiar likely to prompt shoppers to song, but it does have some spread out their gift - seeking practical applications. Layaway both in time spent in stores and buying, for example, offers payments made on purchases. some strong advantages over it also may point up the need other ways of buying. There's for financial aid in order to han- the matter of storage if a pur- die a particular purchase. Most or she is one of those privileged chase involves a bulky gift or banks and similar organizations to then relax and enjoy the holi- day spirit — both as an observer i'em. And the avoiding of post-needs and convenience of the and as a person who can turn to the more serious matter of considering what Christmas really is, what it really means. bought — at your own pace — be- outright purchases — also encourages early wrapping and labeling. It's also suggested Christmas shoppers, particularly early shoppers, have a special place at home in mind for storing gifts as they are wrapped. Christmas gift lists, a "must" If you want to make the most of shopping time, also benefit from earlier starts. An early list shows up the gaps of information — Uncle George's socks size, Aunt Mary's color preferences — so the shopper can still find out such things in plenty of time. An unexpected shortage of a popular gift item is another part of the late - shopping hardships which the "early bird" avoids. Store buyers apply their experience, but they don't have crystal balls to guide them in what quantities to order. So the shopper who puts off a purchase until the "rush" is on runs a greater risk of disappointment. The final advantage of early shopping comes to the person who is "all done shopping" well in advance of the big day. He or she is one of those privileged to then relax and enjoy the holi- day spirit — both as an observer and as a person who can turn to the more serious matter of considering what Christmas really is, what it really means.

3 Honor Series
In Chilton Loop

CHILTON — Three honor scores were posted by bowlers in the Women's Major League Monday at Pla-Mor Lanes. Buelah Hawig's 537 series, which included a 210 game, for Norseman topped individual action. Other honor scores were a 514 by Theresa Rozman for State Bank of a 504 by Mary Bloomer for Manorette. Lucy Brandt's 215 for Hedrich Construction was the circuit's top single. Team honors went to State Bank and Hedrich Construction for a 2,230 series and a 793 game, respectively.

Skating Club Maps Plans For Season

Waupaca Group to Be Host for State Championship

WAUPACA — The Waupaca Speed Skating Club made plans for the season at a recent meeting at the Comet Cove Youth center.

Tom Henriksen, president, appointed a committee to make plans for the annual winter carnival. The committee consists of Karen and Arlys Jenkins, Kristine Henriksen and Connie Petersen. The committee chairman will attend the special council meeting Monday night to discuss plans for the carnival.

The highlight of the season will be sponsorship of the Wisconsin Skating Association's out-of-door championship meet Jan. 12 7:30 p.m. Friday with a potluck on Shadow Lake.

The club plans to take part in the following meets: Dec. 15, the Indianhead Skating Championship at Superior; Dec. 29, Madison Open; Jan. 4, Kiwanis Outdoor, Elm Grove; Silver Skates, Jan. 5, West Allis; Jan. 18 and 19, Great Lake Open, West Allis; Jan. 25 and 26, National Outdoor Championship, St. Paul, Minn.; Jan. 26, Whitefish Bay meet, Mequon; Feb. 1 and 2, Midwest Open, Oconomowoc; Feb. 9, Waukesha Winged Blades, and Feb. 23, Superior Open.

The club also will take part in the U.S. Open, which has not officially been scheduled as yet.

In addition to the W.S.A. sanctioned meets, club members will take part in the city and county championship meets during the Christmas vacation. The meets also are open to other ice skating enthusiasts. Membership in the club is not necessary to compete in the city and county championships.

90th Anniversary

GREENVILLE — The South Greenville Grange will have its 90th anniversary celebration and all granger birthday party at door championship meet Jan. 12 7:30 p.m. Friday with a potluck supper.

Never Refer to Scotsman's Kilt As Skirt; Could be Fatal Remark

WASHINGTON—When brith-er Scots forgather, they wear nothing short o' the kilted tartan and take no teasing about it.

Scotsmen and their kinsmen throughout the world have an almost mystical pride in the national costume, the National Geographic Society says. Among civilians, the kilt is usually reserved for festivities such as St. Andrew's Day on Nov. 30. But the conviction remains that there is not a more practical, comfortable garb for any activity or land sport—short of skiing.

Recently in Baltimore, a kilted Scotsman of the touring Black Watch Royal Highland Regiment was heckled on the street. The big Scot grasped his tormentor, lifted the Marylander above his head as one would hoist a barbell, then lowered him gently to the sidewalk.

American submariners stationed at Holy Loch, Scotland, stand officially advised never to call the kilt a skirt. The edict appeared after a sailor was "forcibly corrected" by a Scotsman in public.

Provinces Adopt Tartan

Such is a Scotsman's pride in the kilted tartan that it has infected peoples everywhere. A Tartans Information Center was opened at Stirling, Scotland, in 1963 to handle inquiries.

In recent years, several Canadian provinces have acquired their own authentic tartans. Because woolen plaid does not become tartan without official approval, the provincial officials had to win the necessary nod from the Court of the Lord Lyon, Her Majesty's Register House in Edinburgh.

In Other Nations, Too

In Pakistan, army pipers and drummers wear tartans from nearly every section of Scotland along with turbans from every part of Pakistan. A Singapore pipe band of Malay, Indian, and Chinese dock workers had a tartan specially designed for its members. Piping bands of ebony Gaels resplendent in waggling tartans have welcomed visitors to Kenya.

In London, however, gentlemen paled beneath their bowlers in 1962 when their fashion arbiter, the editor of Tailor and Cutter, urged Britons to adopt the kilt as a national costume to preserve a visible identity should the nation be merged with those of the European Common Market.

The kilt, he said, "is the most elegant, the most esthetic, and most masculine form of men's clothing that the mind of man has ever devised."

Women have no business in the kilt—not even Highland dancers. They are supposed to wear tartan skirts, white blouses, and pretty ribbons in their hair. A lady in kilt is as incongruous as an American Indian woman in a war bonnet. The kilt is designed for the male physique, and only the male's strong stride snaps the pleats properly from side to side.

Better than Trousers

The kilt's origin is lost in the mists of antiquity, but it evolved out of sheer practicality. A kilted, bare-legged Scot warrior could run howling through wet heather faster than a foe in rain-sogged pants.

The early Highlander wore a loose tartan garment called the breacan-feile. He spread a 14-foot length of his clan's tartan on the ground and tucked it into pleats; then he lay down upon it and belted it around himself, pinning the upper part at the left shoulder.

At night it served him as a blanket or tent.

Today's standard feile beag, or little skirt, extends only from the waist to the middle of the kneecap. The shoulder drape is pinned on separately and called the plaid.

Highland dress was banned from 1745 until 1782, following Scotland's defeat in rebellion. To thousands of Scots who fled to America and to many more at home, the kilt became a symbol of Scotland's fierce nationality and bravery.

Mimic Meader Will Quit Spoofings

NEW YORK (AP) — Vaughn Meader, who rose to fame with his recordings spoofing Kennedy and his family, says he never expects to do the imitation again.

Meader said through his manager that in respect for the late President, he has requested postponement of two night club appearances scheduled for later this month and next.

Basic Products Corp. Earnings Increased

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 28 per cent sales gain and improved earnings for the first quarter of the current fiscal year were announced today by Basic Products Corp. Sales for the diversified company were $16,619,594 for the three months ended Oct. 31, compared with $13,006,286 for the same period a year ago. Earnings were $33,108, or 23 cents a common share, compared with $301,458, or 20 cents a share, in the first quarter last year.

AMC Reports Sales Up in 10-Day Period

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors Corp. announced Tuesday that sales of Rambler automobiles rose to 13,111 in the second 10-day period in November, topping the previous record for the period set last year when deliveries totaled 13,010. The total also was 41 per cent higher than the 9,287 Ramblers sold in the first 10 days of November.

Bed-Ridden Children With Flu Can Use Time Making Christmas Bows

Two things always happen in wrapping. 2. One of the children books, coloring or watching television while ill, a child can be given an enjoyable and creative bow. You'll be surprised how readily the unwillingly confined or her how to make beautiful fluffy bows will be fun... and and enjoys the pretty results.

will help you when Christmas comes. Like many other simple crafts projects, this one can be learned quickly and easily—even by seven year olds. Child-Tested The child - tested instructions are simple to follow. Demonstrate them once and then supervise the making of one big bow. You'll be surprised how readily the unwillingly confined or her how to make beautiful fluffy bows will be fun... and and enjoys the pretty results.

Appleton Post-Crescent Thursday, Nov. 28, 1963 cardboard circle. Continue procedure until there is a full circle of ribbon loops radiating out from cardboard. 4. To make the second level, paste a ribbon loop over each space between ribbon loops on the first level. A full bow is achieved by adding several levels, in smaller and smaller circles, toward the cardboard's center. 1. Cut six-inch lengths of ribbon in the colors and styles you and your youngster prefer. As a base for the bow, cut off the round end piece from the ribbon reel. 2. Fold one length of ribbon in half. Paste the tips together to form a loop. (To get just the right amount of white paste, make a cardboard spreader about the width of a pencil.) 3. Start first level of bow by pasting loops around rim of center.

Eight Presidents Died In Office; Four Killed

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the eight who died in notes on "the world's toughest job," the presidency of the United States.

Despite the awful pressures of date was John Adams, various-the post, 27 of the 34 men who served as president before Lyndon B. Johnson lived to be over 60—and three are still alive.

90 years and 295 days and died March 4, 1841. He caught cold on the same 4th of July as did Thomas Jefferson, who was 83.

Oldest to Die
The oldest president to die in office, William Henry Harrison, 68, "Old Tippecanoe," succumbed to pneumonia exactly a month after he took office on to be 71. Tyler had two wives.

He had 15 children, the largest number of any president. Seven of the children were born during the 16 years he survived after leaving the White House.

Natural Causes
Of the three presidents besides William Henry Harrison who died of natural causes while in office, only one, Warren G. Harding, 57, was under 60. Zachary Taylor was 65, Franklin D. Roosevelt, 63.

Past Presidents
Sixteen past presidents, including the three now living, survived to be 70 or over. Five made it to 80 or more, among them Herbert Hoover. At 46, John F. Kennedy, the youngest man ever elected

Reynolds Ponders Call Of State Legislature For Highway Program

BY HARVEY BREUSCHER
MADISON (AP) — Gov. John W. Reynolds weighed the advisability today of calling a special session of the Legislature to press for adoption of an accelerated highway construction program.

The Democratic governor reportedly had been inclined to summon back the Republican-controlled Legislature after it concluded a fall session Thursday without acting on highway legislation he has proposed.

State Issue
Friday's assassination of President John F. Kennedy erased the possibility of an immediate decision on the state issue raised by Reynolds' recommendation that borrowed funds should finance accelerated road construction.

Reynolds has asked his office staff to studiously avoid any political entanglements during the 30-day period of mourning he has declared as Wisconsin's tribute to the fallen president.

Upon his return from Washington Tuesday, Reynolds made a close review of his appointment calendar for the period ending Dec. 22.

He struck all engagements he judged political.

Plans for a special legislative session before the start of next year were not completely abandoned, however, an informed source said.

The source said that since Congress has remained in session, it would not be "unthinkable" for Wisconsin's Legislature to resume business.

And the governor was quoted as saying an accelerated highway construction bill could be passed without politics coloring the arguments.

The Legislature is not scheduled to reconvene until April 13.

Appleton Mayor Says He Will Seek 4th Term future holds for the community. "I would be willing to speculate this decade will far outstrip the previous 10 years of fantastic growth and development."

"From a few parking lots to multi-level ramps to serve a metropolitan shopping area, modern streets, improved business and industrial climate, a contented population... a spiritually sound city — all rank on the list of Appleton accomplishments," Mitchell cited.

At the Threshold
He said Appleton has left the realm of the small community, and while not yet a metropolis in itself, he thought the community was at the threshold. "We must now look toward the future to bridge that gap," Mitchell said.

"I feel a sound, smooth-operating city government is of utmost assistance to continuation of the 'Appleton Plan' which has made our city the envy of all Wisconsin," Mitchell continued.

"I would like to think that however small, I have made a contribution of tangible worth to the progress of our community," he added. Mitchell said he has weighed heavily the responsibility of the future role of the office of mayor of Appleton, which he indicated, will be of increasing importance as the city continues toward its ultimate development.

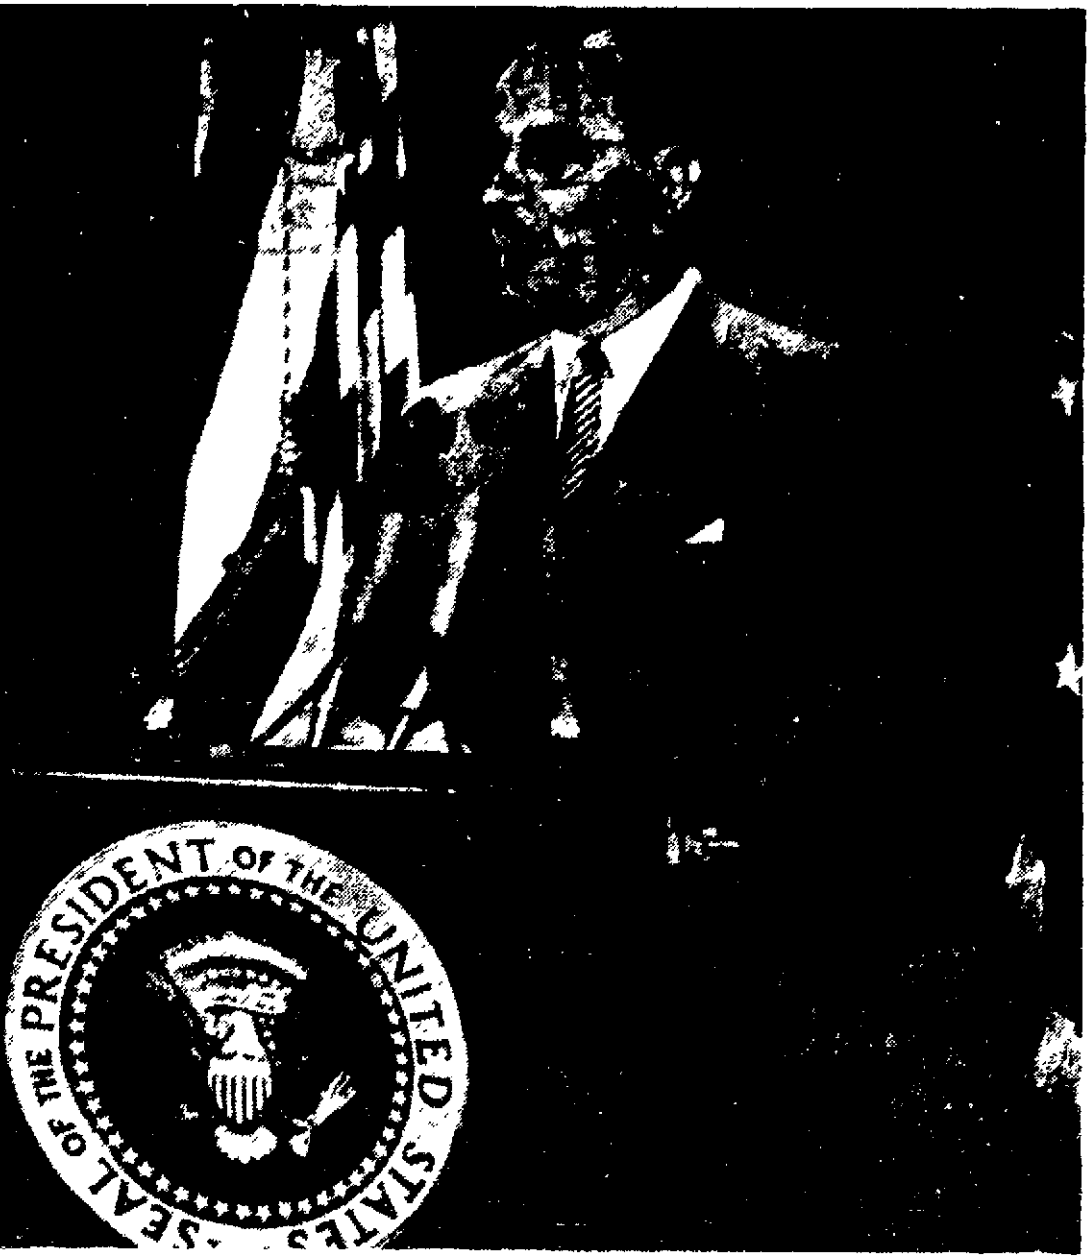

Heard Rumors
Mitchell said it had been called to his attention some time ago that rumors were circulating in the community alleging he would not seek another term "for this vital office." Mitchell said he heard of the rumors long before he had contemplated a decision himself on whether to seek re-election.

"In this coming exciting era, I feel confident I can continue to serve our city, and meet the demands I know will occur as a result of our continuing progress," Mitchell declared.

"Therefore, I have taken this opportunity to announce my intention to seek another term as mayor and humbly seek citizen support and a vote of confidence for the future."

Mitchell said if anyone had questions on his views or considered programs for the City of Appleton, "my office is open now as it has been in the past."

Mitchell was born in the Town of Kaukauna, but has lived in Appleton since childhood, except for a year in the army during

Thompson Gives Reasons Zaborski Board Post Legal

MADISON (AP) — Atty. Gen. George Thompson detailed his reasons Wednesday for holding that Sen. Richard Zaborski, D-Milwaukee, is not barred by the state Constitution from acting as a Public Service Commissioner.

Thompson told the State Senate in an oral opinion that Zaborski, the Senate's minority floorleader, was constitutionally qualified for the post to which he has been appointed by Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds.

Senate Recused
The Republican-controlled Senate recused, however, without acting on confirmation of the Zaborski appointment.

In his written opinion, Thompson said Zaborski could serve as one of the commission's three members if he accepts a salary of $14,000 a year instead of $15,000.

Higher Pay
The higher pay was established under terms of a bill passed by the Legislature in August. Republicans challenged the Zaborski appointment because the senator had voted for the increased salary for commissioners and other state officials.

The attorney general held that the legislation for which Zaborski voted did not create a new position so he would not be barred from accepting the job on that point. Thompson did say, however, that the senator would be "precluded from accepting the salary increase."

Treaty Extended
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia Wednesday extended a 20-year friendship treaty. The news agency, Tass, said Premier Khrushchev, President Leonid Brezhnev, Czechoslovak President Antonin Novotny and Premier Josef Lenart signed the document in Kremlin ceremonies.

Natural Gas Firm Will Make Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Commission approved Wednesday settlement of two rate cases under which Northern Natural Gas Co., Omaha, Neb., will refund about $10.4 million to more than 50 wholesale customers in six midwestern states, including Wisconsin.

The refunds, which include interest, are to cover sales made by Northern, between Aug. 27, 1957 and Dec. 27, 1959, when the higher rates were in effect subject to refund. They are to be completed within 20 days.

Northern's utility customers serve nearly 700 communities in Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, and Wisconsin.

day. Thus his story and motives remain untold. He maintained he had shot no one.

Retraced Route
During a re-enactment of the crime, a car, similar to the one in which President Kennedy rode last Friday, drove over the same route, past the Texas school book depository building.

A man and a woman were seated in the back seat and two men were in the front seat, a policeman said. Agents stood at the sixth floor window from which the shots were fired.

No gun was used, but agents were understood to have taken photographs. The actual re-enactment lasted only a few minutes.

FBI Studies Clues
A task force of about 50 FBI agents working 14-hour shifts continued to sift and probe the clues. All evidence was turned over to the FBI by the police department at Dallas Tuesday.

Investigative bodies probing Kennedy's assassination are planned on local, state and congressional levels.

Ruby, who killed Oswald with the nation's television viewers watching, remained in county jail, charged with murder with malice — for which the maximum penalty is death.

If authorities have found any ties between Ruby and Oswald they did not disclose them.

Gov. John Connally, riding with Kennedy and badly wounded, continued to improve. One bullet caused chest, wrist and thigh wounds in Connally.

says in the eloquence for which Kennedy was famous:

"On that day let us gather in sanctuaries dedicated to worship and in homes blessed by family affection to express our gratitude for the glorious gifts of God, and let us earnestly and humbly pray that He will continue to guide and sustain us in the great unfinished tasks of achieving peace, justice and understanding among all men and all nations and of ending misery and suffering wherever they exist."

A Kennedy family gathering became assured when Mrs. Kennedy announced plans to fly to Hyannis Port to keep alive a family tradition for her children.

Kennedy Home Filled
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, the slain president's parents, had been comparatively alone with their grief at their Cape Cod, Mass., home, but the seashore residence filled fast as the holiday neared.

The widow and her children, Caroline and John F. Jr., were to stay in their own home in the so-called Kennedy compound and after the holiday will return to the White House for several days.

Caroline marked her 6th birthday Wednesday. John was 3 Monday, the day his father was buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

President and Mrs. Johnson arranged a family dinner in their Washington home, the Elms, which they will continue to occupy until Mrs. Kennedy has time to pack up personal belongings and make way for the new First Family.

ROME (AP) — B. R. Sen of India was re-elected Wednesday for another four years as director general of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization. The organization's biennial conference voted 79-4 with seven abstentions to keep Sen in office.

The Truck Belongs to an Alabama firm but the workmen putting the finishing touches to a refrigerated body installation are just part of the busy crew at the Marion Body Works operated by the Milbauer family.

Marion Truck Body Firm Is Family Teamwork Enterprise

Three Milbauers, Father and Twin Sons, Are Designers, Engineers, Work Executives

BY DAVE DUFFEY
MARION — Three's not a crowd at the Marion Body Works. Many small town industries are family run and none is more tightly held in a family than this manufacturing firm managed by a father and his twin sons.

Back in January 1907, Ed Milbauer, then a stripling of 18, bought a blacksmith shop from his father, Lawrence Now 74. Milbauer still puts in a full day's work according to the standards of anyone but a blacksmith, although most of the management of the custom truck body manufacturing plant is handled by his twin sons, John and Jim.

The Milbauer twins started taking an active part in production and management about 1945 when they returned from military service and the company had 13 employees building milk-truck bodies. Today, Marion Body Works is this Waupaca county city's largest employer, with about 100 persons on the payroll. The plant turns out 100 to 150 custom units per month in varied shapes and forms for customers all over Wisconsin and as far away as Colorado, New York, Florida and Texas.

The Old Shop
"When I started out in 1907, I never thought it would develop into this," Ed Milbauer remarked as he looked over the shop. The old blacksmithing there and some materials are stored there. There is nothing fancy about the physical plant or its owners. It is a practical place and they are practical men. Asked what they build specifically, Jim Milbauer answered, "anything that will sell."

There are no big signs advertising the plant anywhere around Marion or the plant itself. "Why bother with a sign?" John Milbauer asks. "Anybody in town can tell a customer where we are." But with only one salesman on the road and an advertising budget of less than under $250 a year, the plant is a day-by-day host to dozens of trucks bearing license plates from far away places, driven in to have a custom made body fitted to the chassis. For if there's nothing fancy about the plant and its people, there is about the product.

Different Designs
Truck bodies are not made out of a single mold. Almost every customer has some different idea about what he wants or needs. "If they aren't sure themselves, we can design one for them," Jim Milbauer said. Although none of the Milbauers has had any formal training in engineering or design, what they make not only works but looks good. "We had an engineer once," one of the twins remarked. "But it cost us more to go around straightening stuff out so it would work than he was worth."

Included in the repertoire of this manufacturing concern are such things as dump bodies, horse trailers, refrigerated truck bodies, beer vans and the old stand-by—the milk-truck bodies. The company does its own refrigeration work. Vehicles are driven in to be fitted with bodies, nothing is shipped. "Back when we got started, we built only milk truck bodies. With 13 employees, we turned out about 52 units a month, which is pretty darn good production," Jim Milbauer said. "But as we branched out, production got more complicated. Ten years ago we wouldn't have believed that a company would pay $2,400 to $5,000 for a body. But they do now."

Repair Work
The firm also does body repair work and the product they turn out is durable. "A customer can figure one of our bodies will outlast about three of anyone but a blacksmith, at truck chassis," Jim Milbauer said.

Newest venture for the firm is the manufacture of a truck-mounted street cleaner for a Janesville firm. This unit, with a rotary broom operating counter-clockwise to loosen dirt, sucks up debris and dirt and deposits it into the attached truck body. It's a one-man operation.

To house this new facet of manufacturing and a new paint shop, construction of a 60 by 50 foot addition to the plant was conducted recently.

Close family ties in the business don't stop with the 42-year-old twins, who were born on their father's birthday, Sept. 13. Jim's wife, Janet, keeps the company books, and John's wife, Alva, also lends a hand with the paperwork. John and Alva have three children, Tom, 18, Joanne, 21 and Susan, 15. The twins also have two sons, Jim and Janet have a son, Jerome, 17. The twins also have two daughters, Bernice who lives in Westfield and Verna, living in Janesville.

Blacksmithing Business
In a small town, through the 1930's, blacksmithing was still a good business for a strong man willing to work hard. Marion had several smithies. But the Marion Body Works or one of its owners, has stopped on Main street in Marion and asked, "Where can I find Milbauer to make bob-sleds, saw rigs and repair wagons. This slacked off during the war and veteran Milbauer quit full time blacksmithing in 1942. He had already begun truck body manufacturing in a small way in a building at the present site in 1935.

With the demand for equipment following World War II and the return of his sons, Jim, that's how Milbauers run their business with three years in the coast business.

Author Describes Surrender at Yorktown

"Beat the Last Drum," the story of the siege of Yorktown and the surrender of Cornwallis in 1781, by Thomas J. Fleming, Chesapeake, there to fortify his position while awaiting help from the British, which never came. In August Washington, giving up a dream of retaking New York, moved into Virginia with an army of 19,000 men. The British, under the inept Admiral de Grasse, actually arrived and, to the surprise of all concerned, defeated a larger English fleet under the even more inept Admiral Graves. The British, sending it limping back to New York, were trapped in Yorktown. The Americans attacked on Oct. 9. On the 17th, his fortifications in ruins under a ferocious bombardment, Cornwallis capitulated, and on the 19th, he marched out of Yorktown, bands playing and his troops in full regalia. The finest army Great Britain had in America was gone.

College Narcotics Case In Massachusetts Continued to June
WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — The case of six Brandeis University students, arrested in a narcotics raid near the campus was continued today until next June 3. District Court Judge Paul K. Connolly said he will entertain a motion for dismissal of the charges in June if the five youths and a coed "stay out of trouble until then." The group includes Richard Larman, 18, of Milwaukee.

The judge continued the $500 bail against each of the six charged with possession of narcotics.

Goldwater Has Answer for Gov. Reynolds

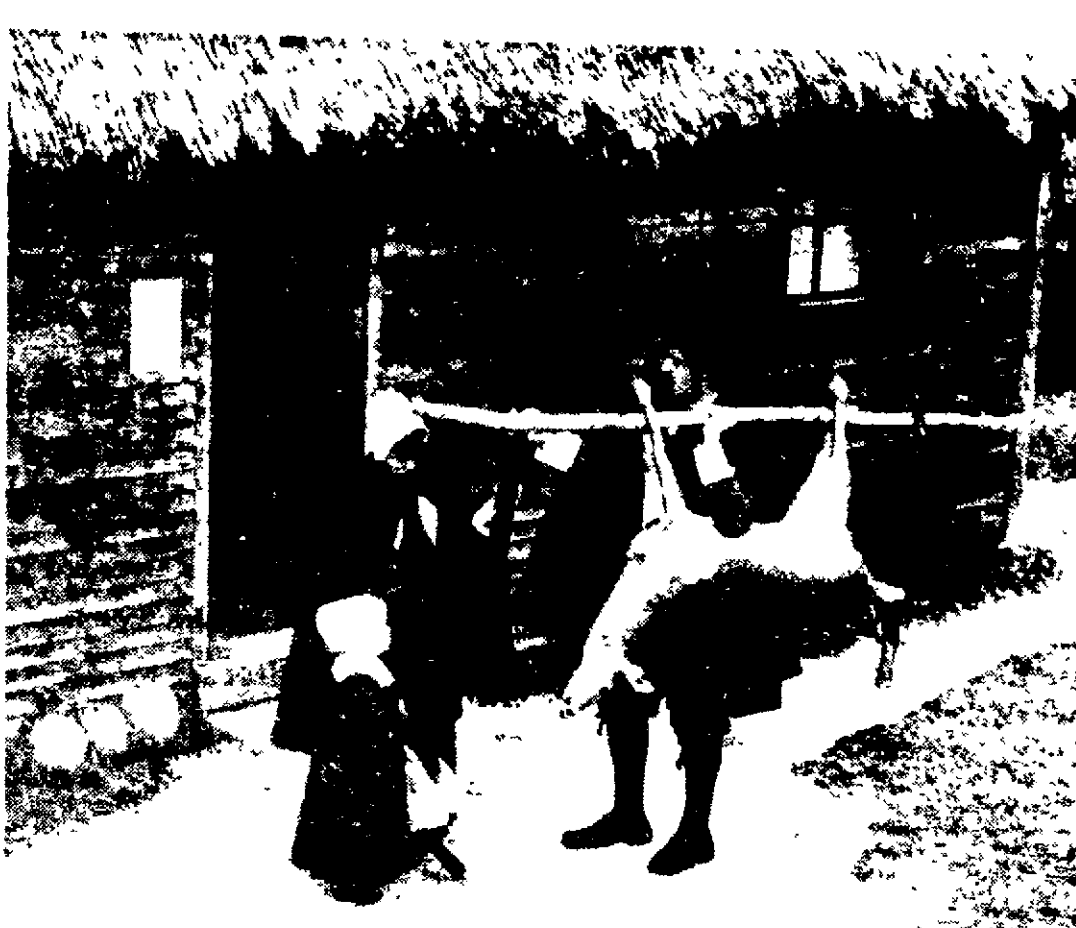

Gives No Hint as To Intentions About State's Primary

MADISON (AP)— Sen Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has responded to a request from Gov. John W. Reynolds that he enter Wisconsin's presidential preference primary April 7. But the reply gives no hint of the senator's intentions.

"I can assure you that if the occasion should arise for my considering the possibility of entering that primary, your suggestions will be most helpful," Goldwater told Reynolds in a letter dated Nov. 19.

Three weeks ago, Wisconsin's Democratic governor wrote Goldwater and four other Republicans mentioned as possible candidates for the GOP nomination for president asking them to enter the primary. In addition to Goldwater, the list included former Vice President Richard Nixon, and Govs. George Romney of Michigan, Nelson Rockefeller of New York, and William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Kennedy Offered House Of the Averell Harrimans

BY FRANCES LEWINE WASHINGTON (AP)— Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, who will fly to Hyannis Port, Mass., Thursday for a sad family Thanksgiving Day reunion, is planning to move into the home of Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman upon her return.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the Harrimans had offered use of the recently remodeled three-story brick residence to Mrs. Kennedy and her two children. John Jr., 3, and Caroline, 6. She accepted and plans to make the move late next week.

Located at 3038 N. St. NW, it is only about a block from the home of Mrs. Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss. The Harrimans purchased the home last May from Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania who lived there while a congress-to the White House. They sold it to an attorney Perry Ausbrook, reportedly for a little more than $100,000. The Harrimans, Salinger said, will move to a hotel. He said the Secret Service would continue to guard Mrs. Kennedy and the children for an indefinite period after she makes the move. Salinger said that at her request the public rooms of the White House will be opened again for public tours this Friday — one week after an assassin's rifle shot killed President Kennedy in Dallas, Tex. It was learned that Mrs. Kennedy made two after dark visits to her husband's grave in Arlington National Cemetery Tuesday night. She was there about 7 p.m. with Caroline, and returned again about midnight with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the late president's brother.

Jack Metzler, cemetery superintendent, disclosed both of Tuesday's visits — Mrs. Kennedy's third and fourth to the grave. She made a fifth visit to the site late Wednesday.

Nelson Wants Congress to 'Act at Once'

WASHINGTON (AP)— Wisconsin's junior Democratic Senator, Gaylord Nelson, differed with the Senate's leadership Wednesday and said the Congress ought to "act at once on the crucial and urgent matters which have been studied and debated so long already."

President Lyndon B. Johnson, in addressing a joint session, apparently bowed to congressional reluctance to act this year on tax and civil rights measures, by asking only "early action."

But Sen. Nelson in a statement, said "There is no reason why the Congress cannot take significant action toward carrying out President Kennedy's major goals before Christmas, and thereby give the new President a major assist in the crushing responsibilities which now face him."

"The America system, humiliated by the events in Dallas, is now on trial before the world. If we really believe in that system, we should show the world how well it can work."

Calumet Deer Hunters Enjoying Record Year

652 Animals Registered at Stations
In Chilton, Hilbert, Wardens Report

CHILTON — Deer hunters in Wisconsin which was open for Calumet County are enjoying the harvest of deer of any sex record shattering success this during the first two days of the regular nine-day season.

During the first two days of the 1963 hunting season, a total of 652 animals were registered at the three county check stations, according to Rod Bahr, area game manager. Of that amount 294 were bucks and 358 were does.

Not all of the deer registered in the county are killed here, but a good percentage of them are to be included in the county deer harvest. Deer must be registered in the county where they were killed or an adjoining county. This means some of the deer registered at the Calumet stations have been killed in neighboring counties and that some of the deer killed in Calumet have been registered elsewhere. The actual deer harvest figures for 1963 will not be known until some weeks after the season has ended.

Record Kill
The figures are certain to indicate a record kill in the county. Last year a total of 155 bucks were slain in the county during the entire season, according to Bahr.

The sharp increase can be attributed to three factors—a soaring deer population, a sharp increase in the hunting pressure and the two-day any-deer season in the county. Calumet County was one of areas in east-central

City Disagrees With Bureau On Need for Extinguishers

The Fire Insurance Rating Bureau has recommended additional fire extinguishers be stationed in municipal buildings and parking ramps. The number of extinguishers needed was not disclosed.

Fire Chief Roland Kuehn submitted the recommendations to the common council's public safety committee Monday night and the group took exception to them.

The bureau has said the city

Coin Laundry Operators to Fight Sales Tax

A united effort to battle the 3 per cent state sales tax recently levied on gross income from coin-operated laundries and dry cleaners will highlight discussions at a meeting in Northland Hotel Green Bay, at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Operators contend the tax is unjust because their coin-operated machines allow them no way of passing the extra levy on to the customer.

Sponsored by the Wisconsin Self-Service Laundries and Dry Cleaners' Association, Inc., all coin operators in Northeastern Wisconsin are invited to attend.

Walter Rietz, Oconto, has directed arrangements.

District directors temporarily elected to the association include Rietz, Henry Wayok, Appleton; Clyde Boismenu, Winneconne; Robert Griesbach, Hortonville; and Joseph Roth, Menasha. Permanent directors for 1964 will be elected Tuesday night.

Parking Meters Net $131,694 For Appleton

Revenue Down From Last Year Because of Ramp Construction

Appleton's parking meter revenue since Jan. 1 totals $131,694.

The announcement was made Wednesday by City Treasurer Ray Feuerstein, who said income for the comparable period in 1962 was $135,717.

Feuerstein also called attention to the fact the city had some 200 less parking spaces available during the period April 1-Nov. 10 when the east ramp was under construction.

Prior to the east ramp, the land had been used for street level parking of an estimated 200 vehicles.

It was predicted that with the Christmas shopping rush about to shift into high gear, the city could expect to have a "take" of about $170,000 from parking ramp and meter income by Dec. 31.

Last year the revenue from meters for the 12-month period was $166,396. For November and December of 1962 the meter income was $14,990 and $15,689, respectively.

Feuerstein indicated the revenue for the current month would equal or possibly surpass that of November, 1962. He will have the total next week.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell and several aldermen have recommended establishment of a parking utility to operate the city's parking program, which they claim is "big business."

The common council will vote on a proposed ordinance creating a utility soon. There has been no open opposition to the proposal, which has the support of the Chamber of Commerce, Northside Advancement Association and other groups.

Feuerstein's records show May and August have been the best parking meter revenue months for the city, the income exceeding the $15,000 mark.

New Bill Reinforces Dam Prohibitions

Conservation Measure Would Protect Wolf Tributaries

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The signal for a new campaign to prevent impoundments of recreational streams in north central and northeastern Wisconsin has probably been given in a new bill quietly introduced into the legislature just before its recess last week.

The measure offered by Sens. Krueger of Merrill and LaFave of Oconto would prohibit by law the construction of any dam on any of the numerous navigable tributaries of the famous and scenic Wolf River north of the southern boundary of Shawano County.

The bill apparently is an extension of the campaign which earlier this year led to the enactment of an absolute prohibition by the legislature, with the approval of Gov. Reynolds, of any impoundment on the Wolf River proper north of the southern Shawano county line.

Bill on Calendar
The bill remains alive and will be on the calendar for dispositions when the legislature returns, under its recess resolution, next April.

Sen. Krueger is chairman of the senate committee on conservation. LaFave has been one of the legislature's most active advocates of causes related to the conservation of resources.

With ardent backing from sports clubs and other organizations, the legislature in the early weeks of its 1963 session whipped through a bill designed to prevent the construction of an impoundment of the Wolf near Lily in Langlade County, as proposed by the Langlade County board for the development of recreational land values. A state-wide protest was heard about the despoilation of what was called one of the most beautiful streams in the state, and the peril of destroying its scenic, trout, and Children's Friend Society, Wauwatosa, by the St. Paul Ladies Aid Society.

Wool Clothes Care

You've been told, all your life, that your hair thrives on good brushing. The same goes for good wool clothes.

A long-bristled clothes brush will remove hidden dirt particles which can cause wear. Never rub or dampen a felt hat that is spotted with soot. Cover the spots with dry salt and then remove with a stiff brush.

FBI Warns Dallas Mayor of Threat

DALLAS (AP)—The FBI in Washington warned Mayor Earle Cabell, there Monday for President John F. Kennedy's funeral, that he, Cabell, was one of two targets whose lives were threatened in an anonymous tips.

Cabell said: "Two people were to be assassinated in

Thursday, Nov. 28, 1963 Appleton Post-Crescent B16

Washington — a foreign dignitary and myself." The Dallas News, which reported the threat against Cabell, said it was reported later that the other threat was against French President Charles de Gaulle. The FBI did not disclose the nature of the threat against the Dallas mayor and the French leader.

Guard Remains
Police guards, however, have stayed with Cabell since his arrival from Washington after the Monday funeral. In the capital, he was met by the deputy chief of police, and given a squad car and officer driver. At Arlington National Cemetery, a Virginia state trooper assumed jurisdiction and later escorted Cabell to Dulles International Airport for the trip home.

When Cabell left City Hall Tuesday noon for lunch at a nearby restaurant, two Dallas policemen accompanied him and ate with him.

All Point Bulletin Issued for Bearded Man; Last Seen Wearing Red Suit

Using Many Guises, Aliases,
'Culprit' Works on Christmas Eve

BY TOM (ELF) RICHARDS

A mysterious man with many aliases was believed to be secluded somewhere in the northern reaches of the globe today waiting to swoop down on the world some wintry night.

There have been varying reports of the man's description. However, he is most frequently said to be elderly, short, heavy set, with long white hair and a full white beard.

He has also often been sighted in a peculiar, red flannel suit trimmed in white fur.

A common alias is Santa Claus. Another is St. Nicholas. Others are Papa Noel, La Befana and Julenissen.

Santa, as he is often called by his followers, if he follows the method of operations he has set in previous years, will leave evidence of his visit late on the night of Dec. 24, the eve of Christmas.

Some fear he is a burglar, and certainly in the United States and other countries he could be accused of breaking and entering.

Though few have ever caught him in the act, he is believed to gain entrance by forcing his short, thick body into the chimney of a home.

There are also unconfirmed reports of Claus traveling about in an odd sleigh, drawn through the air by eight reindeer. In recent years, however, he also has been seen in automobiles, helicopters and airplanes.

Most scientific sources discount the reindeer drawn sleigh on grounds it is impossible for the animals to fly.

Another mysterious facet of the annual visit is that Claus has seldom been known to take anything, except an occasional glass of milk and a plate of cookies.

As a matter of fact, the world over, regardless of the alias he uses or the system he follows, he usually leaves things behind for his followers.

Many parents report, although they are skeptical of the old man, their children are ardent followers, and insist the cookies and milk be left in a place where the mystery man will find them.

Authorities said he has been reported using the St. Nicholas alias in the fourth century moving about secretly giving gifts to the needy. He was also thought to be a favorite of poor, single girls by leaving them bags of gold to help the spinners trap husbands.

In Germany, he is said to live a multiple life, appearing now in the disguise of Kris Kringle, a girl wearing a crown and carrying a Christmas tree, then as Kench Rupert, who allegedly gives presents to children who,

Law Revision Clears Way for Area Schools

Rural Vocational Units Possible on Cooperative Basis

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—Revision of the law governing the organization of area schools of vocational and adult education will probably encourage the development of such schools on a cooperative basis in some of the rural and small town districts of the state, says C. L. Greiber, state director of vocational education.

The legislature has approved a new plan for the organization of such district vocational school services, based on a district board composed of three citizens from each county in the district and one school administrator.

Greiber says there are active plans for the establishment of such schools in southwestern Wisconsin, around Grant county, and in northwestern Wisconsin centering around St. Croix and Barron counties, and that others may develop.

Reynolds' Approval Expected Gov. Reynolds is expected to approve the revision of the law, which governs also the method of tax contributions from the several taxing districts that may be included in such a new school district.

During half a century of development of the vocational school program in Wisconsin, the base of the schools has been in urban areas.

The comparatively small numbers of students coming from outside the taxing districts supporting the institutions have been handled on a tuition payment basis.

In later years there has been a growing interest in such programs in the less populous countries, where there are few duties with sufficient tax resources to support them. The area concept of financing was evolved to meet their needs.

Those who don't follow the old man to stuff with re-rules, it is reported, are left wards for proper conduct

Girls Who Took Car Must Not See Each Other

A court order that they discontinue seeing each other and enroll in separate schools was handed down by County Judge Gustave Keller to two girls charged with taking a car without the owner's consent.

Joan M. Blazek, 2410 N. Mason St., and Barbara L. Kielgas, 1518 W. Washington St., both 17, also were placed on probation to the state department of public welfare for three years. They appeared Friday for sentencing. The girls were arrested by Appleton police after they took the car of a girl friend which was parked in a lot at Ludwig-Lanes in Freedom, Nov. 6. The girls have been held in the Outagame County jail since their arrest. Judge Keller also ordered that the girls do not drink beer or liquor and that they do not enter taverns or bars.

Replacement Found For Neenah Teacher

NEENAH — A replacement has been obtained by the board of education to fill the position held by Mrs. Valery Ahlgren, home economics instructor at the Neenah High School. Mrs. Ahlgren, University of Wisconsin graduate, joined the NHS staff in the fall of 1960. She previously taught in the schools of Wisconsin, Indiana and Iowa and was doing graduate work at Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls, Iowa, before moving to Neenah.

Neenah Delays Yule Opening

NEENAH — Neenah's Christmas decoration lighting ceremony, originally scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday, has been postponed until 7 p.m. Monday, Douglass Bennett, program chairman, announced. The ceremony will be held on Wisconsin Avenue between Commercial and Church streets, he said with Mayor Carl E. Loehning pulling the switch which will light up all of Neenah's downtown Christmas decorations. Bennett said the Neenah High School band would perform at the ceremony. The program was delayed because the decorations would not be completed by Friday.

Poetry Theme for Oshkosh State Talk

Clifford Wood, assistant professor of English at Wisconsin State College, Oshkosh, will be on the "Union Professor Speaks" program at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, in the Reeve Memorial Union lounge. His talk is entitled "Poems in Progress". Prof. Wood will trace the development of some of his own works from their first draft to the final published form. His talk also will include how to critically analyze poems. Prof. Wood is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Many of his poems have been published and he has served for two years as Poetry Editor of the New Mexico Quarterly. Prof. Wood came to Oshkosh in 1962.

Community Journalism

UW Professor Boasts Unique Analysis Class

MADISON — Close to the heart of University of Wisconsin Prof. Lester L. Hawkes is a unique, most successful class in community journalism.

Community journalism is offered the first semester of every academic year. It permits each student to select a Wisconsin community newspaper, stick with it for almost five months, and then evaluate it in detail. Each publisher receives a copy of his paper's evaluation. Publishers volunteer for this special "guinea pig" treatment, and a waiting list is already on file for next year.

Originally involving weeklies, the program now has expanded to include the daily papers in Wisconsin. This is carried on with cooperation of the Wisconsin Press Association, Wisconsin Daily Newspaper League, and Wisconsin Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

Excellent Device
"I don't know of any other school of journalism which uses this method of teaching in its community journalism class," Prof. Hawkes says. "It has proved an excellent teaching device, and brings the newspaper to the student—and the student to the newspaper."

Prof. Hawkes said the papers are rated in five major areas: news content, editorial vigor, pictures, typography, and advertising. Each of these categories is broken down further, such as news content with the divisions of local columns, personals, general news, feature articles, society, sports, news scope, and correspondence.

The students, who visit the communities in which the papers of their choice are published and talk with editors and staffs, and also see each issue of the publications during the semester, have completed 46 studies on 40 papers to date. Included in each evaluation is a study of the community and its surrounding area.

Over-All Growth

"The students have noted there is an over-all growth in attaining objectives in most towns," Prof. Hawkes explains. "Editors and publishers are shown to be more aggressive than a few years ago, better informed, better educated, with most of them taking over their rightful role in community leadership."

Not all of the comments are complimentary. Members of the class have wondered why some business enterprises in the community fail to advertise in their hometown newspapers. They have also expressed concern, in some instances, because the paper does not offer vigorous editorial leadership, and, in one or two instances, have complained that the news coverage of governmental affairs lacked depth for good objective reporting.

Students also have observed that more pictures are being used effectively, that printing methods and equipment are improving constantly, and that more papers are striving for a professional writing style on the part of their reporters.

Summer Program

Prof. Hawkes and Carl Zielke, manager of the Wisconsin Press Association, were instrumental in initiating in 1950 a summer internship program whereby UW journalism students spend the summer months working on weeklies in the state.

Adding their efforts toward developing more interesting and useful journalism courses is a joint committee of two Wisconsin newspaper organizations—the daily league and the Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

"We want to interest more high school and college undergraduates in a career in journalism," according to John B. Torinus, committee chairman. Torinus, Appleton Post-Crescent editor, said efforts include working closely with the three universities in Madison and Milwaukee to interest more students in newspaper journalism and to help develop more fruitful courses which would better prepare students for an effective career in newspaper work.

On this Thanksgiving Day...

BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent Women's Editor

For America, now as then, filled with the great and the miserable, and all those in between, and for her still constant promise of hope...

For wise men who rise to leadership, become irreplaceable, and for those with the ability to assume their tasks...

For the strength to feel grief with heads held high...

For the sensitivity to die a little with the death of another...

For a government that takes up the awesome future while its hand still trembles on the past...

For all the courage and dedication of yesterday, forged into the tool of tomorrow...

For the greatness that is in everyone as part of his humanity and his freedom...

For the bounty of nature, the peace of the countryside, the prayer of the land...

For tolerance, love of one's fellow man, understanding...

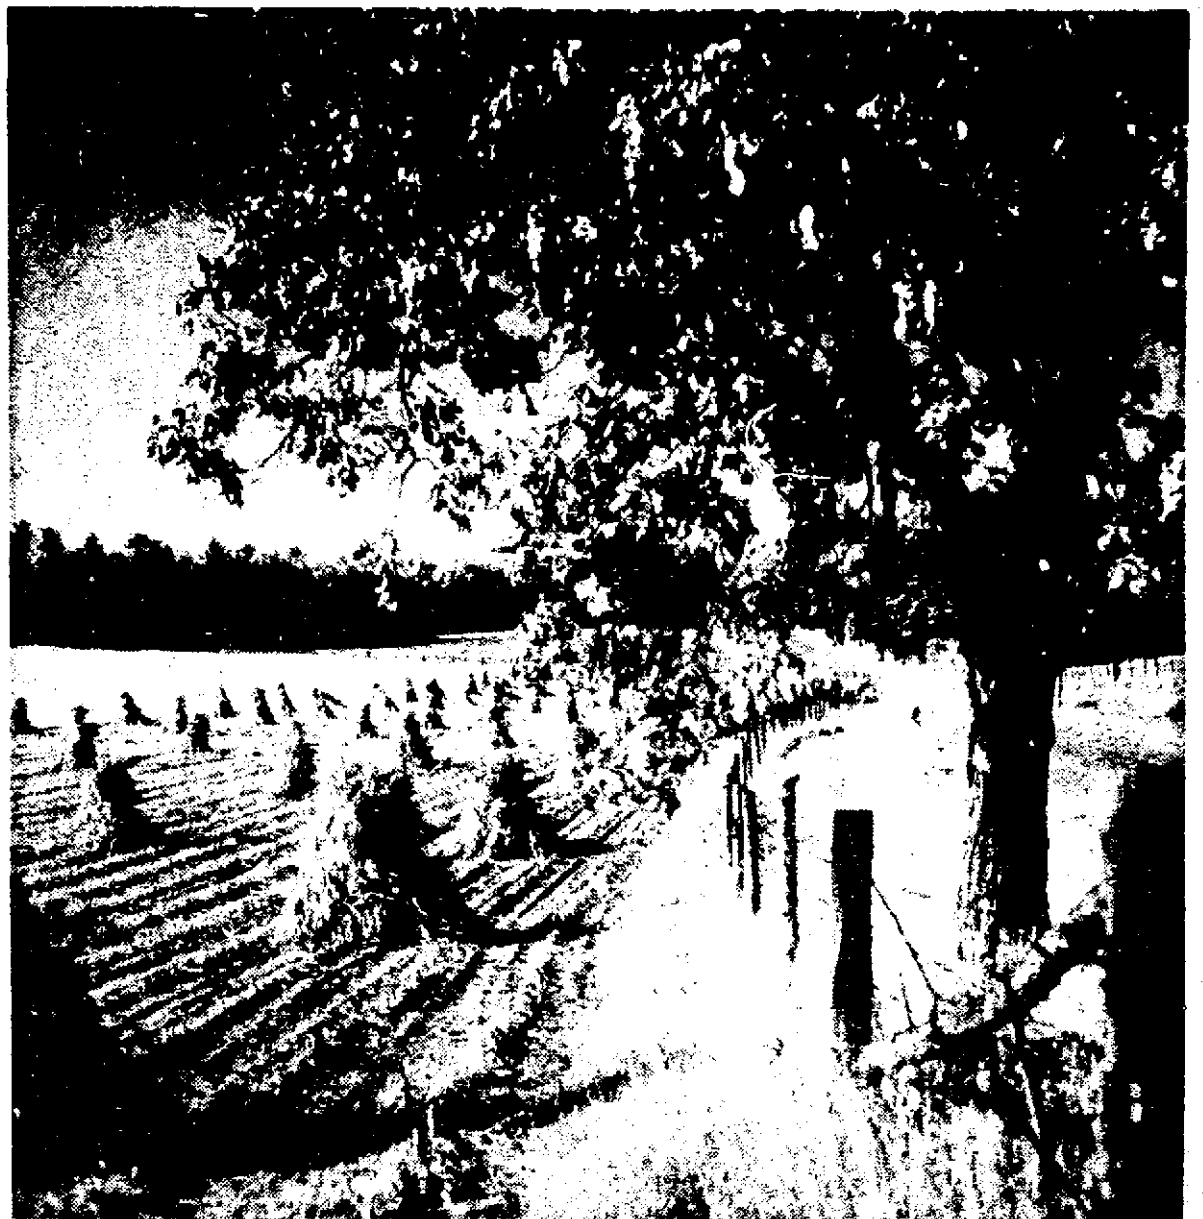

For what we must become...

Father, we thank Thee.

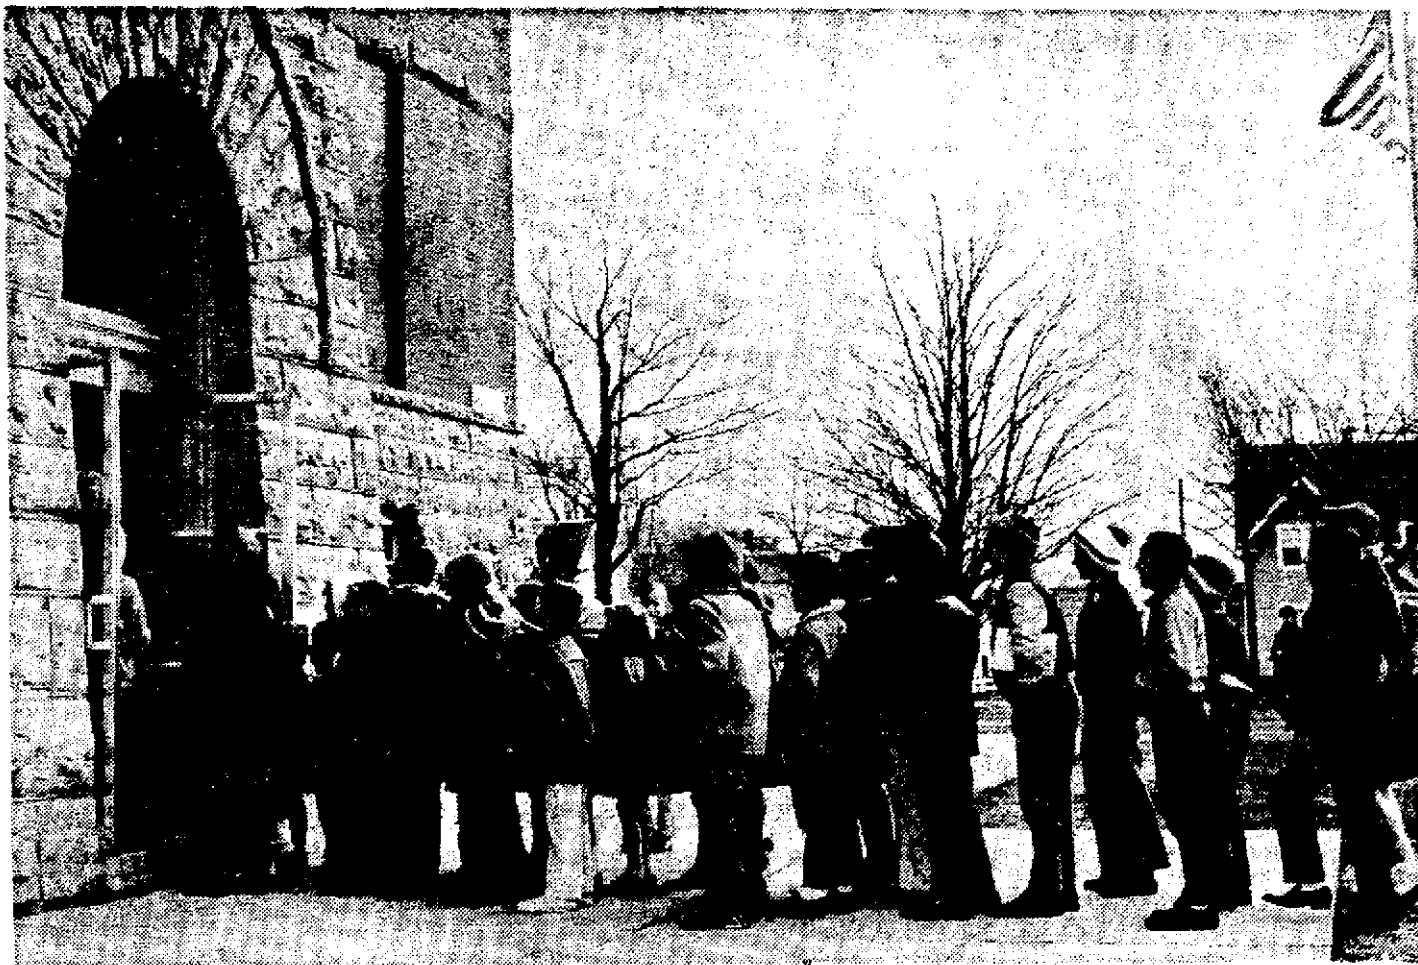

America, then as now...

New First Lady Termed Efficient and Beguiling

BY MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Earlier this year, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson was asked about her plans for the future, and she replied:

"It's hard enough to get to-day's work done. I'll let tomorrow take care of itself. Whatever Lyndon does, I'll be happy doing it right along with him."

The words paint a portrait of the small, brunette, 50-year-old woman who is the new First Lady of the United States.

She is one who is always there beside her husband, managing a household, taking her teen-age daughters shopping. "Beguiling and efficient," is the way Adlai Stevenson described her.

To those who don't know her, perhaps the first thing that will be noticed is her Texas drawl. It's unmistakable but has a touch of softness akin to the South. Her mother came from Alabama.

Has Met Many

But many across the nation already know her, for Mrs. Johnson rode the campaign trail for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960. Sometimes she went alone, sometimes with groups of Kennedy ladies, going to teas and receptions, appearing on radio and television.

Betrothal of Martha West Announced

KAUKAUNA—Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. West, 730 Grignon St., announced the engagement of their daughter, Martha, Alexandria, Va., to Paul Gerard Byrne, New York City, N.Y., at a Thanksgiving family dinner. Mr. Byrne is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Byrne, New York City.

Miss West was a student at Edgewood College, Madison, and the University of Wisconsin, Madison. She is a stewardess for United Air Lines Inc., Washington, D.C.

Her fiancé was graduated from College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, Mass. He is a Lt. (j.g.) in the Naval Reserve and is employed at O. E. McIntyre, Inc., New York City. A Feb. 1 wedding is planned.

and holding press conferences. For a while she didn't make speeches, confining herself to "thank you-alls," but she took some speech courses and gained confidence.

Her name, Lady Bird, intrigues many. Born in Karmack, Tex., Dec. 22, 1912, she was named Claudia Alta Taylor. But a nursemaid said she looked just like a lady bird, and that name stuck. Her close friends call her Bird.

Those are the first glances at Lady Bird Johnson. Back of these—a girl who took scholastic honors in high school and earned two degrees from the University of Texas, a bachelor of arts and a bachelor of journalism in 1934... a canny business woman... a woman who has spent most of her married life in the whirl of politics.

Went to Washington On Nov. 17, 1934, she and Lyndon B. Johnson were married, and three years later she started knowing the life of the wife of a public official when he came to Congress.

Earlier this year an Arab diplomat protested her honorary sponsorship of a ball honoring Israel's independence. Mrs. Johnson answered that firmly: "... I have, for whatever small value it may be, tried to be accessible and available to as many as possible, without distinction as to religion, race or region, and certainly including all states of the Near East. I shall continue to do so."

The Johnsons have made it a policy to try to weave their two daughters into their public life. Lynda Bird, 19, a sophomore at the University of Texas, looks and acts like her father. She likes people. She's the outgoing type. Lucy Baines, 18, is more reserved.

Like Easy-Going Life

All members of the family like the easy, casual, open-door way of life at the Johnsons' ranch near Johnson City, Tex. Mrs. Johnson is not what you call a horsewoman. She is the one who goes ahead to the ranch to prepare for guests almost always there when the Johnsons are there. She sees that everything runs smoothly. She will not contemplate moving to the White House, Mrs. Kennedy wishes to be done are done. "I wish to heaven I could serve Mrs. Kennedy's happiness," Mrs. Johnson said. "I can at least serve her convenience."

Girls Love Diamonds Any Style, Size or Setting

Women have an affinity for diamonds, especially at Christmas. Of all the jewelry even question-mark pendants forms, pins are the most practical shimmering with good-luck diatrical and "safe" gift choices diamonds, for wear on delicate because they are adaptable to diamonds, for wear on delicate most apparel.

The classic gold pin lavished with a diamond spark keeps company with all ages: on the wool suit of a college girl, on her mother's velvet cocktail hat, or on grandmother's silky holiday dress.

Nature Forms Desired
Best-liked designs for pins are nature forms — leaves, flowers, birds and even butterflies. Gold leaf pins with engraved veins emerging from diamond-tipped stems look freshly fallen. Half-blown buds and floral sprays come in realistic or stylized versions. Solitary sunburst pins are studies in contrast, with alternating petals of polished and Florentine-finished gold.

Rings Are High Fashion
"Occasional" rings for right-hand wear are true high-fashion gifts. Domes of polished gold are punctuated with starry diamonds; strands of 14-karat gold are twisted into flower silhouettes and spirals which seem to soar off the finger.

What looks like a mound of silver branches is a ring design of platinum leaves embracing a tiny diamond; num-bunch of diamond and creamy-pearl berries. Criss - crossing leaves at the top of a ring literally "grow" around a diamond-set vine which encircles the finger.

Pendants Popular
Pendants continue to be popular, especially the single diamond-droplet first made famous by television personalities.

There are three dimensional flowers, four-leaf clovers, and Christmas. Of all the jewelry even question-mark pendants forms, pins are the most practical shimmering with good-luck diatrical and "safe" gift choices diamonds, for wear on delicate because they are adaptable to diamonds, for wear on delicate most apparel.

Clasps Unusual Feature
Necklace clasps are an unusual fashion jewel gift. For the woman who wears a favorite necklace, there are clusters of pearls and diamonds nestled on the top side of a clasp in several designs. Not only is the jeweler clasp practical, it's beautiful and meant to be worn in the center front hollow of the neck.

Watches Have Gem Numbers
Watches, a time-honored gift, are tailored and dressy to keep tabs on time very fashionably. Watch bracelets, of flexible gold mesh or rigid wristbands, offer variety in widths.

Enamel and Gold Lapels
Oval, square, pear-shape and round "faces" are framed with the finest of diamonds; num-bunch of diamond and creamy-pearl berries. Criss - crossing leaves at the top of a ring literally "grow" around a diamond-set vine which encircles the finger.

Furs That Fit, yet still have a flare, are the trend this season. The one above is shaped under the bust, held by two fur buttons, and then swings away. Furs, especially mink, are still the 'ultimate' in gifts for Christmas.

Wrap Her in Mink

Whether it be a coat, stole, jacket or wrap, furrier this coming Yuletide season have made gifts of a mink even more tempting. One lucky woman in 1,666 will own a mink fashion this year.

There is a wide variety of style from which to choose gifts, and the many shades give every woman the added gift of choice of color — to suit her complexion, hair color or personal taste.

High on the list of fur fashions this year are those with casual styling. For example, a trench coat of natural blue-beige mink, is considered "in," whether over a skirt and sweater or over a long crepe dinner gown.

Pure white mink, long considered to be an evening fur, has gone casual. One designer has styled the elegant fur into a notched, double-breasted coat with patch pockets and labeled it a day-time fashion.

Yet another designer has fashioned the luscious white fur into a triangular shape, and as an added filip, and has been edged with white ostrich feathers.

Whatever the gift of mink may be, from a circling boa to a floor-length evening coat, the woman who receives it will cherish it like few gifts in the world!

Dress Up Home With Tiny Trees

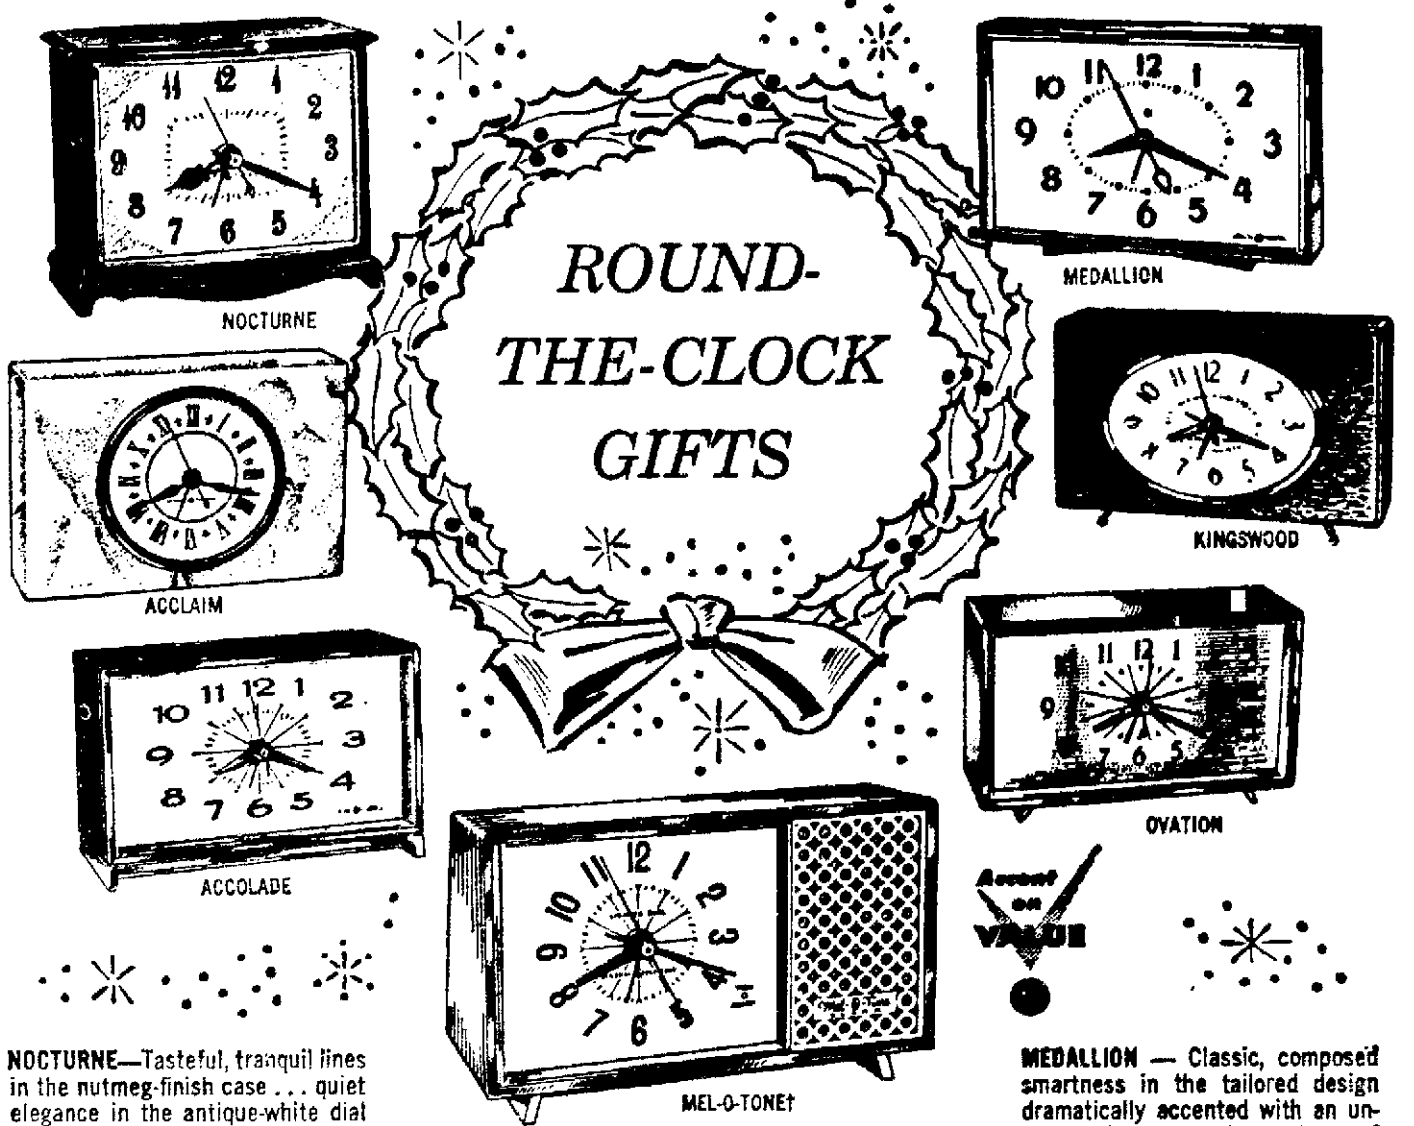

Tiny, whimsical Christmas trees that you make yourself can do a great deal to dress up your home during the holidays. The greatest fun in making these miniature trees is in dreaming up the ideas for them yourself. But, here are a few ideas for trees to get you started.

Safety First

Be extremely careful when you are adding boiling water to caramelized sugar to prevent any of the mixture from splattering on your hands.

To ski or not to ski is no longer the question. Whether one takes to the slopes or not, everyone loves the fashions designed for the swish and rush of downhill traffic.

The advent of warmth without weight fabrics has created an entirely new look for the skier, who, whether male or female, lives in the rarefaction of a high fashion world.

Ski equipment should be purchased from an expert. Ski clothing should be purchased with a sense of the fun that the sport engenders.

Stretch pants give almost everyone a good figure, hiding unwanted bumps and bulges in a clean straight line. Jack-ets may be shaggy as a St. Bernard, or sleek as the wind. Colors — the spectrum of a clear day reflected in a mirror of silver. They are all there, to reflect one's own personality, enhance one's own complexion, or say to the world that 'this is the greatest.'

Nick Hietpas, Miss Jo Glaeser and Miss Mary Fisch, above, were among the models of this season's ski fashions at the recent showing of Warren Miller's latest movie at Appleton High School. Mr. Hietpas' Jacket is a jersey laminate stripe in red, black and grey with a knit collar. The style is slipover and has horizontal zip pockets and shirred cuffs. Miss Glaeser's orlon shag pile jacket closes with fur hooks. It is collarless, has knit cuffs and black nylon lining. Miss Fisch's outfit has colorful eidelweis flowers trailing from waist to ankle on her stretch pants and on either side of the zipper of her matching sweater. At right, Dianne Jensen shows a quilted jacket in brilliant shades of blue splashed over a white field. This too features a hide-away hood. Steve Purdy models the official Olympic jacket of white wool. It is fully lined, with a knit collar and pocket detail in red and blue. The official U. S. patch adorns the jacket and matching cap. (Post-Crescent Photos)

The Nylon Quilted parka worn by Larry Newman, Fox River Grove, Ill., a Lawrence College student has a hidden hood folded into the collar and closed with a zipper. Shirred cuffs fit snugly at the wrist. His fleece-lined after-ski boots are most popular among the men. Beverly Uimer, Appleton, wears a shell parka in red, orange-yellow and black that reverses to solid black. The hood collar has a drawstring, as does the hem of the jacket. Her hat is imitation black fur. Henry Conklin wears the racer style, designed for use by professional skiers. The quilt design is diagonal on the body of the jacket and verticle on the sleeves. It is available in black and white or all black. The hood folds and is buttoned under the collar.

Alms-Giving Is Tradition

The tradition of alms-giving at Christmas began with a legend, as did so many other holiday customs. It was believed at one time that the Christ Child went door to door during the holiday season, disguised as a beggar, and asking alms, in search of kind and deserving souls.

Since no one knew when or where He might appear, Christians feared to turn beggars from their door lest they unknowingly turn away the Christ Child.

Thus began the custom of charity to the poor at Christmastime; today this charity is still practiced, but not out of fear... rather, it is done out of

Jewelry Gifts 'The Most' Under the Christmas Tree

For centuries the jewelry that matter, the right tie tack, store has been traditional gift tie clip, cuff links, key chain or headquarters at Christmas, ear-pen-knife are to be found at the rying the most exciting selection jewelers.

A wide variety of gift suggestions for young girls includes a piece of sterling in her chosen pattern, her first piece of precious jewelry in the form of a pin, bracelet, locket or sterling year, you will find an even greater assortment from which to make your selections.

When shopping for a watch, for instance, handsome styling and individuality are likely to be as important as accuracy to the wearer. And so great is the variety in watches this Christmas that only the trained jeweler can point out the merits and suitability of each one.

Utility watches, for out-of-door wear and sports; pocket watches and chains for formal wear; and wrist watches designed especially for professional business people are found to be in striking attractive styles.

Silver Items Varied — Silver holloware — tea sets, bowls, dishes, trays — reflects the good taste of the giver as well as the recipient. Because today's silverware is the focal point of tastes as well as future professional fashion in the home, the factor of style judgement in selection accessories take on importance, can make for the most happy-including lighters, cigarette cases and holders.

Rings may assume the importance of fraternal insignia, your jewelry store will show the dignity of initial or signet you that each age group has designs. Perhaps the birthstone been studied by designers with ring has become significant in an eye to fashion and appropriate the young man's life as a gift atness. The jeweler offers gifts ring worth having and wearing for infants such as: bent-handle for its symbolic meaning and spoons, silver rattles or teething proof of someone's lasting affections with silver bells, brush tation and regard.

Sophisticated topping for sponge cake: equal measures of semi-sweet chocolate pieces and cultured sour cream. Just melt the chocolate over hot water and, off heat, stir in the sour cream.

Mashed Potatoes Stuff Frankfurters

Two cups of seasoned mashed potatoes are enough to stuff six to 8 frankfurters. Slit the franks in half lengthwise but not all the way through, then spread open and stuff with the potato. Bake in a hot oven or broil until franks are hot through and potatoes browned.

Welcome to a wonderful world of light . . .

Good lighting is much more than merely decorative. It DOES things for you and your home, especially on a festive occasion.

It solves "seeing" problems, makes your rooms lovelier, your living pleasanter, your chores easier. The fixture at right, the Chatham, is fashioned of fine grained fruitwood with antique brass arms. At left is the Traveller that glides across the ceiling to follow your table, spreads good light up, down, all around. Subtle Slippers Suggest Lazy, Hazy Days of Winter

Give Christmas the soft touch this year with comfortable leather slippers. A thoughtful gift of soft, elegant suede or glove leather slippers will pamper and please every man, woman, and child on your holiday list.

Your choice this winter ranges from soft ankle-hugging leather boots that are suitable for both indoor and outdoor wear to slippers designed chiefly for the path between the refrigerator and the easy chair.

Gift footwear for people who prefer to view the wintry scene from behind a windowpane boast high fashion and a high degree of comfort.

Shimmery Slippers

For the girls there are leather slippers or mules in colorful, lavish fashions. Some are beautifully embossed in gold or silver. Others are embroidered in floral designs.

A harlequin slipper is made up of bright leathers in diamond shapes. Its corners turn back and are fastened down with tiny silver bells or gay, gold pins.

Bright Lining

Know Your 'Carats' in Diamonds

Are you planning to give any diamonds this Christmas? If so, you'll want the best possible "buy."

Unless you're an expert on precious stones, your best place for the best buy in diamonds is your family jeweler's, or any reputable jeweler's. A jeweler's knowledge of gems and his sound advice will assure that you get the best diamonds for your dollars.

Diamonds Individual

Diamonds are highly individual, and so are their prices. Carat weight (size), color, clarity and cut go together to determine the price of a diamond, and each stone has a different combination of these Four-Cs.

Look at as many diamonds as possible, and ask your jeweler to point out the Four-Cs of each. Tell him how much money you want to spend, and he'll show you the different Four-C combinations—in diamonds—that you can buy for that amount.

Carat Weight Standardized

Carat weight is the standard measure of size in diamonds. A carat is so light that it takes 142 carats to make an ounce. It is divided into 100 points, like cents in a dollar. When you see .47 on the tag that means the diamond is three points under half a carat.

But remember that carats measure weight and not area. Diamonds of different shapes may have the same carat weight but appear to be of different sizes because of their different areas.

Color Affects Price

Color, the second "C," affects price, too. The finest color in diamonds is no color — crystal clear. Any tinge of yellow or brown lowers the price even though it may not affect the beauty of the stone.

Diamonds of strong color such as red, green, brown, pink and even lavender are higher priced than "white" diamonds because of their rarity.

A diamond is labeled "blue-white" only if it shows no traces of color other than blue. It is incorrect to use the term "blue-white" to describe a diamond which is actually white or tinged with other color.

Clarity Refers to Flaws

Clarity refers to freedom from flaws or imperfections; tiny "bubbles" or carbon spots which lower the price of the diamond, but they may not detract from the gem's beauty if they are too small to be seen by the naked eye.

What is a flawless diamond? One which shows no flaws when studied under a glass that magnifies ten times.

Cut has two meanings; it refers to the shape of the stone, and also to the skill with which the tiny facets (planes) were ground on to the diamond for the maximum sparkle. If angles between the facets are not accurately cut, the diamond will not handle light properly so that it produces a brilliant blaze of light.

Basic Shapes

Diamonds for engagement rings comes in four basic shapes and two fancy shapes.

A round diamond, often called a brilliant-cut, is popular as a solitaire (single stone) ring. An emerald-cut has straight sides and comes in oblong or square contours.

The pear-shape is wide at one end and tapers to a point at the other.

A marquise resembles a boat with a point on either end. Heart-shape and oval diamonds are fancy cuts often set as center stones in engagement rings.

Baguettes are small diamonds in rectangular or tapered shapes and are generally set as side stones in rings holding large center diamonds.

The Romantic Way to say Merry Christmas is with a sweetheart chest. This colonial design in warm maple has a generous cedar interior and a separate base drawer for bonus storage space.

They'll remind him of pers to help support growing hearth and home. And, don't forget the children. Brightly colored leathers and their slippers should be bright leather linings attract young-sters and make them want to travel scuffs that tuck into hard to pull them off), and with wear their slippers — not trot each other. Wherever he wears resilient leather soles and up-about barefoot on drafty floors.

Sweetheart Chests Old Tradition

The forecast for the holiday season will be bright and sunny if a sweetheart chest is under the Christmas tree.

The sweetheart chest has built-in appeal for the girl at the top of your Christmas list. It's a romantic kind of gift, and that has special meaning at Christmas time or any time.

The sweetheart chest has a happy tradition among young people as the gift that starts the home. Eighty per cent of all sweetheart chests are given as gifts to girls of marriageable age. And, appropriately, most of the chests are presented by bachelors.

This year the girl who receives a sweetheart chest for Christmas will also get a head-start on filling the chest with bridal treasures.

Sweetheart chests are specially designed for romantic twosomes with their eye on the future. They are keyed to double duty performance always welcome in the first home. Sweetheart chests have deep cedar-lined interiors for storing trousseau treasures, and some designers have separate base drawers lined with felt for silverware. Others have self-rising trays beneath the chest lid for sides to impersonate coffee tables or room dividers. As the first prized possession for a young couple's future home, the sweetheart chest has become a Christmas favorite and a true holiday matchmaker.

Sharp Selection!

Knives lead diverse kinds of lives! There are knives of tungsten... knives of steel! There are knives that cut and chop and peel. There are knives that slice and carve and dice. Special knives to cut things neat and nice... like knives to peel potatoes, cut onions, sever frozen food, carve meat, slice steaks and bread, section grapefruit, trim bones, pare parsnips, slice cheese or even cut a wedding cake! We've got knives... by the dozens... famous Robeson Knives... perfect for holiday entertaining or as gifts! Come see our mighty sharp selection now!

Come See Our Interesting ROBESON DEMONSTRATION! Mr. Marion Neidlinger, Robeson Factory Representative will be in our Housewares Department.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 29 to demonstrate all of the knives in our mighty sharp Robeson selection.

Robeson "Flame Edge" Cutlery

With Tungsten Carbide Cutting Edges!

*You never sliced it so good! Ripe tomatoes, hot bread, overdone roasts are no problem to slice as thin as you want with a Robeson Flame Edge Knife with wavy fluted cutting edge! That's because one side of the cutting edge is tungsten carbide, the hardest metal known, detonated onto steel at 10 times the speed of sound, at a temperature of 6000 degrees. As the edge of steel wears away, more and more of the Flame Edge is exposed... more and more of the tungsten carbide's microscopic teeth are bared to keep the knives razor sharp! Handles are brown ShurWood with contoured grip... impervious to heat and acid! They're unconditionally guaranteed! See our selection!

Robeson "Frozen Heat" Cutlery

Slice, pare, carve with one of the sharpest, keenest, longest-lasting knife blades ever made! The secret is Robeson "Frozen Heat"... an exclusive Robeson process... knives made at 100 degrees below zero... to produce a blade that is tougher, stronger... that holds its edge longer! Blades are hollow ground, so, when they dull, you can sharpen them in the normal manner. Brown densified "Shur-Wood" handles. Come in... see our selection!

A sand-filled Flower Pot and cut off broomstick, both sprayed with gold paint, form the base and stem for this topiary tree for an attractive Christmas table. For the tree top, punch cotton batting into a ball shape on a chicken wire base. Decorate with silver glitter, green holly leaves and colorful tree ornaments.

Caramel Sauce

You can prepare the speediest of sweet sauces by heating caramels with light or heavy cream. Serve over ice cream, pudding or cake, or use in a caramel milk shake.

Gift Gloves Glamorous in Color, Texture

Here's a tip for Santa: Put fashion at her finger tips this Christmas with a gift of lovely leather gloves.

Fashions in gloves go to every length this winter, so you can't go wrong no matter which length you select. And, you'll find hundreds of styles and colors in smooth or finely grained kid leather, soft suede and doe-skin leathers and textured pig-skins.

Since most coats end between the wrist and the elbow this year, your gift will be welcome whether it's a six-button kid gauntlet, an eight-button doeskin musketaire or a 12-button elbow-length glove.

Fur Adds Elegance

Though most leather gloves will depend on their soft, supple elegance for fashion effect, some styles feature a thin strip of fur at the wrists, contrasting leather lacing around the cuffs, or contrasting color stitching on the fingers.

If, after all these years, you still don't know her glove size, get her a pair of the new leather stretch gloves that fit most women.

The leather glove color range covers all the shades in winter's fashion spotlight such as cranberry, winter blue, bright gold, pine needle, and all tones of brown and beige from bitter chocolate to bone.

Evening Gloves

In the evening, when the full-length glove lends formal grace in wool to an evening ensemble, leather gloves — smooth or sueded — are smart in either white or black. Frequently, a white glove has black beading or other detailing and vice versa.

For the suburbanite and sportswoman, pigskin gloves complete a casual ensemble of frosts-free control of her car wheel, select gloves of smooth or textured leather lined with wool.

Shoes Can be Dyed

Can tan shoes be dyed brown, and can brown shoes be dyed black? Yes, and there are a number of shoe dyes for this purpose.

But it isn't always an easy do-it-yourself job and the results are not always perfect. If your shoes are good ones, it's better to give them to an expert, at a good shoeshine parlor.

One Who Learned Hard Way Urges All to Obtain Education

DEAR ANN LANDERS: get my diploma. Why should I some big bills. I have three children to send to college within the next five years. I must go to work but I'm not trained for anything. I realize now as never before the necessity of preparing for the future, since none of us knows what it may bring. Please print this letter as a warning from someone who had to learn the hard way. — Sad Sandra

Dear Sandra: Many thanks for your letter. I hope the thousands of young girls see it and take the hint.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I work in a plant which has an unattended newsstand. It is the me to stay in high school and mortgage on our home, plus

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am writing in the hope that you will print my letter so the people involved will see how petty this practice looks to others. — Paying Customer

Dear Customer: There will always be people who want something for nothing. For them there is no cure. They can't be shamed, cajoled or chided into changing their ways, so don't try.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If a girl slaps a boy's face, for no reason whatever, is the boy justified in slapping her back?

Several of us teen-agers are waiting for your answer because it happened to one of the greatest kids in our crowd and we want to know if what he did was right. Thank you. — Jasper, Ind.

Wreath for Gay Welcome

In the friendly spirit of Christmas, design a holiday welcome wreath out of freshly cut evergreens, either from your own yard or from the corner florist. All the equipment you'll need is a wire coat hanger or two, some red ribbons or decorations, pliers, fine picture wire, and a pair of household gloves to protect your hands and fingernails.

Once you've collected these materials, use the pliers to separate the two ends of the wire hanger where they are twisted together. The household gloves will protect your hands from cuts or scratches at this stage, should the hangers prove difficult to manipulate.

Next, bend and shape the hanger wire into a circle and twist the ends together. The circle needn't be perfect, as the greens will cover this frame. If the wire seems thin, you may wish to use two.

Now, take the greens, which you have cut into a manageable size, and simply fasten them to the frame with short lengths of picture wire. As a precautionary measure, you'll want to wear the gloves to prevent gummy, hard-to-remove evergreen deposits from staining hands or getting under fingernails.

The last step is to attach decorations. These may be as many or as few as your taste dictates, from a single red ribbon bow, to clusters of fake berries, Christmas tree balls, or candy canes.

Dear Jasper: There's a reason for everything. The fact that you don't know the reason doesn't mean there is none.

The boy who got a clasp in the chops may or may not have done a little something to earn it. If he was absolutely innocent then the girl is an erratic impulsive loon.

A boy who hits a girl for any reason whatever puts himself squarely in her class. The better approach is to take her straight home and lose her phone number.

Pool Table Good Family Investment at Christmas

Pocket billiards (otherwise easily after the parts are in the known as "pool"), an intriguing game that goes back to Cleopatra, is taking America by storm. A big reason for its popularity is that women are discovering that not only do they enjoy playing but with a little practice they can out-cue the male handily in this formerly man-dominated game of skill.

Folding Tables
Now that homeowners can enjoy the ancient pastime right in their playroom or basement, with new low-cost, folding-type pocket billiard tables, retail stores are reporting that women are becoming increasingly curious about purchasing home units which are designed to protectional standards.

In fact, having a home pocket billiard table is rapidly becoming the "most" in status symbol in suburbia-land.

A home pool table actually makes an ideal and practical gift for the entire family that can provide many hours of wholesome, fun-filled recreation and togetherness. Best of all, family or friends can concentrate on the game and still enjoy conversation, hi-fi or radio.

In selecting a home table, size is not the most important factor. Perfect size is a nine-foot, regulation-length table, which requires a total area of about 12 by 16 feet. There are also seven and eight-foot tables of equal quality and playability.

If you do have a space problem, keep in mind that home tables have folding legs and can be stored. Also, an inexpensive table-tennis top (which will fit flat against the wall nearby) will not only add a new game dimension, but can transform your private billiard room into a multipurpose area for buffet refreshment service, conference table for meetings, or for cutting a pattern and sewing.

Two Piece Model Available
If you decide on a nine-foot model, make sure that it will fit through your doors, around difficult turns and down stairs in your home. Some families have literally chopped through floors and walls to get their regulation-length pool table in. To overcome this problem, a new two-piece nine-foot table is now available that can be assembled in Home pool tables are about one-third the weight of the heavy, immobile commercial units, yet provide maximum sturdiness and can be moved about easily. Retail prices range from $150 to $700, depending on size and design features.

First Choice is Slate
Because a pocket billiard table is a lifetime purchase, try to obtain the best quality, according to size and type. Specific tips for buying are listed.

The playing surface is all-important. Best choice is a slate-bed table, since slate is inorganic and therefore not affected by moisture, temperature, humidity, deflection or sag. Slate-bed home tables are priced as low as $350.

If slate is too steep for the family budget, a formum-bed table, made of highly dense particle board with moisture-resistant resins, is next best. The formum playing surface should be supported with strong, adjustable steel braces, not wood bracing which can warp.

Wool Best Covering
Ask about the billiard cloth. The most desirable cloth available is 100 per cent wool. Wool blends used in medium priced tables are second best. Lower priced tables feature special cotton billiard cloths. Incidentally, the cloths are now decorated in spirals, in blue, gold, tangerine, beige, and the traditional green.

Feel the side cushions. They should be made of top grade gum rubber with just the right bounce for those "off-the-cushion" shots.

Adjustable Leg Levelers
Table legs must have mechanically adjustable floor levelers. Latest home tables have new "duck" legs to provide better weight distribution.

Look for Formica or aluminum on frames and table edges which are stain, burn, alcohol resistant and easy to wipe clean. Many players have the habit of sitting, leaning, or placing cigarettes on the table edges. Cue sticks should be regulation-length ranging from 48 to 57 inches. Standard billiard balls come in two sizes: 2 1/4 inches in diameter and 2 1/2 inches in diameter. The 2 1/4 inch ball is now available that can be assembled in

Gratitude May Be Expressed Practically

Of an earlier American age, Thomas Paine wrote, "These are the times that try men's souls." Of today one could say, "These are the times that try women's wills."

Not only are the vocational and political worlds wide open to women, there are exciting opportunities for women in almost every walk of life. It's up to women to have the will to accept the opportunities. Too many of us let them slip away or church. Perhaps you can free To the question, "What should a parent to go back to a needed I be doing?" there comes the job answer, "Just look around." What about the political situation in your community? Is some entrenched do - nothing holding up needed schools, improved streets and police protection? Do something Be heard in meetings. Ring bells and make phone calls

Be Practical with Thanks This is the season for Thanksgiving. Express your thanks in a practical way. Does the hospital need help? Use your eyes a blind patient or sick child to car pool to take needy children to distant playgrounds, museum or church. Perhaps you can free

Worthy charities are always in need of help. Pick out the kind of work you can do best and volunteer your services. You'll never have a more rewarding experience

The busy woman who accepts her opportunities is going to get good and tired but it will be a good kind of tiredness. This is the kind that goes with peace of mind. A quick nap and you're good as new.

Even women who are already in business or professional work find added satisfaction in the extra curricular opportunities open to them. It's a wide, wonderful and sometimes wacky world open to us. It's much too much fun to pass up.

Area Twirlers Win Honors in National Open

KAUKAUNA — Laurie Gertz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gertz, 1901 Main Ave., received a first place trophy in a National Baton Twirler Association open at Green Bay over the weekend. She is enrolled in the recreation department sponsored classes. She won in the 13 and 14-year-old novice division.

Others winning awards were Mary Beth Tease in the 11 to 14 advanced division, third place medal, and a third place medal in strutting routine. Jenny King won fifth place in strutting routine. Christine Cook and Jean Giordana took a second place in duet competition.

Mrs. Kenneth Tease served as starter and Mrs. David Nagan, recreation instructor, was tabulator. Judge was Miss Trudee Denzler, Minneapolis, former national champion, and chairman was Miss Mary Miller, Beaver Dam.

Select Stocking Stuffers From Small Jewelry Items

Even if your budget doesn't already own fine watches are stretch quite far enough to put diamonds in every stocking you plan to fill this Christmas, you shouldn't overlook your jeweler as one of Santa's best assistants. Watchbands for people who will be slightly higher.

Rings set with rubies, hematite or onyx are expected to be popular gift items for men at $20 to $30.

Selection Good

The jewelry store shopper will find stores less crowded than others even at Christmas. Merchandise isn't "picked over," employees are less harried, and there are fewer temporary helpers behind the counters. Style-color-size selections are good, too, and the early shopper can usually get special orders from manufacturers if he wants them.

Here are a few other ideas that may help you fill Santa's sack with quality jewelry gifts this season: AM-FM transistorized radios; bronzed baby shoes or barometers; candelabra, cameras, cameos or cuckoo clocks; dinnerware or desk sets; electronic watches or engraved on almost any kind of jewelry. Also there are fraternal pins, good luck pieces and hors d'oeuvre trays including new musical types.

Jeweled Jam Jars?

Or you can get identification jewelry store. Consider the man's taste, take a look at what he usually wears the always welcome cuff links and then select something different, but not too different. If he's wearing a silver tie clasp, he's wearing a silver tie clasp, get accessories — a monogrammed collar pin and cuff links, but silver drink mixer, bottle opener, memory books and motion picture equipment.

Perhaps you are looking for novelties or special watches for nuns or nurses; opera glasses; pens, pencils, pins or portable phonograph (including stereo-phonics models) and radios.

Briefcase Tape Recorders

Quartz, rosaries, skin divers' and other types of sports timers and stop-watches; as well as trays, telescopes, thermometers, typewriters and tape recorders including transistorized types so tiny they can be tucked into a briefcase are some other suggestions.

Still more possibilities include ultrasonic cleaning of precious jewelry; vacuum bottles; or weather forecasters, woodenware and wall clocks of all sorts are among other possibilities. And, there are many more, of course.

An important part of the fun of Christmas is in preparing for it and since Christmas is for children, you'll want your youngsters to participate in all the activities that the Yule season brings. Not only will it be an excellent opportunity for them to gain a sense of responsibility and to express themselves creatively, it will also afford your family many hours of being together and getting to know each other better.

Gift Delight

For a romantic-looking gift, paste a paper dolly in center of package that has already been wrapped; cut second dolly to fit corners of box.

Favorite Man Deserves More Attention at Christmas Time

The favorite man in your life means shopping in time to have him deserve special attention at Christmas time. Too many women leave Dad's gift until the last minute and then rush out and buy the first thing they see during the Christmas rush you'd be safer if you order the gift a month ahead of time.

The gift you select for the man you love should tell him so, and the best place to find array of watches, lighters, cigarette perfect, personal gift is your jewelry store.

Consider the man's taste, take a look at what he usually wears the always welcome cuff links and then select something different, but not too different. If he's wearing a silver tie clasp, he's wearing a silver tie clasp, get accessories — a monogrammed collar pin and cuff links, but silver drink mixer, bottle opener, memory books and motion picture equipment.

Most important is to make your gift personal — and this initiated if you shop early.

Use Seasoned Flour For Browning Meat

When a recipe says "Coat meat with seasoned flour" and the recipe is for stew, it's safe to use 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon white pepper for two pounds of boned meat cut in two-inch pieces.

Bacon, Bean Soup

Use bacon fat when you are making cream of corn soup. Then garnish with crisp bacon crumbles. Good!

The Sound of Christmas Begins Today, the Traditional Start of Our Wondrous Christmas Season

Traditions are wonderful, and one of our most favorite is the annual lighting of the magnificent Tree of Lights that graces our store in majestic splendor. Another fine Prange tradition is our beautiful Christmas boxes given with your purchases. Any Prange box tells the receiver the gift inside is fine quality, in good taste; but the Christmas boxes say it so much more beautifully. Traditionally too, we're open more evenings to give you and your family a better opportunity to Christmas shop. Do check our handy calendar for those special Christmas hours. The black squares indicate days you can shop from 9 to 9. Other weekdays from 9 to 5:30. Something we hope will become a tradition with you is our Parking Ramp. It now serves over 350 cars and is just steps away from our store. And, you can walk protected from the weather through covered entrances directly into the store where you'll hear the Sound of Christmas. You'll hear it in the Carols . . . you'll hear it in the hustling and bustling . . . in the laughter and the Merry Christmases. We think it's exciting, we think it's wondrous. A Lovelier You
By Mary Sue Miller

Thanksgiving Day

Dear the lovelies of this land,
Dear the girls who read us daily,
Would that we could meet you and Shake your hands and greet you gaily.
But, no matter where you're living,
Be it city, hill or valley,
Let this verse by our Thanksgiving.
Fondly,
MARY SUE and LALI

Dear the people coming home,
Dear glad faces long away,
Dear the merry cries, and dear
All the glad and happy play.
Dear the thanks, too, that we give
For all of this, Thanksgiving Day.

Test New Fabrics, Fibers

With so many changes in fibers, weaves and finishes it isn't easy to know how to handle today's fabrics. If you have a few basic sewing skills and are willing to experiment a little before you sew you should be successful. Try making sample seams, darts and buttonholes and try pressing before you work on your pattern pieces.

Select threads of man-made fibers if you're going to sew on a fabric of a man-made fiber or a blend. These threads won't shrink and they're strong and elastic. Mercerized thread is suitable for natural fibers and some blends, too.

Special Stitches
Use fewer stitches per inch than usual, about 10 to 12 is fine for most of today's fabrics. There's less chance of seams puckering when fine thread and needle and fewer stitches per inch are used.

Test the tension of your machine, the stitch length and the pressure on the fabric, by stitching on a double thickness of fabric on the lengthwise grain. On a man-made fabric this will show up any pucker.

Tension
The important thing about tension is the balance of it. Often you may loosen the top tension when you're sewing on today's man-made fabrics. Check your sample stitching to see if the bottom and the top stitching look about the same.

The action of the feed dog and the pressure from the pressure foot on the fabric needs to be in balance. When the top fabric puckers, loosen the upper pressure at the top of the machine. This releases the pressure and lets the top fabric feed through more easily.

Lady Soccer Referee Adds Charm To Game
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — When Mrs. Jeanne Lomborg whistles, 22 men stop and take notice.

Mrs. Lomborg, a part 24-year-old Cape Town housewife, is South Africa's first qualified soccer referee. She recently passed her national soccer referees examination and now she can take charge of top league games.

But players and spectators admit that pretty Mrs. Lomborg's presence on the field can become a little distracting as she prances up and down keeping a watchful eye on 22 fleet-footed men.

Her garb, too, is a trifle different from the accepted referee's dress. Jeanne prefers tight black stove-pipe slacks and gaily embroidered blouse.

Tactics Change
Player's tactics on the field have undergone a considerable change since she appeared on the scene.

"They are more gentlemanly, their language is better and so far they've thought twice about hitting me," she says.

Becoming South Africa's first woman soccer referee is no childhood dream come true. In fact, Mrs. Lomborg was just another typist in the offices of the South African Soccer League in Durban.

She became seriously interested in the game after listening to a lecture for referees while waiting to lock up the offices for the night.

Within three months, she has passed her professional referees' course with honors and has taken the field on four occasions.

GINNA KAUFMAN, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kaufman, Appleton, tries to think how many skirts she has that will go with the sweater she has found as a possible Christmas gift. Will I be able to wear this with the blue one, she seems to be asking. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Percentage of Twins Expected to Increase

CHICAGO — An increase in the percentage of twins in the total population of the world's population, according to an article in the current (December) issue of the American Medical Association magazine, published by the rate of twin births throughout the world, the article pointed out. In the United States, the rate is 1 in every 86 live births, many premature twins but in Denmark it is 1 in every 60 while twinning is lost in the past," the article said. "Since the tendency to have twins is inherited, and graphical differences with a rate more twins are being saved, it of 1 in every 66 births in Kentucky and 1 in every 123 in Nevada.

Second Chance

After one set of twins, the chances of a mother having another set zoom to about five times the national average, or 1 in 17 live births, the article said.

Twins definitely do "run in the family," it was pointed out. In this respect, there is evidence that the world's record mother may have been an Austrian woman who reportedly bore 69 children, including four sets of quadruplets, seven sets of triplets and 16 sets of twins.

Discussing various types of twins, the article reported identical twins, who develop from one egg, are not really identical but their similarities are amazing. For example, differences can be detected in their handwriting and fingerprints, it was pointed out.

Still Individuals

"Although carbon-copy twins start with identical make-up and their environments appear to be the same, there are countless minor differences in their surroundings that cause them to develop into two individuals, two separate personalities," the article stated.

Once in every four identical-twin births, the babies are literally reflections of each other. Termed mirror-imaging, the physical characteristics of one side of one twin's body are reflected in the opposite side of the other.

Mirror-imaging led to the one case on record when identical twins could not even tell themselves apart, according to the article. Sir Francis Galton, famous expert on heredity, reported that a young girl began a conversation with her own reflection in a mirror, in the belief that it was her mirror-image sister.

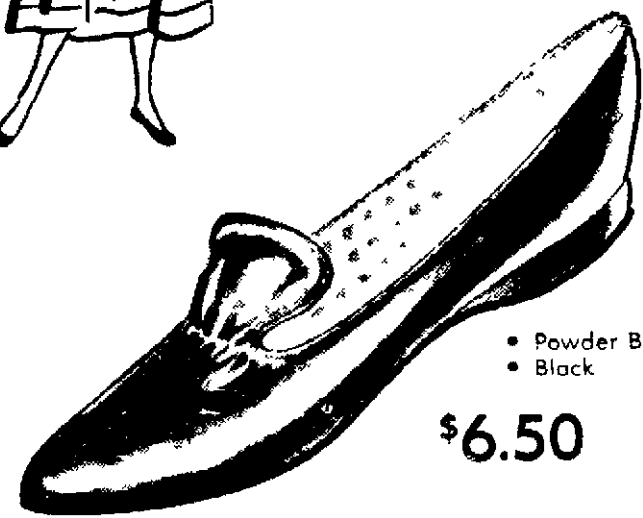

Author of the article was Clifford B. Hicks.

Celebrate Spring

Orange soufflé with fresh strawberry sauce is a special occasion dessert. Make the soufflé out of concentrated orange juice, add one-fourth cup of water to a 6-ounce can. Thicken with 3 tablespoons flour, add 3 tablespoons of butter and cook over a medium heat. Cool the thickened mixture slightly, then add 4 egg yolks, beaten very light. Fold in stiffly beaten whites of 4 eggs and bake in a buttered 2-quart soufflé dish. Preheat the oven to 375 degrees for soufflés. This amount will bake in about 30 minutes.

Sheinwold Peculiar Result in Match Told

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

They hold Youth vs. Age matches in England, and Age usually wins, but for peculiar reasons. In one crucial hand of a recent match, Age was too impetuous and Youth gave up too easily.

INSERT MAT

West, representing Age (over 35), made a very bad double of three hearts. It couldn't gain very much, and it should have told South how to play the hand. South, under 35, ruffed the third spade and made a give-up play by leading out the ace of hearts and then another heart.

He said he was hoping for a 2-2 break in trumps, but surely the double marked West with at least K-Q-X of trumps.

South can make the contract if he allows himself to be guided by West's impetuous double. The idea is to make West lead clubs.

Strip Out Diamonds
South must begin by stripping out the diamonds. He ruffs the third spade, cashes the top diamonds and ruffs dummy's last diamond. Then South leads a low heart toward dummy. If you fear that South's proper West must step up with the queen of hearts and must return for you except when you're feeling a low club. If West returns a trump, he loses a trump trick. If West returns a diamond, dummy double. Don't tell your opponent my ruffs and South discards a exactly how to play the hand club; whereupon South takes the by doubling for an extra hun-club finesse to make the con-dred points.

It ator and special liquor compart- ment that can be locked. It was considered a splendid gift for the man's den or office. The cellarette, in contemporary de- sign, is worked in a combination of cherry and maple with maple burl trim, and has simulated slate plastic top. It is 32 inches high, 40 inches wide, and 19 inches deep. Refrigeration has two-cubic foot capacity — 119 inches. The cellarette retails for about $400 with refrigerator and for considerably less without it. Believing that the executive who shares their home is very world-affairs minded, the panel team chose a globe on lighty scaled solid walnut frame in floor space. New Dolls Seem to Be Almost Human

This Year's Models Reproduce Action, Sound of Real Babies

The world of dolls abounds in real baby movements. There with astonishing new talents, all is a doll that laughs when tickled keyed up to making it more dif- and another that cries when ficult than ever to differentiate spanked. dolls from real children

Star performers this Yuletide are the new contingent of baby dolls whose behavior almost ex-actly reproduces the muscular virtuosity of infants and toddlers and most of the human babies in the repertoire of sound effects as without being touched at all, well.

Another addition to new doll accomplishments in the vocal area is the inclusion of foreign languages in the doll conversa- tional repertoire. One newcomer doll's accessories include rec-ords in six languages besides English and a wardrobe suited to travel in foreign lands, as well as more mundane social oc- casions at home.

The family concept has gained ground in the world of dolls this Yule season. There are more mama and papa dolls and teen- age male dolls are included in several family sets. The teen dolls have highly re- alistic accessories including tele- phones, hi-fi sets, and sports out- fits. The sportive look currently favored in adult fashions is echoed in the fashion doll world, too.

Bulky knit sweaters and stretch pants, for example, are "in" and so are boots. The dress- ed doll will have at-home cos- tumes, long formal evening dresses and even a collection of wigs.

A variety of character dolls add a touch of fantasy in in- teresting contrast to the detailed realism of the dolls modelled af- ter members of the average fam- ily.

School officials blamed it all on human error in preparing the data.

Homemade Cards Are Made With Little Artistic Talent

All you need, to make your card - weight paper, folded in own distinctive Christmas cards, half so your message can be is a little artistic talent, lots of spare time, plenty of patience and some scraps of cloth!

If you have these things, then sign you like (keep it very sim- ple) onto a piece of tracing pa- per. Then transfer the sketch to your card by means of ear- bon paper. Try to keep the pen- cil lines light.

Now you're ready to cut the pieces of fabric that you will paste into position on the card. To do this, use the original de- sign and trace the section you want on the back side of the fabric. Cut out and paste into place.

Small feathers, beads, braids, woven tapes, lace and dollies can be used, too. Just make sure that you use a good glue

Sweaters Certain to Please

It's sweaters — sweaters — sweaters, everywhere! Almost every woman, of every age, hopes Santa will leave at least one under her Christmas tree.

Just take a look at the infinite variety of sweaters now available. Sweaters come in all color ranges, in many fabrics and weaves, in any number of stylings and trims.

Wool is still the favorite sweater fiber for fall, appearing in many types of weaves, stitches and finishes. And then there are the synthetics and synthetic blends — complex chemical formulas that translate into attractive and wearable fashion apparel.

Keep Them Nice

After the choice of style has been made (some of the season's best are shown here), some thought should be given to sweater care. All sweater designers suggest a bit of pre-wear care — that is, some thought applied to proper laundering. An old tried-and-true trick is to become a label saver when it comes to care of man-made fibers. These usually require simple — yet specific — washing treatment, and detailed laundering instructions are usually printed right on the hangtag. Keep these handy for easy reference.

Woolens, too, deserve special treatment and a few simple steps should be followed. First, soak sweaters in lukewarm soapsuds or in cold water with special soap made especially for wool. After soaking,

1 Gently squeeze the solution through the garment thoroughly.

2 Rinse in lukewarm or cold water twice. (Don't lift the garment out of the water entirely; the weight of the water may stretch the yarn.)

3 Squeeze out the water, and roll the garment in a Turkish towel to remove excess moisture.

4 Shape on a flat surface, and dry away from sun or direct heat.

5. If pressing is desired, use a steam iron on the wrong side of the garment, or use a specially treated pressing cloth.

Ski Sweaters Are Right for this, and almost any season. Worn here with trim stretch pants is a two-tone abstract jacquard design in heavy weight Orlon, a cinch to launder. At left is an airy honeycomb stitch that resembles a hand-knit pattern. The yarn is a blend of mohair and wool and should be treated as wool when laundering.

Post-Crescent Writer Speaks to Students at Sherwood School

SHERWOOD — Mrs. Gilbert Thiel, Post-Crescent correspondent, instructed seventh and eighth grade students at Sacred Heart School Friday on news gathering procedures.

Articles for the press, and "The Sacred Heart Reporter" story and feature and the unpublished monthly will be assigned to a newspaper committee in a community also were told.

tee, of seventh and eighth grade pupils.

Mrs. Thiel explained the ethics of journalism, the make-up of the paper and the difference between weekly and daily newspapers.

Students were told the importance of gathering the answers to the five "W's" and how, in order to get the facts.

The difference between a news story and feature and the unpublished monthly will be assigned to a newspaper committee in a community also were told.

Dressmaker styled sweaters are fashion favorites among the wide and wonderful variety offered the discriminating shopper this holiday season. They are soft furnished yarns that combine lambswool with fur fiber and nayan, closely resembling precious cashmere. The one above is a hip-length cardigan lavished with pastel tone ribbon and flower trim. At right is a sweater in the heavyweight class, perfect for classroom or committee meeting. It is as generous in cut as in good looks and sports leather buttons and trim.

U. S. Christmas Customs Grew Up During Centuries

Many Brought by Immigrants, Weaved Into American Tradition

The customs of Christmas that have grown up over the centuries make it especially a time of home and family.

The joy of Christ's birth and the spirit of peace and brotherhood it heralded infuse the Advent and Christmas observances of all Christian denominations and all nationalities.

Some of the customs began as pagan customs that later were adapted and given Christian meaning. Others developed through the 2,000 years of the Christian era. Many, such as Baby Jesus during Advent by the Christmas tree and exchanging gifts, have Christian symbolism often not realized.

America, the great melting pot, received a wealth of customs brought to its shores by immigrants from many nations, and made them a part of the American Christmas. This varied heritage can easily be seen in the observance of Christmas by Fox Cities families.

Advent Starts Sunday
Advent, which begins Sunday, is observed in all Christian churches as a period of spiritual preparation for the coming of Christ. Worship services highlight prophetic passages from the Old Testament on the coming of a Messiah.

One of the most common Advent customs observed in Catholic and Protestant homes in the Fox Cities is the Advent wreath. Four candles are placed around a wreath of evergreens, and the family gathers around it for prayers usually before the evening meal.

One candle is lit on the first Sunday of Advent and during the week two on the second Sunday, three on the third and four on the fourth. The candles symbolize the 4,000 years from the promise of a Messiah given by God to Adam and Eve until His coming on the first Christmas, and the lighting of the candles marks the move from darkness of sin to the "Light of the World" in Christ.

Some churches have Advent wreaths, but it is primarily a family custom, encouraged by many pastors.

Midweek Services
Many Protestant churches in the Fox Cities hold midweek Advent worship services, at which the prophetic Scripture passages are read and familiar Christian hymns are sung. The services are planned to provide a spiritual emphasis to counteract the strong commercial emphasis during the Christmas season.

In Catholic churches, the priests wear purple vestments to the United States by German immigrants and Hessian soldiers during the American Revolution. Its origin is attributed to both St. Boniface and Martin Luther. The community Christmas tree is an American derivation of this custom which has, in turn, spread back to Europe. Evergreens, used for many Christmas decorations, symbolize eternal life.

The Irish brought to America the custom of placing lighted candles in the window during Christmas, so that the Christ Child, or a stranger representing Christ, might be guided through the night to warmth and hospitality.

Gift-giving at Christmas symbolizes the gifts which the three Magi brought the Christ Child. This has taken a special form for children in the persons of St. Nicholas and Santa Claus. The celebration of St. Nicholas' Day on Dec. 6 is a Dutch custom, still observed by some families of Dutch descent in Little Chute and the area.

Gifts to Needy
The spirit of Christian charity enkindled by Christmas has meant gifts to the needy throughout the ages. This has taken modern form in such ways as Christmas seals to combat tuberculosis.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Wisconsin Daily Newspaper League will hold its annual meeting Sunday and Monday with discussions of editorial, mechanical and advertising procedures highlighting the program.

John Torinus, editor of the Appleton Post-Crescent, will report on a summer editorial work program for high school and college journalism students.

Trends in Wisconsin newspapering will be traced by Carl Zieke of Madison, general manager of the Wisconsin Press Association and W. Wade Boardman of Madison.

Martin Wolman, business manager of Madison Newspapers Inc. and League president, said the advertising program would include talks by William T. Burgess, publisher of the La Crosse Tribune, and Vincent Kelley of New York City.

Louise Marston, society editor of the Wisconsin State Journal at Madison, will be the speaker Monday. Her subject will be "The women's role in and so began the custom of caroling in the streets."

This Fall's Toy Selection Looks Into Future for Educational Ideas

For years, toys used to be preprogrammed to perform several different functions in the adult world. This Christmas, many are scaled-down versions of the world of tomorrow.

On a stroll through toyland for example, you'll see a bat-like flying device which has a 52-inch wingspread and is 36 inches long. Children can fly it like a kite, or under power from its small gasoline engine. It climbs to about 300 feet, and when the engine runs out of fuel, it continues to swoop and soar before returning gently to earth.

It is actually the smaller version of something called a flex-wing, which will help return our astronauts from outer space in Project Gemini. Significantly, the toy version is available for children before the astronauts have the real thing.

If your imagination has been captured by predictions of automated highway systems, take a look at another new toy. Little cars travel on complex highway systems with turn-offs and cloverleaves — all by remote control.

And there's even a remote control car thrill show. The little cars race up a ramp, hurtle off into space, change lanes in mid-air, land safely on the other side, and keep on going.

Children's building sets have turned toward the future in 1963. Redesigned for the first time in 50 years, the perennial favorites now boasts models that can be

With these and many more playthings, it's the Spirit of Christmas Future that's making fantasy come true in toyland this year.

Check Pattern Returns

The check pattern in neckwear has made a strong comeback and is an ideal pattern to combine with dress-up clothing. From the most formal combination, black - and - white, the range includes a wide variety of colors right down the line to burgundy-and-white.

Records Good Gifts

Records and books are good choices for almost all teens, boy or girl. The important thing is to keep in mind the type of teen you're gifting.

Child's Play Serious Business to Youngsters

Youth Grows Faster, Learns More Through Toys in Pre-School Years

Child's play is serious business to the nation's pre-schoolers. Parents who want to encourage a child's mental, physical and emotional growth attempt to provide a creative home environment for play, which is the child's way of learning and discovering.

During the pre - school years, a child grows faster, learns more, encounters more new experiences, meets and solves more problems than at any other period in his lifetime. Toys which are good tools of play and a creative environment which encourages a full range of play are as important to a child's growth as proper nutrition.

These are the hallmarks of a creative home environment for the pre - schooler:

- Opportunity for the child to play, to learn and discover at his own pace, in whatever directions of interest that his imagination and curiosity take him, within the limits of safety.
- Make Mistakes

Handy Hints For Planning Card Lists

Christmas Is Best Time for Getting Names, Addresses

Those gay Christmas cards that decorated mantel and mirror and tree can serve a practical purpose when you take them down.

That is the best time — and they are the simplest means — for making up your 1964 Christmas card list. If the list is revised now, while new names and addresses are readily at hand, the addressing of cards next Christmas will be almost effortless.

For those to whom maintaining a list is a problem in itself, the card maker offers a number of easy solutions, some of which are available in stores and others hand - fashioned at home.

If your list runs to several hundred people and you must of necessity be meticulous about it, then probably the best system is to post the names and addresses on file cards and index them in a small file box. An advantage of this system is that the cards offer ample space to jot down information about the person and his family as it is received during the year.

Handy Reference

For those with shorter lists, the personal telephone directory is a handy reference. A tiny check mark beside a name may be used to indicate that you two exchanged cards the previous Christmas. A second mark could be used for those to whom you send gifts.

One card manufacturer this year created a special combination card and booklet for Christmas addresses. It is 5 x 6 with eight spiral - bound pages. A humorous verse appears at the top of each page and the last sheet extends a Merry Christmas to the recipient.

Greeting card firms prepare date books each year which are ideally suited for compiling Christmas address lists. The date book is part calendar and part address pad, and here again there's a place on which to note birthdays, anniversaries and other special occasions of the coming year. These are available without cost at stationery counters in stores.

An Ascot Tie Is Featured in this polyester-crepe blouse that is superbly tailored and neatly wash and wear. The long-sleeved blouse has a shirt tail that never rides up and is right under suits or with skirts. It comes in a range of pretty pastels and white. At right, blue and olive are combined in a bright abstract print in an easy-care crepe Dacron. Tailoring is meticulous and the blouse will bloom from now through spring.

Blouses 'Top' Gift Choice

That something special in be a gay pickup right through Christmas gifts, one that will winter and spring. The husband seeking to please and the son his mother too, are the ascot tie and choir boy, as well as the Bermuda and care blouse. When winter this season's skirt and trouser wearies, it will lift the spirits toppers.

like a crocus pushing its head above the ground. Whether one chooses a print or solid color for a blouse gift, it promises to be just as fashion appealing.

There's a new look to the notched collar: the cuff cowl is soft and the bow is flat. Interesting, too, are the ascot tie and choir boy, as well as the Bermuda and care blouse. When winter this season's skirt and trouser wearies, it will lift the spirits toppers.

New Collar Look

Sleeves are short, three quarter long and the collar news is just as fashion appealing.

Vibrant and exciting silk blends will please the fashion dictators of the most discriminate. Dry cleaning is a must but the color specter strikes the right note under suits with skirts. A sleeveless silk linen blouse is fashionably impressive when teamed with mohair slacks and ultra chic when worn with silk slacks in the same color.

Heavenly colors run rampant. Some of the newer colors are sky blue, lemon ice, Helena pink, whip cream, oatmeal, ultra blue, cerise bisque Hawaiian red, grey, sparkling blue, sand beige, barley and raspberry ice.

Deep and soft colors are combined in prints and geometric designs. Floral cartwheels and striped bouquets are two-and-three-color combinations such as bisque, grey and black.

Material Makes Door Into Yule Decoration

You can make your door into a huge Christmas package by pinning wide stripes of red satin material to all four sides, and drawing them together into a great bow, adding ornaments and holly for color contrast.

Whatever the materials you decide upon for your decorations, makes sure they are sturdy and can be fastened securely. If your entrance is unprotected, weatherproof your designs with a coating of clear shellac or use water-resistant materials such as oilcloth.

New Handbag Adds Fresh, Rich Look to Any Costume

This year Santa digs down a soft, wrinkle-free leather line are sometimes starkly simple. deep and comes up with the bag ing. These after - dark hand- and may be sparked with a bags of smooth, lustre and suede touch of jewelry.

Whether it's a tote, satchel, clutch or box, a fashionable handbag is always a welcome gift. And in this year of leather, the selection is greater than ever.

Rich Look

Best of all, the new handbags have a rich look, thanks to fresh new colors and a variety of leather tannages — grained, smooth, waxy, suede and antiqued, among others.

With larger sizes making handbag headlines, a thoughtful gift would be a spacious satchel, pouch or box bag with room for all the paraphernalia essential to the modern woman.

Grained, brushed, antiqued and the new waxy leathers are seen most often in this style, with fashion touches leaning toward brass hardware, single or double leather straps, and multi-color combinations.

Holiday Bag

If you would rather your Christmas gift had a dressy touch, in keeping with the festive season, there are trim smooth and suede leather handbags with a slimmer, smaller silhouette.

Highlighted with brushed gold closings, flat little bows or chain handles, these dressy daytime bags are a cinch to be put to immediate use for some special holiday event.

Colors of Rainbow

You'll find a full palette of colors from which to choose, with many brown tones and deep greens and reds most prominent. Neutral shades such as taupe and fog grey, and the natural look of waxy and antiqued leather tannages, are also popular and sure to please.

For cocktail and evening wear, she'll cherish a pretty clutch or small envelope with

The Attractive Bag, Above, Is perfect for the station wagon set at home or abroad. The satchel is in oatmeal color and features a brass frame with a gold key lock. It has welt seaming and luggage buttons. The trio, below, will swing smartly down the Avenue this year. The barrel box bag, lower left, is in two tones of smooth leather—grey mist and black. The rounded dress bag, top, has a florentine gold watch at the closing. The oatmeal purse is so popular for the sportive look.

Joining Pieces of Rubber

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: What adhesive is used to join together several pieces of foam rubber?

A: Use rubber cement, available at foam rubber dealers, or. How can I bleach these? The adhesive is applied to each. A: Wood bleaching kits are of the surfaces to be brought available at paint and hardware together and allowed to remain stores. Follow manufacturer's until tacky (about five minutes usually). Then bring the pieces together. Or try the following home-

Q: We have a horrible black wood spot on our hardwood floor. Looks like grease or some kind of oil was spilled on it a long time ago. We tried bleaching it with household chloride bleach (solved). Then brush this solution on the clean, bare wood of bleach. The bleach did lighten surface and allow to remain at

It a little. What would you suggest? least eight hours (overnight). Remove all trace of the bleach then, by rinsing two or three times with clear water. When wood is completely dry, sand smooth, wipe off dust and finish as desired. For mild bleaching action, household chlorine bleach is frequently effective; rinse off afterwards with clear water.

Q: The hot water tank in the house we just moved into seems very noisy. We didn't have this in our old house and find the gurgling very annoying. The tank seems to be in good condition otherwise. How can this be corrected?

A: Gurgling, or rumbling, in a hot water tank is usually caused by the formation of steam. The noise occurs as steam forces its way through the water in rising to the tank. It is especially likely when water is heated in a coil or knuckle in the firebox of the house heater. Coil or knuckle connections should steam.

Delicious Dressing For Turkey

As traditional as the holidays themselves is the stuffing for a festive turkey. Many stuffing recipes have been handed down from family to family. Here's a favorite from a family in California. Hickory Hill Turkey Stuffing has a savory goodness that's highlighted by the nutlike flavor of the California sherry wine used to moisten the stuffing.

1 cup chopped onion
1 cup finely cut celery
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup butter or margarine
5 cups (1 1/4 quarts) corn bread crumbs
4 cups (1 quart) grated soft bread crumbs
1 cup finely chopped pecans or walnuts
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sage
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 cup California sherry

Saute onion, celery and parsley gently in butter for 5 minutes. Mix crumbs, nuts and seasonings in a large bowl; add vegetable-butter mixture and wine, toss gently again. Enough ready-to-cook weight. (One-half of this recipe is just right for a junior-sized 6-pounder.)

Mohair Hostess Gowns, Sleepshirts Perfect for Blustery Winter Evenings

From now on pajama parties will be sleepshirt parties. How come? Because of the new short and snappy sleepshirts, that's why. In crisp, colorful cotton, their shirt-cut imitates a smock, full and roomy. You'll love the all-girl look. Wide stripes or pin stripes, or rows and rows of cut-up paper dolls, printed in fun-drenched colors on white. Each has dapper touches of lace or ruffled eyelet. Teen-agers like them because they're witty and somewhat giddy. Everyone likes them because there's no "see through" problem and they become decorative lounge-about. Buy a bunch for gifting and don't forget yourself.

Want something soft and snugly instead of clever and crisp? Curl up with a good-looking mohair. These delectable mohairs will be your favorite household pets. They're brilliantly colored, easy as a sweater, and cozy as a warm hearth. Great for informal entertaining or "just family" evenings.

Fashionable Gowns

Doing a solo is the hostess gown tied high with a satin drawstring. Adapting fashion's "layered look," two mohair shifts are brilliant companions to their own coordinated "soft-shirt" gowns. Choose the long-sleeved, knee length mohair pull-over or the very new, very sophisticated sleeveless shift, mohair to the floor. Both are slit at the side for ease of movement. And in both styles, the gowns are long sleeved, ruffled at the throat and wrist. All bound (to be beautiful) with satin.

Brush Up Sleek New Hairdos

A new hairdo for the festive holidays ahead will add excitement and fun to your party-going. It's always an adventure to try a different hairstyle, and the new ones with their smooth, sleek lines are as smart as they are becoming.

But don't let the simplicity of the new coils fool you—they do need a permanent for body and control. They need a different nent from relaxing... which on curlers kind of permanent, one that means that this uncurlly perma gives only body and curves, no nent will last. It's not here to day and gone tomorrow.

Uncurlly!

Now, at last, there is an un starts set aside about two hours curly permanent in a home to give yourself this new wave wave. It's given with jumbo size in the privacy and comfort of curlers and a waving lotion home, at your own convenience formulated to go with them. The Easy Directions Just dampen each tress with and curve to the hair but no waving lotion and wind on jum parties, pin a spray of holly or mistletoe on the side for a touch waving lotion keeps the perma- again when all your hair is up of gayety.

Math Helps In Placing Of Furniture

Do you have the urge to put up another painting on the living room wall? Try a new love seat in front of the windows? Buy an area rug for the far end of the room?

Stop and think — long — before you do. Your home may look too cluttered or too empty or just plain dull, but before you make a move there are several general rules to follow that can make your decorating life easier. The first mouse rule of decorating is balance in all parts of the room. North wall should balance with south, east with the west wall.

Balance Height and Bulk

Balance results from approximately equal height and bulk of wall decorations as well as furniture and each piece of furniture should be in scale and proportion to others in the room.

Next, take a good look at your traffic lanes. They should be at least two feet wide and furniture placement should never interfere with these or with door openings.

What about activity areas — reading, writing, television viewing, dining, card playing? Have you conscientiously staked these out with sufficient space for comfort? Each area should be kept clear of traffic lanes and as far from other groupings as possible.

Area Needed

Here are suggested vital statistics concerning furniture arrangements.

Allow at least a five foot square of floor space for a bridge table and chairs.

The greatest distance at which people should be seated in order to converse freely in a living room is eight feet.

The minimum knee space between chair or sofa and coffee table is ten inches.

Allow at least 18 inches between dining room chairs for convenience in seating and service.

A setting tips booklet is included in the kit.

When your hair is dry, brush it in your new coil. For holiday parties, pin a spray of holly or mistletoe on the side for a touch of gayety.

place your dressing table so that daylight comes over the left shoulder. Try to place the beds so that the morning sun does not strike the eyes.

New Bill Makes Santa's Game Pack Assassination Federal Offense

Proxmire Measure Includes Two Other Government Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D - Wis., introduced Tuesday a bill that would make a federal offense the assassination of a president, vice president or chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, or any conspiracy or effort to kill them.

The proposal was one of several covering the same area of federal law introduced Tuesday in Congress.

In introducing the measure, Proxmire complained of the police handling in Dallas of Lee Oswald, the man charged with the killing of President John F. Kennedy. Oswald was shot to death by another man Sunday as he was being moved from one jail to another.

TV Trial

"Since last Friday the man accused of murdering President Kennedy was tried by television," Proxmire said.

"Police officials told the world, including virtually every potential juror, that the case against Lee Oswald was airtight."

"He was held 48 hours—until his death—without counsel," Proxmire said. "And then he was himself murdered in full view of tens of millions of Americans by a strip-tease operator with a police record in Chicago as well as in Dallas, a man well known to the police."

Proxmire said, "The trial of

Santa's Game Pack Has Much New Variety

Many Interesting Novelties Appear On Market for Yuletide Gift-Giving

Santa's bountiful new game pack is setting an all time record for variety, with ingenious competitions designed to intrigue everyone from toddlers to teens and to parents.

In the area of games modeled from real life situations, one scales down that classic favorite—musical chairs—to table size.

Another novelty with a small fry appeal involves marble mazes shaped like all day suckers. Object of play is to shake down the marbles into the stick of the lollies; here kindergartners and grownups can compete on equal terms.

A four alarm game adds a new touch of realism to the role of fireman; unfavorable moves result in the whole neighborhood burning down.

Significant Trends

Among the significant trends this season is the burgeoning of a whole crop of games keyed to play with words. Typical of these modern day versions of the gay nineties mode for verbal charades are match games, where the winner is the one who anticipates best what other players will say.

Play might focus, for example, on naming the parts of a horse—wither, tail and so on.

The man accused of murdering President Kennedy should have been a showcase of democracy in action with meticulous attention for the rights of even the man accused of this monstrous crime."

Players whose word choices match are the ones who score.

A novel angle on word play is provided by games of conversation, which have the avowed purpose of getting players in to fast moving repartee. A moderator's bell is provided to curb too heated argument.

Another newcomer in the word game ranks has play focused on filling in a missing word at the ends of sentences. There's a new educational version of Pass-word for school children.

Military Games

The vogue for games keyed to military maneuvers continues to gain strength. Newest form of table combat is a replay of World War I air conflicts. Playing pieces are scale models of famous Fokkers and other early fighting plane models. Pieces are elevated to achieve maximum realism and each game is accompanied by a history of the war in outline form.

Another novelty this Christmas is a game to reproduce the action of a Broadway play.

Some quiz game classics appear with new questions year after year.

The yearning of the armchair sports fan to replay big league events as exactly as possible is catered to with an ingenious new crop of electric powered games. New is an electric football game which has a magnetized ball which can be picked up as in real play and a kicker-passer device.

Cecile Vander Heyden, Appleton, seems to be wondering if she would really be the belle of the ski hill with the newest in ski jacket fashions. Christmas could help answer the question. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Kennedy Picture to Whitefish Bay Girl

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ann Spira, 9, of suburban Whitefish Bay received from the White House Tuesday an autographed picture of the late President

Kennedy and a letter dated two days before his death. Ann, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Spira had written the White House several weeks ago telling Mr. Kennedy she liked him and asking for a picture. She also sent her own picture and asked about physical fitness exercises. The reply, dated Nov. 20, contained the requested picture and a letter from Miss Evelyn Lincoln, the President's personal secretary.

Council Will Not Act on Mandatory Retirement Issue

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican Ecumenical Council, which probably will not act on a mandatory retirement issue, will end its second session next week without taking action on a provocative proposal to make retirement at 75 mandatory for 81 when he died last June.

Had such a rule been in effect a few years ago, there would have been no Pope John XXIII, and probably no ecumenical council. The former cardinal patriarch of Venice was 75 in 1958, two years before the College of Cardinals elected him to succeed Pius XII.

Pope John reportedly re-portedly moved to the Vatican Palace "Well, here I will end its second session next week without taking action on a provocative proposal to make retirement at 75 mandatory for 81 when he died last June."

The proposal for a fixed retirement age came up during a discussion by the 2,200 council fathers of a topic on bishops and a parish bulletin. In the 119 diocesan government The sur-cesses and 27 archdioceses of the United States, a mandatory retirement age of 75 would re-quire when it puts together amend-ments to the topic during the nine bishops, including one cardinal, James Francis Mc-Donnell, who is 77.

The Rev. Paul V. Maloney, a Boston priest who is assistant pastor of the American Catholic parish church in Rome, went through statistics on the U.S. Catholic hierarchy.

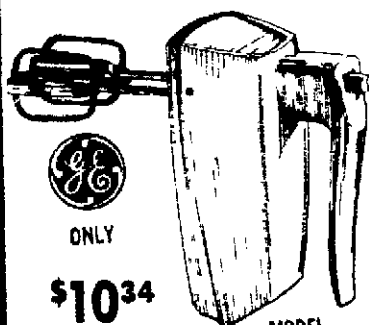

He published these figures in Green Bay, Wis.

Packer, Lion Tilt Today Is 13th, Final of Series

Green Bay Has Won Only Three While Losing Nine to Detroit

DETROIT — The Packers came out of this town with more hash than turkey in the 12th Thanksgiving day game. Today's game is the 13th and final in the colorful Turkey Day series for the Packers. Starting next year teams will go into Briggs Stadium on this day on a revolving basis.

Army-Navy Contest Will Be Televised

CBS Also Hopes To Air Tilt With OSU, Michigan

NEW YORK (AP) — The Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia Dec. 7 will be shown on national television, the Columbia Broadcasting System announced Wednesday.

Kickoff time will be 1:15 p.m. EST.

The game originally had been scheduled for Nov. 30 but was delayed a week because of the death of President Kennedy.

CBS said two regional network games have been cleared to serve as substitutes for the Army-Navy game this Saturday. A third has yet to be cleared.

The Harvard-Yale game at New Haven, Conn., will be shown in the East. It is scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. EST. The Baylor-Rice game at Houston will be shown in the South and Southwest. Starting time is 3 p.m. EST.

The network said it is hopeful of landing the Ohio State-Michigan game at East Lansing, Mich., for Midwest and Far West telecasts.

The decision by CBS to telecast the Army-Navy game has thrown the network TV schedule out of kilter. The Alabama-Miami of Florida game was on the TV schedule for Dec. 7.

A request by CBS to move the Alabama-Miami game up to Dec. 14 has run into difficulty. Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said Coach Andy Gustafson of Miami and Bear Bryant of Alabama must agree to such a change, and the institutions must be satisfied financially by CBS before the schedule alterations can be approved.

Miami and Alabama were to receive $140,000 each for telecast rights to their game. Originally scheduled for Oct. 18, it was postponed to Dec. 7 to get the TV contract.

Kohler Bows To Chilton '5'

69-55 Victory Gives Tigers 1-1 EWC Standing

CHILTON — The Chilton Tigers out-scraped a rangy Kohler quintet to notch a 69-55 Eastern Wisconsin Conference win here Wednesday night. The victory gave Chilton a 1-1 league mark. Kohler is 0-2.

Chilton, without a man over the 6-foot mark, took a 21-13 first-period lead over the Bombers, whose starting line-up had only one man under 6-2. The Tigers were never in serious trouble thereafter, although Kohler cut the Chilton lead to six points early in the final frame.

Jim Vogel led a balanced Tiger attack with 20 points. Scott Wilson added 16. The five Tiger starters played the entire game, and four scored in double figures.

Arlyn Wessel, Kohler's 6-7 center, tallied 16 points, eight of them in the first period, to pace the losers.

Tom Moore to Miss Tilt Today

DETROIT (AP) — Green Bay Packers Coach Vince Lombardi said late Wednesday that an eye injury will keep starting halfback Tom Moore out of Thursday's game with the Detroit Lions here.

Moore suffered an injury to his eye in the Packers' 28-10 National Football League victory over San Francisco last Sunday. Lombardi said doctors recommended that Moore not play Thursday.

Lombardi said he would start Elijah Pitts in Moore's place. feat considering the 1-10-1 of the previous year. The 1961 victory put the Bays one more step toward their second Western title. They won it in the next game — versus the Giants in Milwaukee.

Score 87 Points
Oddly enough, the first game in the series in 1951 survived the next 11 as the wildest and highest scoring. The Lions won the tennis-neck match 52 to 35, a total of 87 points. Stretch Elliott scored two touchdowns for the Pack and Tobin Rote, Dom Moselle and Ray Pelfrey one each. Bob Hoernschmeyer, Leon Hart and Jack Christiansen each scored two for Detroit and Doak Walker one. Christiansen, now head coach of the 49ers, had a field day returning punts, galloping back four for 175 yards and two TDs.

The 1956 game was a real upset and it helped to establish the Packers in the eyes of millions of TV viewers. This was the Packers' first good showing on national television. Rote ran for one touchdown and threw touchdown passes to Fred Cone and Billy Howton. Cone kicked a 12-yard field goal. For Detroit, Bobby Layne kicked two field goals, hurled a TD pass to Dave Middleton and rushed Hart for the other TD.

The Packers kept the Lions on their heels with short swing passes all afternoon. Present Packers who played in that game are Dave Hanner, Bob Skoronski, Forrest Gregg, Bill Forester and Jim Ringo.

Hornung Stars
The Packers scored 17 points in the first quarter of the 1959 game and then held on. The final score of 24-17 was set at the half as the two clubs fought to a stalemate in the second half. Paul Hornung scored 18 points on two touchdowns, a field goal and three extra points. Hornung was hurt in the first half and remained out.

The 1961 game was a real crucial since the Lions still were in the running, but the Packers were murder this day. It was played in mud and rain and Hornung, then an Army private, was flown in from his camp in Kansas. Jim Taylor scored the two Packer TDs and Hornung kicked a victory-conquering field goal near the end. The winning TD was set up by an interception by Herb Adderley, then a rookie.

And so it went... It's going to be nice next Thanksgiving Day to watch somebody else work on the holiday!

Northern Pressure Down

20 Per Cent Increase In Deer Kill So Far

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin Conservation Department said Wednesday that reports received by the Madison office indicate a deer kill up 20 per cent over last year after five days of shooting.

Registrations reported at Madison show a kill of 37,639 deer. But only in the southern conservation area were registration reports complete through Wednesday.

The southern area kill stands at 2,580 deer, up about 10 per cent over last year's five day total.

In the west central area through Tuesday the total was 15,785. The east central total through Monday was 1,392, northwest an estimated 7,000 through Tuesday and northeast 6,274 through Tuesday. The commission said it expects increased hunting pressure starting Thanksgiving Day to continue through the season's close Dec. 1.

There is little prospect of a change in weather and hunting conditions are good, but lack of snow and the dryness of hunting areas prevent conditions from being ideal.

Offensive Guard Jerry Kramer and Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers watch the Packer defense against the San Francisco 49ers last Sunday at Milwaukee. Packer fans will be watching today for a repeat of Kramer's performance Sunday, where he kicked four extra points and took the NFL scoring lead with a total of 80 points. Don Chandler of the New York Giants, another kicker, is one point behind Kramer. (AP Wirephoto)

Jerry Kramer Has NFL Scoring Lead

Jimmy Brown Nears Rushing Record; Tittle Leads Passers

NEW YORK (AP) — If Y. A. Tittle throws one touchdown pass for the New York Giants against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday at Dallas he will tie the all-time National Football League record of 196 set by Bobby Layne from 1948 to 1962.

Actually, Y. A. already has thrown 225 TD passes, counting his days with Baltimore in the All-America Conference, but the NFL does not count them in its record books.

Tittle's first scoring pass in the NFL was thrown to Hal Crisler, now a sporting goods salesman in Los Altos, Calif. Both played with the Baltimore Colts at the time.

It was a 31-yard toss against the San Francisco 49ers in the second period of a game played Oct. 29, 1950. Y. A. had just come off the bench. Now, 13 years later, the old bald eagle is zooming in on the all-time record.

Maintains Lead
Despite the defeat of the New York Giants, Tittle maintained his passing lead with a 60.8 completion percentage. He has thrown 29 passes this season, only four short of the league record he set last year. The Giants have three games to play.

Cleveland's Jimmy Brown also is on the verge of a record, held by himself. He has 1,498 yards rushing compared to his record total of 1,527 in 1958. All he needs is 29 more yards against St. Louis Sunday.

Jerry Kramer of Green Bay tops the scorers with 80 points, just one point ahead of Don Chandler of the New York Giants. Brown's 78 points put him in third position but all of his came on touchdowns. Both Kramer and Chandler are kickers.

Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis remains the top receiver with 58 for 743 yards, although Bobby Mitchell of Washington has the

AHS Comes To Life in Second Half

MENASHA — A jump shot from the free throw line by Tom Callaway in the final 16 seconds brought Appleton High School from behind in a wild 57-56 victory over Menasha High Wednesday night at the Bluejay gym.

Menasha, led by the shooting of Pat Kenney and Dick Sorenson, was in front through most of the first half. But Bluejays quarter margins of 21-17 and 27-26 melted before a tight Terror third period zone press. Appleton led 44-37 after three quarters.

Menasha had a 56-53 lead with 1:11 to play, but baskets by Chuck McKee with 25 seconds left and Callaway with 16 produced the Terrors first win in two starts.

The Bluejays have a 1-1 record for the season.

Sorenson was the high scorer for Menasha and the game with 18 points. Brian Bock and Neil Weber paced AHS with 12 each.

Indians Score Second Straight Victory, 66-51

OSHKOSH — Oshkosh High School jumped off to a 6-0 lead and never trailed as the Indians beat Madison East, 66-51, in a non-conference basketball game here Wednesday night.

The win was Oshkosh's second without a loss. Guard Greg Wood paced Oshkosh's attack with 17 points, scoring nine of them in the first quarter.

Mike Zuehlke and Miles Strasser had 11 points each. Strasser sat out most of the second half after picking up four fouls early in the game. Bruce Pease led Madison East with 19 points.

Cast Removed From Foot of Pistons' Dave DeBuschere

DETROIT (AP) — The cast was removed Wednesday from the injured left foot of the Detroit Pistons' Dave DeBuschere, and the team physician said he could resume practice at once.

Hawks Trail At Halftime, Then Rally

MARINETTE — Xavier's Hawks shook off the effects of a tight Marinette Central defense which allowed the defending conference champions only two points in the first quarter, and pounded back to beat the Cavaliers, 56-41, Wednesday night.

Bob DeBruin scored the lone bucket for the Hawks in the opening frame and his teammates could do little better in the second quarter, as Marinette left the court at halftime with a 21-11 lead.

The pressure of the Hawks press began to take its toll in the third period, however, as Xavier counted 24 points to mount a 35-29 lead. The turning point was at 3:18 of the frame when DeBruin pumped in a basket to give the Hawks a 30-29 lead. They never trailed again.

DeBruin led Hawk scorers with 14 points, followed by Tom Rankin with 13. Six-foot-four center Jan Roland led all scorers with 10 points.

The Xavier Jayvees won, 44-34.

Auction Sells Big Daddy's All-Gold Caddy

BALTIMORE (AP) — The late Big Daddy Lipscomb's proudest possession—his gold Cadillac—was auctioned Wednesday for $4,400.

Lipscomb, former defensive tackle with Baltimore and Pittsburgh of the National Football League, died May 10. Death was due to an overdose of heroin, a coroner's report said.

His car was bought by William O'Rourke, who represented a Baltimore car dealer. There were three bidders among the 40 people who attended the auc-

Illinois-MSU Game Winner to Take Home Thanksgiving Treats

Winners of Letters Get Better Grades

Study by State College Official Proves Surprising

MADISON (AP)—Letter winning State College athletes get better scholastic grades than those who try for the team but miss a letter, results of a study showed Wednesday.

The State College system office in Madison reported on a survey made at La Crosse State College by Robert M. Stesck, student union director.

The study looked into the classroom records of 96 men who earned letters in sports, 43 who played on athletic teams without winning letters and 147 who did not participate in any sport for a full season.

The findings showed that the grade point average of lettermen and nonathletes were identical — 2.3. Athletes who did not win letters had a grade point average of 2.0.

Athletic activities included football, basketball, golf, tennis, cross country, gymnastics, track, wrestling, swimming and baseball.

Men who participated in athletics also participated in more religious and campus activity groups, held more offices in school organizations, and worked at more part time jobs than the nonathletes, Stesck found.

Big 10 Crown, Rose Bowl Among Holiday Goodies

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—There was a feast of Thanksgiving goodies up for grabs today by the winner of the Michigan State-Illinois football game. There were such tasty items as:

The Big Ten title. . . A trip to the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day. . . Enormous prestige for the winning coach. . . A jump or a dump in the national ratings. . . Tremendous publicity for any star players to help with All-America recognition or their pro ambitions.

Winner takes all — with one exception. Michigan State would win it all in case of a tie. The Spartans have four wins, no losses and a tie in conference play. Illinois has won four, lost one and tied one.

Both teams were under the same psychological pressure because the climax game was postponed from last Saturday due to the assassination of President Kennedy.

Coaches Duffy Daugherty of MSU and Pete Elliott of Illinois built up game-winning enthusiasm again after the letdown.

The weather improved from Saturday. The forecast was for cloudy and overcast skies, a mild 50 degree temperature and a dry field.

Big Ten Commissioner Bill Reed promised the Rose Bowl entry would be announced as soon after the finish as possible.

Illinois hasn't been to the Rose Bowl since after the 1951 season. Michigan State made the coast jaunt following the 1953 and 1955 seasons.

Linda Lunsman, 16, a Danbury High School student, bagged this huge bear while deer hunting near her home. "I walked right up on him . . . he was looking right at me . . . I got scared . . . then I shot him," Linda said. It took seven men to drag the bear out of the woods and the animal weighed 635 pounds on a lumberyard scale. It is believed to be Wisconsin's biggest bear kill. (AP Wirephoto)

Redskins Autograph Sunday's Game Ball, Give It to JFK Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP) — When he gets a little older maybe John F. Kennedy Jr. will understand that the autographed football he got this week represents one of the highest tributes the Washington Redskins could pay to his late father.

Some sportswriters here and in Philadelphia scoffed when the Redskins voted to give the game ball of their 13-10 victory Sunday to the White House.

The junior Foxes were on top, 13-3 at the half and 19-8 at the end of three periods. The Junior Jays cut the margin to 21-16 with an 11-point final frame but time ran out on them.

Dave Tiedt led the winners, with 10 points, and Bob Schuelke added eight. John Robinson's five points paced Menasha.

The players hadn't wanted to play the game, but the National Football League commissioner ordered them to play.

The Redskins Tuesday reaffirmed their desire to give the game ball, normally awarded to the star player in the game, to Kennedy's 3-year-old son.

"We asked Coach McPeak if he thought it was corny when we suggested the gift after the game," explained tackle Bob Tonneff, Redskin co-captain.

"Bill said no, he didn't think it was corny. Then we all stood there in our dirty uniforms and prayed for the President. That's all we had to offer—our prayers and an old scuffed football."

Wilt Hits 18 Shots in Row

Paces Warriors In 118-89 Victory Over New York

BOSTON (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain set a record for consecutive field goals Wednesday night as his San Francisco Warriors crushed the New York Knicks 118-89 in the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Chamberlain scored 38 points and hit 18 shots in a row after missing his first try. None of his shots traveled more than six feet during the record run, which was not broken because Wilt sat out the fourth period.

The previous mark of 13 was set by Larry Costello while playing for Syracuse in a game at Boston Dec. 8, 1961.

Chamberlain scored only eight points in the first period, then went on his rampage in the second quarter as the Warriors piled up a 74-41 lead at halftime.

Wilt had 32 at intermission and teammate Guy Rodgers had 15 assists in the same period. Rodgers got only one more assist, leaving him far short of the NBA record of 28 he holds jointly with former Boston star Bob Cousy.

Lenny Moore Tries To Run in Drill, But Gives It Up

BALTIMORE (AP) — Lenny Moore, the ailing halfback of the Baltimore Colts, returned to the practice field Tuesday but quit after a few minutes of running.

Moore, who has been complaining of dizzy spells after being hit on the head three weeks ago, was the first Colt on the field. He tried cutting in different directions while running with his hands in his warmup jacket.

"How's it feel, Lenny?" someone asked.

"It's no good, man," he said. "I just can't do it."

With that, he walked to the dressing room and didn't return.

Senior Bowl To be on TV

NBC Statement Clears Up Doubt About Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—The 15th annual Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., Jan. 4 will be one of eight post-season football games televised by the NBC network.

Carl Lindemann Jr., vice-president in charge of sports, announced Wednesday.

There had been some doubt whether NBC would telecast the one asked.

"It's no good, man," he said. "I just can't do it."

With that, he walked to the dressing room and didn't return.

Senior Bowl because the question of Negro eligibility for the all-star game.

NBC previously had cancelled its network telecast of the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 28 because it said Negroes were not invited to play.

Asked whether Negroes would be invited to play in the Senior Bowl, an NBC spokesman said "just say the game is on our schedule now."

The other post-season games to be telecast are:

Saturday, Dec. 14, Pasadena, Calif., Junior Rose Bowl.

Saturday, Dec. 21, Philadelphia, Liberty Bowl.

Saturday, Dec. 28, San Francisco East-West Shrine game.

Sunday, Dec. 29, National Football League championship game at site of Western Conference winner.

Wednesday, Jan. 1, New Orleans, Sugar Bowl.

Wednesday, Jan. 1, Pasadena, Calif., Rose Bowl.

Sunday, Jan. 12 at Los Angeles, NFL Pro Bowl.

92 Scholar-Athletes To Receive Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—A onetime displaced person from Lithuania, three mathematics wizards and a punter majoring in nuclear propulsion are among nine players named Wednesday as winners of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame's Scholar-Athlete Awards.

Vincent Draddy, chairman of the foundation's Awards Committee, announced the awards, which also include the $500 Earl H. Blaik Fellowships for graduate study.

In addition, any of the nine players who go on to medical studies will share the $2,500 Medical Economics Foundation Award, presented for the first time this year by William L. Chapman Jr., publisher of Medical Economics Magazine.

The winners are Colorado School of Mines center Kenneth

Has B Average

Grigaliunas, born in Lithuania and occupant of a displaced persons camp for six years, is captain of the nationally-ranked Panthers. He has a B average in industrial engineering.

Ince is the halfback-punter studying nuclear propulsion. He holds the top undergraduate rank among Midshipmen, Brigade Commander.

For the first time nine men were selected instead of the usual eight — one from each NCAA district. The reason is that the committee could not decide between Ince and Grigaliunas in District Two, so they selected both.

Briggs is a major in mathematics, Gill in mathematics and physics and Trull in mathematics and biology.

Walls plans to go on to study medicine. Ancell is a major in petroleum engineering, Deller in mechanical engineering, and Drigotas in government.

Bleier's Bar won the first round championship sweeping three games to go undefeated in the Appleton Recreation Department Men's Volleyball League.

Bleier's tripped the Power company Chargers (15-6 by scores of 15-13, 15-13 and 15-5. Valley Ready Mix (10-11) took two games from AAL (5-16) and the Troublemakers (9-12) won three from the Power Company Kilowatts (7-14). Sindahl's (17-4) finished in second place with a forfeit win over the Feltmakers.

Second round games Monday will have Sindahl's meeting AAL, Kilowatts versus Valley Ready Mix. Chargers against Troublemakers and Bleier's will meet the Feltmakers.

Kelso Again Designated as Horse of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Kelso, great-grandson of the immortal Man O' War who is bidding to eclipse his own illustrious ancestor as the most outstanding thoroughbred of all time, has gained his fourth consecutive Horse of the Year title.

The trim, dark bay, 6-year-old gelding owned by Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stables, was a unanimous choice of the 36 selectors in the poll announced today by the Daily Racing Form and the Morning Telegraph.

He also was named best handicap horse of the year, rounding out four straight years of topping American thoroughbred racing.

Big 10 Basketball Teams Swinging Into Action on Saturday

One of League's Most Open Races Being Anticipated

BY JOE MOOSHL

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten basketball teams swing into pre-conference action Saturday in what could turn out to be one of the league's most open races.

Some 60 non-conference games will be played before a hectic swirl through various holiday tournaments prior to the opening of the championship race Jan. 4.

A poll of conference coaches finds no less than six teams given a chance to win the title shared by Ohio State and Illinois last season.

Ohio State, mainly because of All-American Gary Braddis, and talent-loaded Michigan are considered the teams to beat.

But Indiana, Minnesota, Illinois and Northwestern are capable of strong challenges. This leaves Iowa, Wisconsin, Purdue and Michigan State presumably out of the running. But anyone of these clubs—all of whom finished in the second division—could turn into a contender if some bright sophomore star were to come onto the scene.

Leading Scores
Braddis, 6-8, was the Big Ten's leading scorer last season and was third in rebounding. Dick Ricketts and Don Devoe are back to help the Buckeyes try for a fifth straight title.

Michigan's lofty ranking results mainly from the talents of Bill Buntin, a 232-pound, 6-7 junior, Buntin last season lifted the Wolverines into the first division. He finished fourth in scoring and second in rebounding. Michigan also has Bobby Cantrell and Doug Herner back in addition to sophomore Cazzie Russell who has enough ability to step in and take over a starring role.

Indiana will be without Jimmy Rayl and Tom Bolyard, two of the league's top scorers. But the Hoosiers have the fabulous Van Arsdale twins—Dick and Tom—returning. Also in the wings is 6-8 Ron Peyser who saw limited service as a sophomore. Gary Geiger and Max Walker are a couple of sophomores to watch.

Illinois also lost its one-two scoring punch Dave Downey and Bill Small. Yet, the Illinois can field such veterans as Skip Thoren, Tal Brody, Bogie Redmon and Bill Edwards. Sophomore Don Freeman rates high.

Terry Kunze is Minnesota's top man among six returning lettermen. Although the Gophers lost Eric Magdanz, Tom McGrann and Bob Bateman, Minnesota has high hopes because of three sophomore speedsters. They are Louis Hudson, Don Yates and Archie Clark. All three could win starting jobs and give Minnesota its fastest basketball team in history.

Rich Falk, Rick Lopessa and Marty Riessen are proven veterans in Northwestern's scheme. However, the Wildcats have a big question mark in 6-9 Jim Pitts. If Pitts has completely recovered from a knee operation, new head Coach Larry Glass might break in with a title.

Iowa hopes to improve on its 5-9 record but will need help from sophomores Dave Roach, the Hawkeyes' leading scorer and rebounder is back.

Michigan State wasn't as bad as its 3-11 record but the Spartans failed to win any close games and suffered three losses by one point. Veterans Fred Thomann, Pete Gent and Marcus Sanders make up a solid nucleus. Stan Washington is the team's outstanding sophomore prospect.

Finish Last

Purdue finished last in 1963 but will come up with a needed big man this season. He's 7-foot sophomore George Grams. The back-court situation is well in hand with Mel Gariand, Bob Purkhiser and Ron Hughes in charge. Up front, sophomores Steve O'Neill and Dave Schell-hase might be the answer.

Wisconsin will lack height

Tittle Needs One TD Pass To Set Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — If Y. A. Tittle throws one touchdown pass for the New York Giants against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday at Dallas he will tie the all-time National Football League record of 196 set by Bobby Layne from 1948 to 1962.

Actually, Y. A. already has thrown 225 TD passes, counting his days with Baltimore in the All-America Conference, but the NFL does not count them in its record book.

Despite the defeat of the New York Giants, Tittle maintained his passing lead with a 60.8 completion percentage. He has thrown 29 passes this season, only four short of the league record he set last year. The Giants have three games to play.

Cleveland's Jimmy Brown also is on the verge of a record, held by himself. He has 1,498 yards rushing compared to his record total of 1,527 in 1958. All he needs is 29 more yards against St. Louis Sunday.

and must rely on team speed and outstanding shooting to climb out of the second division. Dale Schultz, 6-7, and Mark Zubor, 6-6, may not be ready. Another sophomore prospect is Ken Gustafson.

Seven conference teams will be in action Saturday with Southern Illinois at Indiana, Northern Michigan at Michigan State, Western Michigan at Northwestern, Davis of California, Michigan at Ball State and Minnesota at Kansas State.

The Detroit at Purdue game was rescheduled for Dec. 4 so as not to conflict with the Purdue at Indiana football game which was postponed the previous week.

Rangers Edge Detroit, 3-2, Behind Plante

NEW YORK (AP) — Gaoile Jacques Plante, returning to the New York line-up after missing two games because of a shoulder injury, made 34 saves Wednesday in pacing the Rangers to a 3-2 National Hockey League victory over Detroit.

Don McKenney and Don Johns scored for the Rangers in the third period after Rod Gilbert had counted on a seldom-called penalty shot in the opening period.

Libert was given a free shot by referee Vern Buffey when Larry Jeffrey fell on the puck in the Red Wing goal - crease. Gilbert rifled a hip-high shot to the right of goalie Terry Sawchuk. Jeffrey had opened the scoring for the Red Wings.

The other Detroit goal was scored by Norm Ullman midway in the final period before McKenney notched the decisive goal by tipping in a 50-foot shot by Harry Howell.

The triumph, extending the Ranger unbeaten streak to four games, moved New York into a fourth-place tie with Detroit at 5-1 series. Mary Lietz fired a fourth-place tie with Detroit at 5-1 series. Mary Lietz fired a fourth-place tie with Detroit at 5-1 series.

Name Claridge To Honor '11'

Nebraska QB
Selected on
All-Big 8 Team

KANSAS CITY, (AP) — Bob Brown, Nebraska's 269-pound guard, Gale Sayers of Kansas, Tom Vaughn of Iowa State and Jim Grisham of Oklahoma all were near-unanimous choices for the 1963 All-Big Eight football team named today by The Associated Press.

Completing the first team backfield was Dennis Claridge, Nebraska's do-everything senior quarterback, by the narrowest of margins over Gary Lane, talented Missouri sophomore who led the league in total offense.

Brown, a tremendous blocker and linebacker, was the leader of the pro-sized line which averaged 235 pounds, end to end. Only two men were shorter than 3-foot-4. Oklahoma's Newt Burton was the other first team guard, by a heavy margin.

At tackles, 247-pound Lloyd Voss of Nebraska and 246-pound Ralph Neely of Oklahoma won first team berths in a tight four-way race over Brian Schweda, 230, of Kansas and Dave Gill, 208, of Missouri.

Tough Defenders
The ends were a pair of outstanding blockers and mean, tough defenders — Mike Shinn of Kansas and George Seals of Missouri. The center was Iowa State's John Berrington.

Sayers, the Kansas phantom, is the nation's No. 2 rusher and needs only 26 yards against

John Benkers, Appleton, has that far away look in his eye. The look that might indicate he already is using the drill in his basement workshop turning out all sorts of do-it-yourself projects. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Missouri to become the first back in Big Eight history to reach the 2,000-yard career mark in rushing in his junior season. He has averaged 7.1 yards a play this season.

Claridge, kept out of three games by injuries, dropped from 1,487 yards total offense in 1962 to 619 this fall. But he guided the Huskers in the big ones with Missouri and Oklahoma and averaged 6.8 yards per attempt and pass to 6.5 for the busy Lane.

Pittsburgh Buys Freese From Reds

Rookie Bailey, GM Claims

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Gene Brown said the money involved Freese was purchased by the was the largest amount the Pittsburgh Pirates from Cincinnati have paid for a player since Wednesday in an apparent move to get third base help in a little over eight years.

He refused to disclose the purchase price and no reliable estimate was available.

Although General Manager Joe L. Brown of the Pirates stressed that the Pirates are not giving up on Bailey, there is no doubt the youngster was something less than a sensation in his rookie major season in 1963.

"I don't want people to think that by acquiring Freese we have given up on Bailey," Brown said. "Such is not the case. Freese can play several positions."

However, it was apparent that the Pirates wanted Freese, at the position last season. But coaching reins last season to mainly a third baseman, badly.

only 28 with 12 home runs and 12 RBI in 154 games and showed he has a lot to learn in order to field his position in major league style.

Freese, 29, who began his major league career with Pittsburgh in 1955, was a big gun for the Reds when they won the National League pennant in 1961, hitting .277 with 26 homers and 87 RBI in 152 games.

He broke an ankle before the 1962 season and played in only 18 games. Off to a slow start last year, he spent some time with San Diego of the Pacific Coast League before being recalled in mid-July. He hit .244 for the Reds in 66 games.

Doug Harvey Gets Release

NEW YORK (AP) — Doug Harvey, one of hockey's all-time defense stars, was given his unconditional release Tuesday by the New York Rangers.

The 38-year-old defenseman was acquired from the Montreal Canadiens to become player-coach of the Rangers for the 1961-62 season. He dropped the Philadelphia after the 1962 season and gave Bailey a clear shot at the 20-year-old Californian hit concentrate on playing.

San Jose State Retains NCAA Harrier Title

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —

"We run seven days a week, 365 days a year," said Coach Dean Miller of San Jose State, the team winner of the 25th annual NCAA cross country run.

San Jose State, a repeat team champion, also finished second ahead of Oregon State, two years ago to Oregon State.

San Jose won Tuesday with a few of 53 points by placing men third, fifth and eighth in the individual finishes. The University of Oregon was second with

Zwolak finished 10 yards ahead of John Carmien of Emu State Teachers.

Home-Made Checkers Set for Automobile Can't be Spilled

BY CAPPY DICK

A checkerboard that holds the game so solidly it can't be spilled is today's fun - project. The board is designed especially for use when the players are riding in an automobile, a train or a plane.

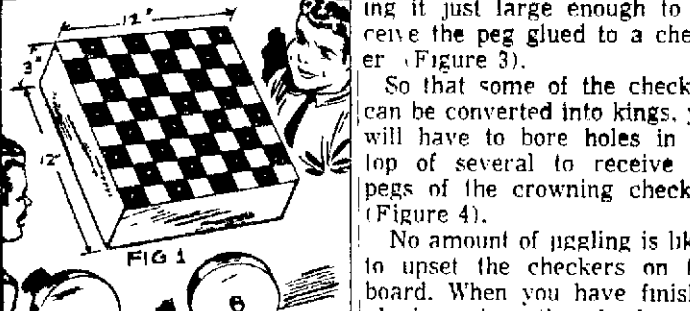

If an ordinary checkerboard is used on these vehicles, the checkers are likely to be spilled and cut them into pieces an eighth - inch long. With household cement, glue one of these pieces to the center of each checker (Figure 2).

For the checkerboard, select a sturdy cardboard box 12 inches square and two, three or four inches high. Draw the checkerboard on the lid as in Figure 1. At the center of each black square punch a small hole, making it just large enough to receive the peg glued to a checker (Figure 3).

So that some of the checkers can be converted into kings, you will have to bore holes in the top of several to receive the pegs of the crowning checkers (Figure 4).

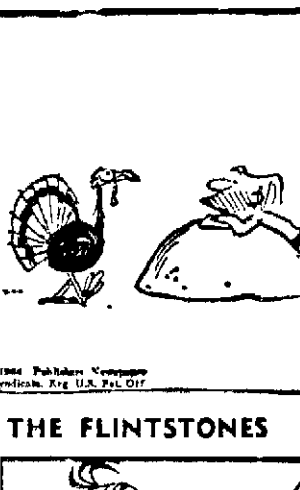

No amount of juggling is likely to upset the checkers on this board. When you have finished playing, store the checkers inside the box.

Kidnapers Seize U. S. Colonel in Venezuelan City

WASHINGTON (AP) — The assistant chief of the U. S. Army mission in Venezuela, Col. James K. Chenault, was kidnapped at gunpoint Wednesday by four armed men in Caracas.

The Pentagon, in announcing this said Chenault was on the way from his home to headquarters of the army mission in Caracas when his official car was stopped by the kidnapers and he was removed from it.

This occurred about 7 a. m. at about 9:30 a. m., the Pentagon said, the U. S. embassy in Caracas received a phone call from a Spanish-speaking man who said, in effect, "Don't worry about Col. Chenault; the kidnaping was for propaganda purposes only."

The Cage Game

Should a husband tell his wife about his day at work?

Yes — No —

Yes, marriage counselors tend to agree that it is a good idea for a man to talk about his day when he returns home. Some basketball game you might at people feel that both husband and wife ought to solve their own problems and not bother each other with their burdens. Studies show that, early in marriage, husbands get a great deal of satisfaction from being able to tell their wives about how things went while they were away. Later in marriage, there is a tendency for the man to keep his problems to himself — sometimes because he feels that his wife is not really interested. Communication has to be worked at to succeed. Prove this, further for yourself by reading the best-selling booklet, "Facing Referee. 8. Cheerleaders. 9. the Facts of Married Life." 10 Jump shots. 11. Hook shots. Send 20c and a stamped, self-

High School, College Men Seek New Ideas in Apparel

Look of Action, Mobility in Vogue With Young Male Adults

The high school and college young man likes the combination of warmth and color in his headgear. The choices here run the gamut from classic solid-color knit caps to the highly individual multicolor peasant-type styles, reminiscent of the Alps and Portuguese fishing villages.

Socks for Status
Socks become almost a status symbol with the younger set, many washed by hand to retain the maker's label. The classic crew sock is a sure thing here, with the standard whites, now joined by bright two-color ideas that coordinate with some of the popular knit sport shirt colors. Another new idea that is gathering momentum is the knit fancies — colorful tweed effects, herringbones, clocked versions and novelty jacquards.

Sport shirts might tell a two-story this Christmas. Combine a neatly patterned cut-and-sewn button-down sport shirt with a solid-color wool-knit turtle-neck dickey of shirt. The combination is novel, and has gained definite acceptance with the young crowd across the country.

In the accessories category, the combination of leather and wool challis becomes important. This duo is used in wallets, pocket secretaries, watch bands and belts.

Luggage Gifts Will Bring Christmas Morning Smiles

If the man at the top of your gift list is a problem, pack up your troubles in a new leather bag and he'll smile, smile, smile on Christmas morning.

Practical and elegant, leather luggage is a sure-fire man-pleasing gift this Yule season. The odds are he'll take a business trip, a long weekend or a full vacation this winter and need spacious, durable and lightweight leather bags.

With a great variety in size and style available, masculine leather luggage can be found to fit most any purse. In the luxury class, there are matched sets of soil-and-scratch resistant smooth leather bags which include an overnighter, a two-sunder and a 26-inch case. You can add other matched pieces like a club bag — which packs at the top — as the need or occasion arises.

If his job calls for short trips to distant points, you'd be wise to select a leather "carry-on," a compact bag designed to fit under the seat of a plane or tuck into the trunk of a compact car.

One practical new piece called a "shuttle bag" is a soft-sided combination of an overnight bag in the middle with two side pouches for papers and flat articles.

Modern flyway leather cases add almost nothing to the weight of his clothes — an asset at the airport weighing-in counter.

Campus Coeds Outnumbered

More Women Than Men at Only 1 of 9 State Colleges

Women outnumber men on only one of the nine Wisconsin state college campuses, and there by a narrow margin, enrollment reports to the central office in Madison reveal.

The college at Oshkosh, largest in the system, has 2,103 men students and 2,118 women.

At Platteville and Superior the men-to-women ratio is 2 to 1, and at River Falls, near Minneapolis and St. Paul, there are three times as many men as women. At Platteville, the difference—1,824 men, 829 women—is explained by the engineering, agriculture and industrial arts courses, with 998 men enrolled, but special courses don't account for the differences at River Falls and Superior.

At the other State Colleges, if all the women students found partners at a dance, there would be 200 to 500 men left on the sidelines.

For the nine colleges, the total of 24,557 students includes 14,341 men and 10,216 women. The ratio of 6 to 4 is the same as last year.

Other notes from the enrollment reports:

Oshkosh tops Whitewater in total students, 4,221 to 3,811, but Whitewater has the largest freshman class, 1,486 compared with 1,431 at Oshkosh.

Colleges near borders with other states understandably have most of the nonresident students. Platteville and River Falls each report 479 students from other states, while Whitewater has 362 and Superior 213.

Oshkosh is low in U.S. non-residents, with 56. Stout State College at Menomonie, which draws students from many states and nations for its special courses in industrial arts and home economics, has 393 from other states and 31 from abroad.

Boy These Will be just great for going hiking and hunting and everything! Doug White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas White, Gillett, makes sure that the boots fit just right to prevent sore feet after many hours spent in the woods. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Schlesinger Agrees To Remain on Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., a special assistant to the late President Kennedy, has agreed to stay on the job, at least temporarily, while Schlesinger agreed to stay indefinitely because he Schlesinger, prize-winning historian and author, submitted resignation to President Kennedy's own choosing.

by Magnavox

... the revolutionary Space Age STEREO HIGH FIDELITY with solid state circuitry—NO TUBES!

... exceeds all previous achievements in the re-creation of sound. The Astro-Sonic has such vast tonal dimension, it can whisper or thunder the full beauty of music—from the subtlest flute passage to the majestic crescendos of a great symphony! Choose Far Eastern Contemporary, Normandy Provincial, Early American and Italian Provincial.

Greater Stereo and FM/AM Radio performance... more undistorted audio power... ten times the efficiency of a tube set. You must hear it to believe it! Magnavox solid state circuitry eliminates all tubes and component-damaging heat, the cause of most failures. It is so reliable the parts are guaranteed five years. Magnificent features include: Stereo FM and FM/AM Radio—no tubes. Powerful Stereo Amplifier—no tubes. Two high-efficiency 12" woofers plus two exclusive 1000 cycle exponential treble horns for purest bass, mid-range and treble tones. The fabulous Micromatic Player lets your records last a lifetime—the Diamond Stylus is guaranteed 10 years.

Outboard Motor an Ideal Gift for Father

To ardent fishermen, the next angling outing is always just around the corner — even in the midst of winter. If Dad likes fishing, an outboard motor represents an ideal Christmas present. Just watch him begin planning his first early spring fishing trip.

When shopping for an outboard motor, several factors should be considered.

If you don't already know, a bit of sleuthing will turn up Dad's favorite lake and the type of fishing he prefers—trotting, exploring the weedy areas, drit and still fishing or surface plugging.

Horsepower Rating
The outboard motors most frequently used for fishing include those with small to medium horsepower ratings. The particular one for Dad depends on several factors.

If he likes to troll, select a motor that will idle for long periods of time and perform well at slow speeds.

If he fishes in a large lake, a 10 to 20 horsepower outboard motor would be a good choice. With it, he can cover long distances in a short time and have more fishing hours.

Many fishermen seek out weedy areas for the bigger fish. Weeds used to play havoc with standard outboard motors, but now special weedless versions are available, especially designed to shear smoothly through such patches.

An important point to consider is weight. Dad will appreciate an outboard motor which he can carry easily to and from his car and one which can be stowed compactly in the trunk with the rest of his gear.

Many outboard motors feature a full gear shift, allowing Dad to shift into forward, neutral or reverse for maneuvering in small coves and close areas.

Outboard motors, much like automobiles, are constantly being improved. A new feature may be just the thing that will appeal to Dad.

Vests in Style
It looks like even a bigger season for vests this fall and winter. The bright colors are selling fast, as are the tattered, old vests in a number of color combinations. And so are suits with matching vests.

With it, he can cover long distances in a short time and have more fishing hours.

Farmer Co-ops At New Peak

Business Volume Is $17.2 Billion for 1961-1962 Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The volume of business of farmer cooperatives reached a record $17.2 billion in the 1961-62 book-keeping year, the Agriculture Department reported.

This was an increase of 6.2 per cent over the previous year's $16.2 billion, despite a slight decline in the number of cooperatives and membership in them.

After eliminating transactions among cooperatives, business volume amounted to $13 billion, 5 per cent above a year earlier.

The net volume figure of $13 billion is 60 per cent greater than in 1950-51, the first year in which the department's farmer cooperative service began collecting complete statistics.

The number of cooperatives declined by 124 to 9,039. Since 1930, the number of cooperatives has declined by 25 per cent. But the department called this a healthy sign. It said reorganizations, mergers and consolidations had been made largely to improve operations and extend services.

Of the 9,039 cooperatives, 5,626 were engaged mainly in marketing farm products, 3,206 in handling farm production supplies, and 2,207 in trucking, storage and other services related to farm products and handling farm supplies.

Dairy products continued to rank first in net dollar volume with $3.42 billion, grain second with $2.2 billion and livestock third with $1.5 billion.

ENTER THE POST-CRESCENT'S Christmas Art CONTEST

Here's your chance to prepare some artwork on the Biblical Christmas Story... the way a real newspaper artist does! Start Today... win a valuable Savings Account at the same time. Remember... your entry must be on plain white paper using black ink or black crayon!

Read the Contest Rules Now. Fill in Entry Blank Below And Send Your Drawing to Us Today!

Winners' Drawings Will Appear in the Appleton Post-Crescent

RULES

Please read all the rules carefully before you submit your entry.

WHO MAY ENTER: Any boy or girl of school age, up to and including the sixth grade, in the Post-Crescent circulation area.

WHAT TO ENTER: The contest is for drawings on the general theme of the Biblical Christmas Story (Wise Men, Star of Bethlehem, Infant in Manger, Etc.). Entries must be on 8 1/2 x 11 inch white paper with black ink or black crayon. Posters are not acceptable.

Your entries do not have to be created just for this competition. Any drawing is eligible, provided it is entirely your own work. Art work done in school may be entered.

All entries must be original. You may work from sketches or other source material, or create pictures from your own imagination—but—DO NOT COPY from photographs or from work of other artists.

HOW TO ENTER:

1. An official Post-Crescent entry blank (or facsimile) must be attached to the back of each entry.
2. The entry blank will be reproduced in the Post-Crescent frequently until the contest deadline, Sunday, December 1.
3. You may submit as many entries as you wish, provided each is accompanied by a separate entry blank.
4. There is no entry fee or other fee of any kind.
5. Send entries flat. Do not roll. Do not fold.
6. Fill out the entry blank completely. Have your mother or father go over it with you to be sure all the information is clear and distinct. Better still, have your parents print (or type) your entry blank so we can list your name correctly if you win an award.
7. Mail or bring your entries to Christmas Art Contest, Appleton Post-Crescent, Appleton, Wisconsin.
8. All entries will become the property of the Appleton Post-Crescent and may be reproduced in the newspaper. No entries will be returned.
9. The entries will be judged on the basis of neatness, originality of thought, composition and beauty. In making their selections the judges will take the age of the entrant into consideration. Children of employees of the Appleton Post-Crescent are not eligible to enter this contest.

JUDGING: Judging will be done by members of the Appleton Gallery of Arts.

CONTEST DATES: Contest opens now.

CONTEST CLOSES: Sunday, December 1, 1963. All entries must be postmarked by midnight Sunday, December 1. Judging will start immediately thereafter.

WINNERS ANNOUNCED: The winners' names and the art-work they have prepared will appear in the Post-Crescent during the week immediately preceding Christmas (December 17-23).

PRIZES: 12 prizes will be awarded to the youngsters entering the 12 best entries in the opinions of the judges. Prizes will be a $5.00 deposit in a savings account at the bank of winner's selection in his or her home community.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Does he, or doesn't he—smoke? A random sample of some prominent people comes up with remarkably few cigarette smokers—a great many non-smokers.

Specifically—do they have any advice? President Eisenhower was asked that once at a news conference.

He said: "I was a very heavy President Lyndon B. Johnson smoker, probably brought about Quit cigarettes after his heart through my life in the military attack, 1955.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower—Quit cigarettes.

Bicycle Under Tree Brightens Lad's Eyes

Nothing brightens a boy's eyes like seeing a bicycle under the Christmas tree. The gleam of new paint, the shine of metal spokes and the flash of handle bars are reflected in his eyes.

As a parent you should make sure that the bike that you buy him has all the equipment that he needs — not the flashy accessories that impress the kid next door, but the basic safety equipment required for safe bicycling. He also needs to be told or reminded — about bike riding rules.

One way to do this is to see hours of safe fun on his bike that the child participates in a if he will just remember these national safety program being basic rules.

Yule Spirit Also Brings Out Shoplifters, Thieves

Locking Car Is Wise Step to Save Property

Unfortunately, as soon as Christmas shopping begins in earnest, shoplifters and petty thieves turn out in full force.

There are several things you can do to prevent being the victim of theft.

First step: When you arrive at a store, be sure you lock your car.

Once inside the store, keep a firm hold on your purse at all times. Never set it down on the counter out of your direct sight.

their billfold in the inside pocket of their coat. If it is carried in the hip pocket of slacks, be sure the pocket is buttoned.

Women should carry a handbag that closes tightly at the top. Open-top bags are a real invitation to thieves.

When paying for a purchase, be careful in showing how much cash you are carrying, especially if it is a considerable amount.

It's wise, too, to check your purse or pocket every few minutes to make sure you have your wallet. The sooner you report a theft, or loss, the better your chances are for having the item recovered.

If you will put all of your packages into one or two large sacks or shopping bags, it will be easier to keep up with them.

Small packages, especially, have a way of disappearing. These suggestions are good ones to follow at any time of the year, but do be extra cautious now when stores are so crowded.

Prepare Car For Winter

Motor Vehicle Head Says Winterizing Is Good Investment

MADISON — "Winterizing" your car is an investment that will pay off in big dividends during coming months of cold weather hazards, declares Commissioner James Karns of the state motor vehicle department.

"Today's inspection is tomorrow's protection," he said.

"The car owner who neglects his preventive maintenance duties eventually finds himself in trouble—stranded far from a service station, stalled in heavy traffic, or involved in an accident," Karns commented.

The commissioner said he concurs wholeheartedly with the National Safety Council in the following recommendations for getting cars ready for safe and convenient winter driving:

Car Check List

Anti-Freeze—Have it tested or put in before freezing weather. Check the cooling system for leaks, and follow the manufacturer's suggestion for flushing.

Tune-up — Temperature and humidity changes alter engine performance. A winter tune-up of the engine will help starts and prevent stalls.

Battery—Cold weather greatly lowers battery power, so have it tested, and charged or replaced if necessary. A new battery is cheaper than frequent service calls.

Brakes — Brakes should be checked and adjusted before the snow season. Have brakes relined if necessary. Brakes need all the help they can get in winter.

Fumes Are Deadly Muffler—Fumes from a faulty muffler or exhaust pipe can kill you, especially in windows-up weather. Have muffler and pipes checked for leaks, and replace if warranted.

Windshield—Make sure your defroster can clear away ice and fog. Wipers should work without streaking. Washers must have the proper anti-freeze element or you can blind yourself with a sheet of ice.

Lights — All lights, including brake and directional signals, should be in top condition for winter's longer period of darkness. Clean your lights frequently.

Seat Belts — Winter or summer, seat belts in use are the sign of a smart driver.

Use Snow Tires

Tires—You need good tread to get a bite on snow and ice. Snow tires, unless they're too worn, grip better than regular tires.

Tire Chains—Reinforced tire chains are your best bet for severe winter conditions. They give better control for turning, stopping, starting.

"The motorist who cares for his car is likely to be careful in his driving, too," Karns concluded.

Moths Are Expensive

If you found a few moth holes in your winter garb when you brought out the things for this season, this is the rule rather than the exception. Moths cause an estimated damage of $300,000,000 each year!

So take care.

Toured United States

South African State Negro Prejudice Not So Bitter as Expected

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—A South African minister, back home from a study tour of the United States, says the Negro brother and others want to move too fast. It is that compulsion which causes trouble.

The Rev. C. W. Parnell, pastor of the Johannesburg Baptist Church, said he deliberately looked for prejudice against Negroes.

"I hoped I would meet some rabid segregationists," he said, "but, although I met hosts of people, not one revealed himself to me as sympathetic to the Ku Klux Klan or anything of that type."

He said that may have been due to the fact he moved in circles related to churches. He added that the thought of many Americans seemed to be: "We are working toward integration. It has to come. We are not satisfied with our present race relations."

People told him of tremendous strides, led and inspired by Southern whites, since the war. They argued: "You cannot hurry changes in human relations. The real trouble is that the Negro brother and others want to move too fast. It is that compulsion which causes trouble."

The Rev. Mr. Parnell said segregation of restaurants in Nashville, Tenn., ended while he was in that city. "Although I lunched or dined in one of these restaurants every day during my 5-week stay there, I did not see a single Negro demonstration. The transition passed unnoticed by most people and very few Negroes bothered to take advantage of their new liberty. The protest appeared to be a matter of principle rather than a desire to eat at the restricted restaurants," he said.

"The Negroes simply did not want to be treated as different from the whites. This, of course, is the basic motivation in all color protests."

Gee Whiz Dad, is that all you ever think of is fishing? That's what Ricky Otto seems to be asking his father, Gayland Otto, Little Chute. Looks like dad is looking forward to spring fishing if the Christmas gift is right. (Post-Crescent Photo)

'Down Memory Lane' Back in Ice Show

European Couple to Renew Routine for 'Holiday' Program at Arena Dec. 13-15

Over a period of many years one of the most popular numbers presented by Holiday on Ice was that known as "Down Memory Lane." Featured in it were the late Phil Hiser, dean of ice show skaters, and Mrs. Leo Freisinger, wife of the Olympic speed champion.

With the death of the veteran Hiser and the retirement of the Freisingers from the ice show business this feature disappeared from Holiday. There was just no one available to take the place of the veteran Hiser — no one except Gene Theslof, who with Vivi-Anne Hulten was doing the number in Holiday's European show with great success.

Now, after a seven-year tour in foreign lands, Gene Theslof and Vivi-Anne Hulten have returned to the United States to bring back to Holiday the old-time favorite waltzes.

"Down Memory Lane" will return with the 1963 Holiday on Ice show to the Brown County Veterans Memorial Arena Dec. 13, 14 and 15.

Skated in Finland
Although born in New York, Theslof spent most of his early years in Finland, where his father, captain of the Finnish

Swedish Champion

Vivi-Anne was born in Stockholm. For 10 consecutive years she was the undisputed champion of her country. She participated in two Olympic games and was awarded a special medal by the Swedish sports writers who cited her as Sweden's Greatest Lady Athlete.

For some time, prior to her marriage to Theslof, Vivi-Anne was an instructor with the St. Paul, Chicago and Boston figure skating clubs, with many of her pupils going on to win sectional and national honors on the silver blades.

Holiday on Ice will play five shows in its three-day stand at the Arena. Performances will be at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, 7:30 p.m. Sunday with two matinees at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Fremont Drug Store Damaged by Flames

FREMONT — The back entrance of the Fremont Drug Store was damaged by fire when wind blew sparks from a rubbish burner against the door Saturday.

R. F. Schliebe was alerted to the blaze when he discovered smoke filling his store about 2 p.m.

The Popular "Down Memory Lane" number has been brought back to the Holiday on Ice Show with a new Mr. and Mrs. team skating the waltz sequences. The couple is Gene Theslof and Vivi-Anne Hulten, husband and wife team that has been on a seven-year European tour with "Holiday." The new 1964 spectacular will open at the Brown County Arena Dec. 13 for a five-show run during that weekend.

Four Biologists Of Lawrence on Sunday TV Show

Four biologists from Lawrence College — two of them faculty members, two of them students — will present a television program at 6 p.m. Sunday on the "Perspective" show of Channel 2, Green Bay. It is the fifth in a series of 16 programs to be given by Lawrence during this school year.

Dr. Sumner Richman, assistant professor of biology, will preside over the program, which will chiefly describe research projects at Lawrence, on both the student and faculty level. He will tell of his own National Science Foundation project, a 4-year study of Lake Winnebago organisms, while Dr. Bradner Coursen, assistant professor of biology, will sketch his work with mosses, underwritten by the Pioneering Research program of the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

Two senior honor students, David Williams, San Marino, Calif., and Betsy Laves, Chicago, Ill., will give accounts of their research projects. Williams, a pre-medical student, is studying the effect of female hormones on immunological tolerance in chickens. Miss Laves has spent three summers working in a laboratory at the University of Chicago. Williams is doing his research under the direction of H. David Potter, while Miss Laves is working under Dr. Margaret Shea Gilbert.

as A & M in an NCAA Football game from Kyle Field, Tex.

9:10 (Channel 4-5)—Tony Bennett, Carol Lawrence, Shari Lewis, Orson Bean and Liza Minnelli join The Arthur Godfrey Thanksgiving Show to sit around in the redhead's living room: for songs and gags. (Color.)

9:10:30 a.m. (Channel 4-5)—Turkey Day means parades and pigskin and musical specials. Leading off is the annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, with Lorne Greene and Betty White as commentators. (Color.)

9:11 a.m. (Channel 2)—Over at the other network, Bess Myerson, Allen Ludden, Fran Allison and Bert Parks combine talents for Thanksgiving Parade on "The Ed Sullivan Show." The first York, Philadelphia, Detroit and Toronto for gobble-degook.

11 a.m. to end (Channel 2)—Green Bay Packers and the Detroit Lions clash at Detroit's Tiger Stadium in a National Football League game.

1:30-2:30 (Channel 11)—The Cowboy and The Tiger is a completely beguiling show with some lovely whimsical comedy, tuneful music, and delightful performance from Jack Gilford as a tiger fed up with being ferocious.

1:45 to end (Channel 2)—The University of Texas meets Texas a wild and funny dance.

7:30-8 (Channel 11)—My Three Sons has a pleasant Comedy with Mike trying to follow ad-vice on how to propose to a girl, and Robbie using the same tactics to get rid of one of his two dates.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5)—"The Pack Rat and the Prima Donnas" on Dr. Kildare casts Celeste Holm as the party of the first part and Ed Nelson as the party of the second part.

8:9 (Channel 2)—A "gift causing a mortis" leads to murder on a better-than-usual Perry Mason. The gift is a $1 million certified check left by a dying woman to her faith ful maid. But some greedy relatives and a shady lawyer attempt to latch on to the loot.

9:9:30 (Channel 11)—A production of "thank you" songs is the best spot on a so-so Sid Caesar Show. In the number Sid plays the sax, Gisele MacKenzie plays the piano, they sing, and are joined by Joey Forman for a wild and funny dance.

Publisher of Antigo Paper Dead at 59

ANTIGO (AP)—Artemas F. Berner, 59, owner and publisher of the Antigo Journal, died at 8 a.m. Wednesday at San Francisco, Calif., where he had been visiting for the last six weeks. He had been ill for about two months.

His wife, Marie Flynn Berner, was with him at the time of his death.

Berner also owned the Antigo Broadcasting Co., which operates Radio Station WATK, a commercial printing business under the firm name of Berner Brothers Publishing Co., and an office equipment and supply company.

A native of Antigo, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berner, Sr., who now live in Sacramento, Calif. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin Law School and practiced law in Antigo until 1944. At that time, upon the retirement of Henry Berner Sr., as publisher, Artemas and his brother, the late Henry L. Berner, formed a partnership to operate the Journal.

Upon the death of his brother in 1957, Artemas Berner took over sole operation of the newspaper. He formed the Antigo Broadcasting Co. in 1948 at which time WATK went on the air. Berner also was one of the prime movers in the organization of the Wisconsin Valley Television Corp.

Berner was active in civic and fraternal organizations and maintained membership in the State Bar.

Swift Market Rebound Seen As Public Confidence Sign

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A rush of selling Friday and frenzied buying Tuesday etched the stock market's reaction to President Kennedy's assassination in strokes of impressive trading volume and record amounts of paper profits.

But in setting a record for a rebound — a $15-billion advance in market values as gauged by the Dow-Jones industrial average—the market Tuesday may have been spelling out the investing public's confidence in the soundness of the American economy.

Or the performance on the two days may have meant only the initial wave of selling which the market usually greets unexpected and disturbing news and then the not unexpected influx of bargain hunters.

Few Bargains

Only a few of these got into the market in time to find many bargains left, so swiftly did it climb back after the three-day lull for second guessing.

But those who bought at the low Friday — and every share sold in the rush before the exchange officials shut down trading had to be bought by someone — were in position to cash in Tuesday on the rebound.

The exchanges were open such a short time after the President was shot that few of the general public are believed to have been among the traders.

Margin Calls

Pros, some fearful perhaps of being caught by margin calls, others perhaps expecting to buy back in at lower prices, are believed by most observers to have done most of the trading Friday afternoon.

The public apparently was well-represented in the buying rush with the opening bell Tuesday morning.

For some outsiders, perennial critics of Wall Street, it must have seemed less a show of confidence than cynical response to a national tragedy.

But confidence — or at least common sense — was on display.

Economy Strong

The economy was too strong, too apparently on the upgrade, for the death even of the chief executive to change the fundamental facts.

The change in the administration was too slight to be compared with the chaos that other nations experience when revolting leaders.

Almost everyone agrees that the drop in stock prices was overdue. And many fear that the rebound also was too sharp to be sustained. They expect the market for several days to be swayed by a series of reactions until a final level is achieved.

Business circles will be watching closely as the policies of President Johnson become clear. Few anticipate any great change, either in domestic or foreign policies. Many expect Johnson will be a bit more conservative than his predecessor, a little more sympathetic to business leaders' ideas. And most are counting on a period, however passing, of closer harmony between the White House and the Congress.

Customs Vary All Over World at Christmas Time

It's pretty hard to imagine a Christmas without Santa Claus or a Christmas tree, but in many parts of the world the appearance of Santa would puzzle people and a tree would be out of keeping with the Christmas spirit.

What do you know about Christmas around the world? Test yourself with this quiz.

Questions

1. There's a country where kids don't know about Santa Claus. On Christmas Eve they wait for an old woman on a broomstick to give them presents. What's she called and what country does she come from?

2. In another country, people would shudder if someone brought an evergreen tree into the house on Christmas. Wild flowers are used as seasonal decorations instead. Why, and what country?

3. In Belgium and the Netherlands, people would gasp if they saw Santa Claus on a sleigh pulled by eight reindeer. How does St. Nicholas travel about in these countries?

4. Christmas can be a solemn holiday as well as a joyful one, particularly for adults. Italy and Spain are two countries where some grownups don't think singing joyous Christmas carols is the only way to celebrate the holiday. How do they celebrate?

Gifts

5. The custom of giving gifts for Christmas is believed to have grown from a different holiday that was celebrated before Christ was born. What holiday and what country?

6. St. Nicholas gives good children presents, but bad children get a whipping with a birch switch in one country. What country?

7. It's pretty hard to imagine a Christmas tree that isn't decorated with lights. But in one American town, people would be surprised if on Christmas day they couldn't see a row of Christmas trees that stretched out over a mile. Where?

Christmas Dinner

8. The generous spirit of Christmas is reflected in one country by Christmas dinner. Custom there dictates that you set one more place at the dinner table than the number of guests who are coming to dine. That way, even an unexpected guest will find a place and a meal for himself without trouble. What country?

9. The familiar nativity scene — a representation of Christ's birth in the manger made with small figures of animals and New Testament personages — is a typical American Christmas scene, but it originated in Italy. What famous saint began the custom and why?

10. Where was the first Christmas tree?

ANSWERS:

These Christmas puzzlers all have been gleaned from a detailed article on Christmas in Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

1. The old woman is called "La Befana" (the goblin) and she makes her Christmas rides through Italy, leaving presents

Let Child Help With Yule Plans

Christmas can be magic or madness, depending on your age. Parents can create and hold the magic for their youngsters by thinking back to the family traditions that made their own holidays so memorable — stringing popcorn and cranberries . . . hanging the Christmas stocking.

The important thing is to see that your child is included in the planning. The "extra hands" may be all thumbs, but the toddler will believe he's helping, and he'll be happy. His busy-ness is a good way to keep him on schedule, too, and out of rich holiday dishes that may look more enticing than his regular junior foods.

Sharing

After the stockings are hung, your child will be sure St. Nicholas soon will be there. In fact he'll be thinking of nothing else. Youngsters love to share, so why not suggest your little one leave something "for Santa"? Next thing you know, he'll have some other gesture of friendship in mind, maybe even a midnight snack for the hard-working visitor.

What could be more natural than for your toddler to offer Santa his own favorites? When the night-before-Christmas treat is set out with the greatest of care, and not a crumb remains Christmas Day . . . your child will know Santa must have been there.

Left-Handed Gifts

You can buy a gift for a left-handed person! Among them: steam irons, electric can openers, rotary graters, pens, scissors, some cameras, one watch, bowling balls and even address books.

Christmas Customs Vary in many lands. The sketches here depict some of them. In case you don't recognize the country of origin, you'll find the answer in the accompanying story.

For good children and ashes in out the pagan custom of making the shoes of bad ones.

2. In Sweden wild flowers are substituted for evergreens, because evergreens there symbolize death and grief.

3. In Belgium and the Netherlands, St. Nicholas rides a white horse.

4. Devout Catholics in Italy and Spain often observe a day-long fast which begins on sunset, Dec. 23.

Roman Festival

5. The custom of giving gifts for Christmas dates back to the ancient Roman mid-winter festival.

6. The country is Germany, where Santa arrives on Dec. 6 instead of Christmas Eve and punishes bad children in addition to rewarding the good ones.

7. The town is Altadena, Calif. A mile long row of Christmas trees is decorated there every year.

8. Poland.

9. St. Francis of Assisi put on the first manger scene in 1214 to demonstrate to peasants in a small Italian town the meaning of the Nativity. Real people took the parts in St. Francis's representation. In most places, statues are used today.

10. There are several stories explaining the origin of the first Christmas tree. Here is one version:

In the Eighth Century, St. Boniface, then a missionary to Germany, was attempting to stamp

Keep Holidays Accident-Free

Two of a child's greatest delights at Christmas are the glittering tree and the wonderful array of toys beneath it.

Too often, however, parents over-anxious to please their children let carelessness turn these Christmas treats into hazards to the family.

The wise parent will select, wire and decorate the Christmas tree so as to avoid fire hazards. When it comes to buying playthings, he will pay close attention to construction and match them to his child's age and abilities.

Precautions

The National Safety Council offers these tips for holding Christmas tree fire hazards to a minimum:

Choose a tree with springy rather than dry brittle branches.

When you get the tree home, keep it standing in snow or water until you are ready to take it indoors.

Before setting it up in the house, saw off the trunk at least one inch from the original cut, and at an angle.

Place the tree in a sturdy, water-filled stand away from heat. Be sure the fresh cut is always under water. Remove the tree before its needles begin to drop.

Luscious Gravy

Want extra-good gravy? Stir up the Christmas Child. "Take California chablis or sauterne in this tree into your homes as a to rich brown drippings left in sign of your new worship," he the pan from roasting turkey, told them. "Celebrate God's love and stir until loosened, power no more with shameful then make gravy in your usual rites, but in the sanctity of your way. You'll say, 'gravy never home with laughter and love.' tasted better!"

The council advises tree trimmings — paper, tree boughs, ribbons to use only electric light-bombs — away from lights, candles, sets bearing the Underwriters and fireplaces. Do not tress Laboratories, Inc., label place electric trains under the Check old sets for frayed or bare tree.

Wires. Always unplug the lights "When you're shopping for before going to bed or leaving Christmas toys, select play-the house. Never have them on things suitable for your child's unless adults will be near the age," says Phil Dykstra, the tree.

Says . . .

"KEEP HUNTING"

DEAR CASEY: I am 45, have gone with two nice guys for 7 years each, but gave up since neither one was serious enough to want to get married. I met an older man and we're now engaged to be married. I thought this was my last chance, but the first guy called and wants me to marry him. Shall I break my engagement? I love him the most. — HUSBAND HUNTER.

DEAR HUSBAND HUNTER: Forget them both, but don't give up. Where there's men, there's hope. You admit you don't really love your fiancée and you seem unsure of the first guy. It's a happy marriage when a hard working housewife and a "Brand-new-Admiral-11 TV" (Music Boxes' newest arrival for Christmas) get together. During idle hours this little set can make you happy even now. You just ought to come in and see it today! — It's a "honey" — and, only $99.95! — CASEY.

Decorative Salad Molds Dress up Meal

Winter table settings are brightened considerably by decorative salad molds. This light golden gelatin salad that suspends colorful orange segments, grape halves and celery slices is a good example. Fragrant California sauterne, honey and lemon juice give the salad a wonderfully rich flavor.

WINTER SALAD MOLDS (Serves 6)

- 1 envelope plain gelatin
- 1 cup California sauterne or other white dinner wine
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water
- 3 tablespoons honey
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup orange segments
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup halved grapes
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sliced celery
- Lettuce

Soften gelatin in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of the wine. Heat water to boiling and add to gelatin; stir to dissolve. Add honey, lemon juice and remaining $\frac{1}{4}$ cup wine. Chill until slightly thickened. Add fruit and celery. Divide into 6 individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold onto lettuce-garnished salad plates.

Try With Turkey

Cranberry and orange juices from a bottle combine with grapes, celery, and pecans to make a golden red gelatin mold, a perfect salad with a holiday turkey or roast. Or, substitute whipped cream for salad dressing, and it becomes a refreshing dessert to end a meal with a light touch.

Creamy Caramels

2 cups light cream
2 cups sugar
1 cup light or dark corn syrup
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
1-3rd cup margarine
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup broken pecans
1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat cream to lukewarm in spoon at a time. Turn heat to inch square pan, letting the mixture flow to its own level in the may be dusted with confection-1 cup and set aside to add later. stantly to 248 degrees F. or un- pan. DO NOT SCRAPE THE ers sugar. Makes about 2 pounds cook over medium heat about 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Add cup of cream, which was set aside, very slowly so that mixture does not stop boiling at any time. Cook about 5 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Stir in margarine, about a tea- corner of a lightly greased 8- caramel in waxed paper. If can- dy is to be eaten right away, it ture forms a firm ball when temperature. Turn the block of candy onto tested in very cold water. Remove from heat; add vanil- cutting board; if candy sticks, la and nuts and mix gently. Al- heat bottom of pan slightly; cool low to stand about 10 minutes before cutting. Mark off into 2-4- and then stir only enough to dis- inch squares and cut with a tribute the nuts. Pour into one large sharp knife. Wrap each COOKING PAN. Cool to room of candy.

Make Toys Of Towels For Gifts

NEW YORK — Anybody can create toys from towels. It's fun and it's easy. You can make a penguin, a pair of love birds, even a giant birthday cake from a towel that's flipped and stitched. And you can make them in minutes. Bits of rick-rack, yarn and ribbon — maybe a button or two — add the final charms. Presto, any child on your Christmas list will be delighted with the novelties. And since the towels aren't cut in making, they can be opened and used again. In effect, you're giving mother a present, too.

"You don't need particular sewing skills to make these clever toys," says Ruth Leigh, director of Cannon Homemaking Service. "The secret lies in deft rolling, and making stitches light."

Love Birds

A pair of love birds can emerge from two wash cloths in a matter of minutes! Roll each cloth around a little rubber ball to form the head. Tie ball off tightly so that cloth forms a triangle, with the head at center top. Tack wings about 6 inches down on each side. Stuff wadded paper or a folded washcloth under head to form the body, then tack wings back over body, down to tail. Add features with bits of colored felt, and hang the birds on colored ribbon. They make wonderful stocking stuffers! And a word to the woman with entertainments on her schedule — they can be used as unique party decorations!

Fearless Fido sits neatly on a cake of soap. All you need for him is one washcloth, rolled (with paper inside) from opposite ends toward the center. Form head and body by bending to shape, and pin to soap. Push a pipe cleaner through loop of head and curl back ends to form ears. Use sequins for eyes, nose and mouth, and put on a ribbon neck-tie. Result — another special stocking stuffer — or a fun gift for friends of all ages!

Perry Penguin is a delightful children's toy. He requires 2 Roll a washcloth on the bias, white Cannon bath towels, 3 twist into a circle, and tack it black fingertip guest towels, and to top center of the cake. Santa Is Everywhere Nowadays

NEW YORK — Yes, Virginia, They set up Santa displays. Years ago, these types of projects required long hours of hard work. But today, many eye-appealing holiday displays for indoor and outdoor use can be made quickly and simply. Lots of Ideas

If you are looking for ideas on how to decorate your home for the holidays, you'll find a lot of practical and inexpensive ideas at your local lumber dealer. For example, many dealers are offering a life-sized Santa Claus figure which is already printed in colors on water-proof building board. This Santa is all ready to be set up indoors, or outdoors, with practically no additional work.

Along with a Santa, you may want to try some additional display possibilities. Here, again, you'll find that the board can be a boon. It can be worked into any number of displays without any worry about splintering, scratching or splintering. Ordinary home handy-man tools are all you need in fashioning sleighs, reindeers, angels, candles and other Christmas cut-out displays.

Patterns To simplify matters even further, for your holiday home decoration, complete patterns to use in making indoor and outdoor displays with Homasote board are available. The selection provides complete instructions for laying out each pattern and for painting and finishing. Designs, which you can turn out in any size you desire, include a Christmas wreath, candy-cane, Star of Bethlehem,

If your lumber dealer does not have these on hand, they can be obtained by writing Christmas Plans, P. O. Box 441, Trenton 3, New Jersey.

Electric Train

And, one further tip: if your young son is getting an electric train set or model motor car lay-out for Christmas, you can do him and yourself a big favor.

Mount the lay-out right on a piece of Homasote building board to deaden running noise and to keep his equipment securely fastened. No chance of splinters or scratching, either.

Whatever you give, and whatever you receive this Christmas, remember that not only you, but all your friends and neighbors will have a brighter, jollier holiday if your home is dressed up for the season. Not only on the inside, but on the outside too, where everybody can share the pleasure.

Preserve Yule Spirit By Practicing Safety

Traffic accidents are unpleasant and often tragic whenever they happen. But somehow, an accident at Christmastime hurts even more. Perhaps it's because Christmas means families together — and a serious accident denies people that pleasure — sometimes forever. The National Safety Council urges you to preserve the spirit of Christmas for your loved ones by using utmost caution and alertness whenever you drive this holiday season.

Send Greetings With Popcorn Balls, Wreaths, Snowmen

There's nothing that says Merry Christmas like strings of popcorn hung from the boughs of a fragrant Christmas tree. If you want to be modern yet put the same old fashioned spirit into Christmas, learn to mold popcorn into a variety of Christmasy designs. Try your hand in making a popcorn snow-flaked wreath to hang over the mantle or at a front window. Use the same snowy mixture for popcorn balls which you can wrap in plastic film and hang on the tree, or pile them high in a big wooden bowl for an edible centerpiece.

Instead of popcorn balls, you may prefer to make candied popcorn candy which provides popcorn with smaller portions to pass out to young visitors throughout the holiday. Given here are the directions for popping the corn and a basic mixture for molding the wreath, or for molding whatever you fancy, whether it's a snowman or a Christmas tree.

In any event, it is fun to say Merry Christmas with popcorn.

How to Pop Corn

1/4 cup corn oil
1/2 cup popcorn (unpopped)
Heat corn oil in 4-quart kettle over medium heat about 3 minutes. Add popcorn. Cover, leaving small air space at edge of cover. Shake frequently until popping stops. (If using electric popper, follow manufacturer's directions.) Turn into large pan. Discard any unpopped grains. This makes 3 to 4 quarts. Reheat as needed but do not double recipe.

Popcorn Wreath

1 1/2 cups light corn syrup
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon salt
4 quarts popped corn
Gumdrops, candies or licorice for decorations.
Mix syrup, sugar and salt in a heavy saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil and sugar and salt are dissolved. Place popcorn in large kettle, then gradually add syrup, stirring constantly over medium heat until evenly and completely coated with syrup at once stir in 1/2 bottle fruit mixture, 3 to 5 minutes. When popcorn mixture is cool enough to handle, shape on wax paper about five (6-oz.) glasses.

Wrap wreath base with foil or waxed paper. Pack popcorn mixture over wreath base, making mixture as uniform as possible. Let harden. Decorate with gumdrops, candies, licorice, angelica or with artificial leaves, if desired.

Popcorn balls: Form into balls, using as little pressure as possible.

Popcorn tree: Tint syrup mixture with green food coloring and flavor with essence of peppermint or wintergreen before adding popcorn. Pack green popcorn mixture into lightly greased small funnel. Remove funnel when popcorn is cool and set. Attach large gumdrop to base of tree with toothpick for stand. Decorate tree with small colored candies for balls.

Popcorn snowman: Make 3 popcorn balls, 1 large, 1 medium, 1 small and 2 very small popcorn logs. Stack popcorn balls on top of each other, largest on bottom and smallest on top. Decorate small ball with a large gumdrop for hat, and red and white licorice for eyes and mouth. Arrange a row of candied popcorn buttons. Attach logs to sides popper, follow manufacturer's for arms.

Notes on handling: Use margarine on hands while forming popcorn. If mixture cools and does not stick together, place over low heat, stirring and turning, for a few minutes.

Make Wine Jelly For Christmas Gift

Wine jelly makes a pretty and potable hostess gift, especially suitable during the holiday season. Here's an easy way to make it: Put 2 cups California wine (sherry, rose, port or sauterne) in top of double boiler. Add 3 cups sugar; mix well. Place over rapidly boiling water; heat 3 minutes or until all sugar is dissolved, stirring constantly. Remove from water and completely coated with syrup at once stir in 1/2 bottle fruit mixture, 3 to 5 minutes. When popcorn mixture is cool enough to handle, shape on wax paper about five (6-oz.) glasses.

December Shown to be Top Killer

Here are the December facts driving too fast for conditions on accident deaths as revealed in excess of a stated speed in a National Safety Council limit. Normal average is 35 per cent. Most fixed object collisions, nearly all non-collision accidents and most collisions than the 1961 totals and 700 with other vehicles involve excess speed.

December accident deaths in 1962 reached 8,800, or 300 more than the 1961 totals and 700 with other vehicles involve excess speed.

These statistics show that drinking drivers are involved in more than half the fatal Christmas time accidents. During the balance of the year, they are involved in one out of three.

The top killer is motor vehicle accidents. December 1962 auto deaths totaled 3,780. The month ranked fourth highest in the year. Injuries totaled more than 125,000. Cost is $650 million.

805 Death Toll
As a result of traffic accidents during the four-day 1962 Christmas holiday weekend 805 persons died. More than 27,000 suffered disabling injuries. Cost to the nation is approximately one-third of the fatalities. Next in rank are non-collision accidents and fixed object collisions.

Traffic deaths as a result of the four-day New Year weekend totaled 485 fatalities. More than 16,000 suffered injuries. Cost is approximately $75 million.

Previous studies show that three out of four fatal accidents involve hours of the holiday.

Warning Given Against Use of Lighted Candles On Christmas Trees

No one, perhaps, uses lighted candles to trim a Christmas tree anymore. And it's a good thing, too, because while they were beautiful to look at, they were also a terrible fire hazard. Many people today forget that even electric tree lighting can cause fire trouble. — Not when it's in good condition — not when it's properly used — and not often. But every year we read about a few more families involved in a tree fire tragedy. It's up to you tree trimmers to celebrate and decorate safely. The National Safety Council reminds you to: Check for defective or frayed cords. If you're buying a new string, make sure it bears the Underwriters' Laboratory label. Be certain, too, that the electrical circuit can carry the extra load. Always turn off tree lights before leaving the house or retiring for the night. And remember — you're only tempting fate if you leave a tree up after it becomes dry.
